GERMANS PUT FOES TO FLIGHT NEAR ALBERT

Berlin, Jan. 18.—(By Wireless to London 8 p. m.)—The German war office today gave out an official announcement as follows:

"In the neighborhood of Nieuport yesterday there were artillery duels but nothing else. No attacking movements have been undertaken by the enemy in the last few days. British mines have been washed ashore at several places on the coast.

"At La Boisselle, northeast of Albert, our troops who again had established themselves in the church yard of La Boisselle and in the hamlet to the southwest attacked the French with the bayonet and drove them from their positions. We took prisoners three officers and 100 men. Several French trenches have been captured in the Argonne forest. The French detachments occupying them were almost annihilated.

"The French attack on our positions to the northwest of Pont-a-Mousson against a hill which is two kilometers (a mile and one-fifth) south of Velcie, advanced as far as our trenches. This fighting is still going on.

"In the Vosges and the upper Alsace a heavy storm and fog has prevailed, interfering with the fighting.

"The situation in East Prussia has undergone no change. In northern Poland the Russians attempted to advance across a branch of the river Wkra, near Radzanow, but were repulsed. Nothing of importance has transpired on the Polish Vistula."

MOROCCANS HARD FIGHTERS.

Paris, Jan. 18.—(2:44 p. m.)—The French war office this afternoon gave out an official communication reading as follows:

"From the sea to the Oise there was yesterday a violent storm, particularly in Belgium. The day saw artillery fighting at certain points. Near Autreche, to the northeast of Vic-sur-Aisne, two German attacks were repulsed. In the sectors of Soissons and of Rheims there was no change.

"In the region of Perthes there was very efficient markmanship on the part of our artillery on the positions of the enemy.

"In Argonne the German attacks on Hill 263 to the west of Bourevillle, brought no results. We took possession of several German field works to the northwest of Pont-a-Mousson, in the only part of the forest of Le Pretre which is still in the hands of the enemy. We later repulsed a counter attack and maintained all our gains.

"In the Vosges there has been a heavy fall of snow. The enemy bombarded Thann but without inflicting serious damage."

Moroccans in Thick of It.

In the suburbs of Soissons were hand to hand fighting of the most desperate nature in which the French Moroccan regiments distinguished themselves, using their rifles as clubs after their bayonets had been bent or broken in the pitiless struggle.

Advices from French sources say that the allied front, in the positions taken up after the retreat is stronger than ever. London suggests that Germany may follow up their victory by inaugurating another forward movement. Berlin considers that the general offensive movement of the allies said to have been ordered a month ago by Gen. Joffre has broken down.

Today's War News Given in Summary.

The German attack on the western front has shifted northward from Soissons, and yesterday there was a severe encounter in the region of Albert. Today's official Berlin statement says that the Germans attacking with bayonets, drove the allies from positions northeast of Albert. In the Soissons region there is little activity. Several French trenches in the Argonne are said to have been captured.

The official statement from Paris disputes the German claim of victories in the Argonne, saying that the attacks were repulsed. Several minor victories for the allies are reported, mostly in artillery engagements.

The official observer attached to the British army headquarters denies the recent report from St. Omer, France, that the British troops had advanced one mile near La Basselle, capturing German positions.

In Russia so far as the official communications show, there is no marked change. In Berlin, it is said, attacks by Russian forces in North Poland which are attempting to advance toward the west Prussian border, were repulsed.

ITALIAN KING SENDS MESSAGE OF THANKS

Washington, Jan. 18.—President Wilson received a cablegram today from King Victor Emmanuel, of Italy, thanking him for expressions of sympathy following the recent earthquake. The message follows: "I am sensible very much of the expression of sympathy which have been so kind as to send me on this dolorous occasion. Please accept my sincerest thanks, the heartfelt thanks of the Italian people."

HAD PAID INCOME TAX OF $144,000

San Francisco, Jan. 18.—An income tax of $144,000, said to have been one of the largest paid the government, was turned in by L. V. Harkness, early associate of John D. Rockefeller, who died yesterday at the ranch of his son-in-law, Dr. A. King Macomber, near Hollister, Cal.

He was in California when the income tax was instituted, and the statement he filed showed the value of his holdings to be between $80,000,000 and $100,000,000. Mr. Harkness' hobby was fine horses and cattle, which he bred at his home place, Walnut Hall farm near Lexington, Ky. One of his choicest herds recently was brought out and placed on the Macomber ranch, where the aged millionaire passed the last six weeks of his life.

WILL HEAR BOTH SIDES.

Wilson to Listen to Literacy Test Discussions.

Washington, Jan. 18.—President Wilson has set aside three hours next Friday for a public hearing on the literacy test provisions of the immigration bill recently passed by congress and which was received today at the white house. Advocates and opponents of the bill will be heard in the east room where President Taft held a hearing before securing a similar bill.

HE ORDERS A PROBE OF POOLING, ALSO

Washington, Jan. 18.—President Wilson, it became known today has included pooling agreements in the possible causes for the recent rise in the price of wheat and flour which he has directed Attorney Gregory to investigate.

The president sent Mr. Gregory a letter today formally asking him to investigate with a view to prosecution, if evidence was discovered of illegal combinations. The investigation already was in progress on oral word from the white house but up to the present time no facts warranting criminal action have been developed.

HOUSE MUST HURRY A BIT

Capital Punishment and Eugenic Marriage to Get an Early Vote.

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 18.—When the legislature reconvened this afternoon after adjournment since Friday, the senate was ready to take up some of its more important bills for final action. The house is somewhat behind the upper house in the matter of preparedness for bills on third reading but it is expected to catch up today and tomorrow.

The McCormick capital punishment bill, the Neal eugenic marriage bill and the White drinking cup bill are the measures creating the most comment which are ready for third reading at this time. A roll call for the introduction of bills will likely be the only business considered at the session in the senate today.

Meet Much Opposition.

Because of the opposition there seems to be against the capital punishment and the eugenic marriage bills it is thought that their authors will not call them for third reading until they have had more time to make friends for the measures. Both were before the last session and were defeated. Senator Neal's bill successfully passed the senate but was killed in the house. The bill has the endorsement of many state health officers, but is opposed by some senators on the theory that it will restrict marriage.

The bill to abolish public drinking cups it is thought will find little op-

BIG COAL LAND DEAL FAILS; BANK CLOSES

Uniontown, Pa., Jan. 18.—The First National bank, of Uniontown, failed to open its doors this morning at 9 o'clock and waiting customers were told that the board of directors were in session and an announcement would soon be made.

A large crowd gathered in front of the bank and a few minutes before noon a notice was posted on the door announcing that the institution was closed by order of the directors.

The action followed long conference between the directors, Bank Examiner Gerald Smith and a representative of the comptroller of the currency. President J. V. Thompson said that the bank would not reopen until there was enough money in the counters to pay all depositors.

The First National, of Uniontown, has a capital of $100,000 and in the last statement the surplus was given as $1,000,000. Recently the bank paid an extra dividend of 700 per cent. until which time it led the roll of honor banks.

President Thompson, is one of the largest individual owners of coal lands in the country and it was reported last week that he was about to close deals in coal lands amounting to $18,000,000. Failure of these transactions, it was reported today, caused the closing of the bank.

7:30 p. m.—Evening service at tabernacle.

One hundred and seventy took a stand for Christ at the tabernacle and woman's meetings Sunday, making a total of 1,038 decisions thus far in the campaign.

Dr. Lyon has made a new record in northern Indiana and before the meetings close the prospects are that he will make a new record for the state.

The number of converts so early in the campaign far surpass the expectations of the most optimistic. Nothing like it has been seen in this section of the state.

Monday Dr. Lyon and his party enjoyed a day of rest after one of the most strenuous as well as the most successful weeks in their evangelistic experience. On Tuesday the campaign will be renewed and it is believed that the number of conversions at the end of the coming week will exceed the 2,000 mark.

Names Political Boss.

At the men's service Sunday afternoon Dr. Lyon named the political boss referred to by him last week and which created much excitement and comment. He made the following statement, which is self-explanatory:

"I have been greatly surprised as to the stir created as to who is the political boss of this city. When I stated that there was here a boss that would make Tammany under Tweed look like thirty cents, I thought I was stating such a self-evident fact that even for a moment it would not be questioned. When I said that he had been for years debauching the virtue and purity of the people, especially the young men and women, I supposed that anyone not intentionally blind would immediately know his name. I think so still. Doubtless he has had various representatives at different times, whose names you know better than I do, but his system has remained the same. He knows no party, combines with anyone who will do his bidding and fights any who will oppose him. He will resort to any means, no matter how unscrupulous, to gain his ends. Whoever is elected to office, his hands are tied so that he cannot do what he would. His recruiting stations are your chief corners, where he panders to appetite and passion, lust and greed. For years he has had his clutch on the throat of the citizenship of this city. It is time the people arise in their might and break his hellish grip. You know his name. It is John Barleycorn, familiary known as Booze."

Joke on Somebody.

Before beginning his sermon Sunday evening Dr. Lyon said: "I think the joke is on somebody in regard to the boss business. They say if you throw a stone in a pack of hounds it will always have hit the dog that barks. We hit the nail on the head this afternoon when we said the boss had been John Barleycorn, commonly known as Booze."

Then he announced that on next Sunday afternoon he would speak to the men on the subject of "Booze."

"There will be money in the [illegible] for more only next Sunday afternoon [illegible]

2,000 DIGGING AWAY IN RUINS

Pathetic Scenes Mark Delving After Hundreds of Buried Victims.

Avezzano, Jan. 18.—More than 2,000 soldiers under command of Lieut. Gen. Martini, are at work on the ruins of Avezzano, which may be described as a wilderness extending several square miles Signor Ciufelli, minister of public works, estimates the number of dead in the Avezzano district at 20,000 and 10,000 injured.

So altogether ruined is the city that it is difficult for the inhabitants to recognize streets, much less individual houses.

Avezzano was important as a manufacturing and trade center. The sugar works cost $1,250,000. Some of the machinery may still be of value. Other mills less important represented a property value of some $3,000,000. Prince Torlonia, one of the greatest landed proprietors in Italy, is the heaviest loser financially, but he declined to consider that at this time. When seen by the correspondent he had been up all night, working in the wreckage. The great Roman prince looked rather like a coal heaver as he had actually been laboring physically in the work of rescue.

Titled Women at Work.

Among the titled women who have came here to aid the injured is the Marchesa Di Sostego, of Florence. She is working as a nurse in one of the seven hospitals erected in the park near the new railroad station.

Incidents of the remarkable rescues that were made are gradually becoming known. One is told of a lieutenant of engineers, Cerri Eville by name, who came here and located the residence of his mother. He worked for some time alone, pulling away stones, but presently he was assisted by soldiers. After seven hours of the hardest kind of labor he found his mother alive and not very badly injured. She had been protected by an unbroken piece of wall falling over a corner of the room in which she was sleeping.

Another rescue of the kind made by women is also reported. The mother, it seems, had escaped and believed that her daughter must be alive under the fragments of her house. She gathered a party of women and she stimulated them to continue what seemed a hopeless excavation in nothing but a heap of irregular pieces of limestone. The mother on Sunday heard a voice just beneath where the women were working and they finally reached the young woman, who was roofed in and protected by two parts of walls forming an angle. One foot was held under a block of stone, but otherwise the young woman was unhurt. She had been without food or drink for four days and had been nearly suffocated by the dust of the pulverized mortar, which sifted down through crevices while the women were trying to reach her.

Experience No Feeling.

Then he said many people would not accept Christ because they failed to experience any unusual feeling.

"Feeling is sometimes the result of salvation, but feeling is never the cause of salvation," he explained. "There is no devil keeping more people from God than the feeling devil. Waiting for feeling would be a good deal like a man going into the timber with his ax on a cold winter day and sitting down on a stump and waiting for sweat."

At the meeting Sunday evening sisters were seen to lead their brothers to the front, wives their husbands and in one case a husband led down his wife. Gray haired men and women marched forward determined that their remaining days would be on the side of Christ.

Prayer was offered Sunday evening by Rev. M. C. Tunison. The choir sang as a special number "Wounded for Our Transgressions." The song service was opened by Mr. Jones' sunbeams and moonbeams.

Overflow Meeting.

An overflow meeting was held at the Westminster church, the sermon being delivered by Rev. H. H. Pitzer, Dr. Lyon's assistant. The church was about three-fourths filled. The music was in charge of Messrs. Sutton and Upson, of the Lyon party.

Announcement was made Sunday evening that on Thursday night Dr. Lyon would speak to the women at the tabernacle, while a meeting for men only would be held at the First Presbyterian church.

Mrs. Loren Jones will meet the high school girls at the First Presbyterian church Wednesday afternoon and Mr. Jones the boys. The meetings will be separate. Another noon-day meeting will be held in the assembly room of the court house Tuesday at which time Dr. Lyon will speak on "The Good Samaritan."

Men's Meeting.

More than fifty men decided for Christ at the men's meeting Sunday afternoon. They went forward four and five at a time, big strong, stalwart men, many of them in tears, resolved to lead Christian lives in the future.

It came at the climax of the greatest men's meeting ever held in Fort Wayne and following a sermon straight from the shoulder.

"Who will be the first to hit the trail?" shouted Dr. Lyon. One young man went forward. He was crying and in dead earnest. Others soon followed and nearly a dozen had made a new decision before Dr. Lyon asked the Christian men to get to work.

"If every man in this building would take the stand this afternoon it would mean a new Fort Wayne," Dr. Lyon shouted. "Come on men, get right with God. Do not hesitate."

No more inspiring sight was ever witnessed in this city. Many who did not take the stand raised their hands and asked that prayers might be offered for them. As each man marched forward he was cheered. Men stood on the benches and chairs. The personal workers went after their friends, but really it seemed that not much persuasion was needed.

Dr. Lyon spoke on the "Man and the Tiger." The evangelist declared it is the battle against temptation that develops the greatest and strongest life.

"Whenever we overcome temptation we are that much stronger for having had the temptation," he continued. He admitted that men have stronger temptations than women.

Attacks Fashionable Club.

The speaker again attacked a fashionable men's club in Fort Wayne, where he said gambling was permitted even on the Lord's day.

"Every joint whether high toned or low toned ought to be cleaned out.'" he exclaimed.

Dr. Lyon declared that there are gambling joints in Fort Wayne under cover. He also said slot machines were being permitted to operate in this city.

"The man who gambles and wins is a thief and the man who gambles and loses is a fool—take your choice," the evangelist exclaimed.

Speaking of the double standard of morals Dr. Lyon said two things are certain: Man is either going to ascend to the level of woman or woman will descend to the level of man.

"You can't keep this double standard any longer," he exclaimed.

Attacks Cigaret Habit.

The evangelist did not mince words in his condemnation of the cigaret habit. There is no habit so weakening to body and mind, he said. Either America must drive out the cigaret curse or the civilization of the country is doomed. He referred to cigarets as "coffin nails."

The evangelist discussed the social evil at length, the evils of lewd pictures, vulgar stories, the vice of licentiousness, quack doctors and sins peculiar to men.

Dr. Lyon said he had been told that there are many places in Fort Wayne where there are slot machines and by dropping a nickel in the slot an electric light is turned on and some lewd and obscene pictures are shown.

Dr. Lyon asked every man to take a vow to hereafter treat every woman as he would have every man treat his mother, wife, daughter or sister to stand. It seemed that every man in the big tabernacle stood.

Dr. Lyon said that never before has he spoken to as kind or more courteous audience of men.

Wonderful Song Service.

One of the big features of the meeting was the singing under the direction of Mr. Jones.

"I want to say that Fort Wayne is one of the best places for singers I ever struck," Mr. Jones said. The men sang and then they whistled. Between four and five hundred men were seated on the platform and sang as a special number "Come to the Church in the Vale." Mr. Jones sang as a solo "My Mother's Way." When Dr. Lyon arrived while the song service was in progress he was loudly cheered.

The evangelist denied most emphatically that he was getting a graft, and created much laughter when he exclaimed: "Any man who says I get a cent out of these collections you just tell him I'm a liar." He immediately corrected himself by saying "He's a liar." The evangelist laughed just as heartily as did the audience at his slip of the tongue.

Before taking up the collection he asked for estimates on the probable amount. The estimates ranged all the way from $100 to $2,500. The collection, however, amounted to $801.01. Prayer was offered at the men's service by Rev. G. F. Byrer.

Sunday Morning.

After speaking Sunday morning five or ten minutes Dr. Lyon sat down in a chair on the pulpit platform.

"As this will be a hard day on me, let me rest," he said, and continued his sermon sitting, turning from one side to the other and talking in a familiar conversational way. The fact that he remained seated did not seem to detract from his sermon in the least.

The evangelist spoke on "The Lordship of Jesus." Prolonged applause greeted the following declaration: "The gambling room, the saloon and the house of ill fame are a trinity of hell, that run our politics. Do you begin to find out now who the political boss of Fort Wayne is?"

Every great revival in the history of Christianity is centered about some supreme truth, some truth that before may have been believed by the church, but had never yet received the emphasis that its importance had deserved.

Home Life Must Be Purified.

"Any real revival must begin by purifying and uplifting the home life," the evangelist declared. "We hear a great deal in these days about the servant girl problem. The name 'servant' itself makes the problem. You do not call a girl that works in a factory, office or store a servant, but if she works as a helper in the home then there is a class that deems her inferior. There is no more honorable work on earth than house work. I would rather have a daughter of mine assist some good Christian wife and mother in the duties of the household than to have her employed in many mills and stores and offices, where she would be subjected to countless temptations and dangers."

In closing Dr. Lyon said it is to be the application of this great principle, [illegible] Christ, which is going to [illegible] the world. [illegible]

Street M. E. church fifteen minutes before the time set for the opening of the women's meeting at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon. The aisles, the choir loft, the gallery stairs were all crowded. Mrs. Daisy Barr, of the Lyon party, conducted the meeting. Announcement was made that an overflow meeting would be held at the Westminster Presbyterian church and Mrs. Jones and Mrs. Lyon would be the speakers. Mrs. Barr presented Mrs. Lyon to the women. Mrs. Lyon spoke briefly, expressing her satisfaction at the crowd and said that her work had been that of the mother in the home. Referring to her part in the present campaign in Fort Wayne Mrs. Lyon declared that her work here in this city was largely that of protecting her husband from the "criticism and the vile lies" which were being circulated concerning him. She said that she read Dr. Lyon's letters.

"I want you to know," said Mrs. Lyon, "that I read his letters first."

Mrs. Baar Speaks.

Mrs. Barr delivered an address to which the closest of attention was given by the hundreds of women who were standing. After outlining her life, which she did in a most entertaining way to the evident satisfaction of her hearers, Mrs. Barr spoke on "Springs That Dry Up." She said that women should be careful in their choices, picking out the essential things, the things which are eternal.

"My observation of woman," said the speaker, "is that she stresses the material things and neglects the spiritual."

Enumerating as the streams which dry up the streams of friendship, of youth, and of wealth, she said concerning the latter that the danger of America is in its mad rush for the almighty dollar.

Mrs. Barr condemned the mad rush for pleasure, and said that the people were going crazy over entertainment.

"I watched the scores of young women students of your high school the other day and as I saw their elaborate dressing I wondered what on earth women who have sons are going to do to rear their boys so that they can support such wives. We need an old fashioned revival of old fashioned women, who are willing to be helpmates to their husbands.

"She said that the spring that never runs dry is the old spring of God's love and goodness."

Mrs. Cleary Sings.

Mrs. Will Cleary sang a solo. Announcement was made that Mrs. Barr would meet the representatives of the Ladies' Aid societies of the various churches Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock at the Y. W. C. A. Mrs. Barr also announced that Tuesday night would be woman's night at the tabernacle and that Dr. Lyon would at that time speak to women only. At the close of the meeting the invitation was extended and eighteen responded.

The overflow meeting at the Westminster Presbyterian church was conducted by Mrs. Jones. Mrs. Lyon also addressed the meeting.

Saturday Evening.

Ninety-six responded to the invitation Saturday evening, three more than on the previous night.

In his opening remarks Saturday evening Dr. Lyon said: "I must say that Fort Wayne has the finest bunch of pastors I have struck. I am sorry that [illegible] say that in every place I [illegible] glad to be here and get acquainted with you."

Dr. Lyon spoke Saturday evening on "The Wanderer's Return." During the course of his sermon he impersonated a card fiend playing a game of cards which brought forth much laughter and applause.

Speaking of a church member who dances the evangelist said: "Whenever you see a church member doing the hesitation, grape vine, waltz or tango, you can rest assured that church member is serving the devil."

The evangelist said he had been receiving more letters from Fort Wayne citizens. Some of them are heart rending, he said. He declared he had more hope for the poor outcast girl who writes to him of her sorrows and the young man who is trying to break away from the drink or cigaret habit than he has for the indifferent and self-satisfied church member.

"Many are denying Jesus by refusing to testify for Him, and engage in active, aggressive, Christian work," he continued. "The scripture says that if any man has not the spirit of Christ, he is none of His. Jesus was primarily a soul winner. His whole being was absorbed in the great work of bringing men to God. If you are indifferent in the salvation of others, you are denying your Lord."

In closing the evangelist made an appeal for men and women to get right with God.

"Forsake your sins—come back to Him and He will receive you," he pleaded. "He will forgive you, and in these coming days He will use your influence and example nightly to bring others to God."

Saturday Afternoon.

Five hundred and twenty-eight boys and girls and young men and women marched forward Saturday afternoon, shook hands with the evangelist and signed cards agreeing to lead Christian lives in the future. When Donald Hunter, 319 Centlivre avenue, a bright little youngster, shook hands with the evagelist he said that when he grew up to be a man he was going to be a preacher. Dr. Lyon smiled and told him that was the thing for him to do. There were several colored children who went forward at the Saturday afternoon service.

Group Prayer Meetings.

"Helping Our Neighbors," taken from Luke 10:25-37, is the topic for the group prayer meetings to be held Tuesday morning from 9:30 to 10 o'clock at the following places:

Section 1, divisions 4 to 8, Bethany Presbyterian church. Fred Rapp, leader.

Section 2, divisions 9 to 19, Trinity M. E. church. Rev. A. K. Zartman, leader.

Section 6, divisions 38 to 43, St. Paul's M. E. church, Rev. M. L. Buckley, leader.

Sections 7 and 8, divisions 44 to 52, East Creighton Avenue Church of Christ, Mrs. Jones, leader.

Section 9, divisions 53 to 66, Church of God, 3140 Lafayette street, Mrs. Lewis, leader.

Allies Expect New Dash of German Forces to Gain Southern Bank of Aisne.

London, Jan. 18.—London is recalling that this is the 44th anniversary of the proclamation of Wilhelm I as German emperor and in the British capital it is expected the day may bring news of a wide spread German effort to follow up with a still more important movement the success achieved last week in the neighborhood of Soissons.

In London it is believed the Germans have adopted what is virtually a defensive whole to the west of Warsaw—some British observers arguing that this has been forced upon them by superior Russian numbers—and that these defensive tactics synchronize with the movement of many thousands of Teutonic troops from Poland to the French and eBligian battlefields.

The fighting at Soissons, some British commentators and declare to be the precursor of the entry of these new troops upon a vigorous offensive perhaps an attempt to cross the river Aisne. At Soissons the French failed to hold their positions on the northern bank of the river and for the Germans to attempt to gain the southern bank is regarded as a development to be expected. As to future engagements in this region, it appears to be a fact that the French artillery on the hills south of the Aisne commands all the approaches to the river and taht it will have to be reckoned with.

In the eastern arena of the war the steady pressure which he arrival of one million of last year levies has enabled the Russians to exert upon the Germans, according to news dispatches reaching London, has been slowly pushing back the German line to the west of Warsaw. News dispatches today report the Russian occupation of Plock. This report has not been confirmed officially, but the Russians on Saturday crossed the Surwa river a few miles below that point and may have been able to occupy the city. Russian forces already had reached Sierpec and Gombin lying respectively directly north and south of this provincial capital. The Russian defeat of the Turkish if the claims of Petrograd are fully borne out, was so decisive that it may mark the close of the Ottoman attempt to invade Russia in the Caucasus region. The Russian victory probably will free enough of the Caucasan army to oppose effectively the Turkish forces which are approaching the frontier further eastward through Persia.

ABOVE, PHILLIPS TAYLOR, CLEVELAND'S CHAMPION BOY AUTO-MAKER. BELOW, YOUNG MERLE FRANCE IN HIS FIRST HOME-MADE MACHINE.

Cleveland, O., Jan. 16.—Having built with his own hands two speedy little automobiles, Phillips Taylor, seventeen, now plans to take up aeroplane building.

Young Taylor's parents are wealthy. They live in a beautiful home directly opposite John D. Rockefeller's great estate of Forest Hill. Phillips would never have to do a stroke of manual labor in his life if he wished not to.

But he simply can't help making things with his hands. It is fascinating fun to him and he has been known to work as late as 2 a. m., alone in the garage, over some trouble with engine or gears.

Phillips isn't the first boy automobile builder to be produced by Cleveland. Eleven years ago Merle France, a boy of thirteen, caused a great deal of amusement to the neighbors when he drove out of his yard one morning in his first home-made automobile, six feet long.

Automobiles themselves were still young then. Merle grew up with them. The neighbors, who laughed then, are proud today to be able to shout "Hello" to Merle as he drives in his big six-cylinder, seven-passenger car—also home-made, but a beauty.

Merle France has had several offers of excellent positions in big automobile factories because of the skill he has acquired through playing at making things, but he still prefers to work—fifteen hours a day is his schedule—in his old workshop, where he and his brother are turning out a shock-absorber and a mechanical starter, both of which are selling well on the market.

He built his first machine when he was fifteen years old and still in grammar school. Then he sold the machine for more than it cost.

His second machine, just completed, makes thirty miles an hour. He and a friend have taken long country trips in it. Phillips "just to show 'em," has carried seven passengers in the car."

The engine is a single-cylinder, two-cycle marine. It gives seven-horse power in the machine. Phillips decided to use a friction drive and himself built the shafting, clutch and "V" belts. In fact, with the exception of the engine, the entire machine is of his own construction. The gasoline tank is composed of two ordinary gasoline cans, soldered together. The axles and belt rims for the small wire wheels are also home-made.

Phillips made friends with men in a nearby garage who allowed him to do his machine work there.

As an example of the ingenuity the boy has shown in constructing his machine, the running boards are so built that the weight of any load, placed on one side, is evenly distributed on both sides of the car.

"Aeroplanes? Yes, I'll probably be trying them next," says Phillips.

SURVEY STARTED FOR NEW ARTIFICIAL LAKE

Earl Rundles and two assistants started Monday morning taking a preliminary survey and water levels for the artificial lake proposed by F. L. Barthold, and which has the backing of a large number of prominent and influential citizens.

Rodney Fleming, state game warden, has agreed to stock the lake with edible fish.

Plans for the proposed lake were discussed at a meeting Saturday afternoon held in the office of A. J. Vesey, at which time it was decided to hold a public meeting on Saturday evening in the assembly room of the court house.

It is planned to build a dam in the St. Joe river near the Rudisill dam site and construct an artificial lake. In this manner, it has been suggested, a veritable pleasure resort will be made out of a sewer district and a waterway from Fort Wayne to Cedar creek will be provided.

A publicity committee composed of A. J. Vesey, L. H. Moore and R. D. Fleming was named Saturday afternoon. The officers of the organization back of the project are: Fred Shoaff, president; William Breuer, vice president; Allen Hursh, secretary, and William F. Ranke, treasurer.

ELECT OFFICERS.

At the annual stockholders meeting of the Portland Hotel Apartments company a semi-annual dividend of 5 per cent. was declared on the common stock and 3½ per cent. on the preferred.

The following officers were elected: E. L. Craw, president; Sarah B. Craw, vice-president; George R. Craw, secretary and treasurer.

THE SENTINEL'S DAILY SCRIPTURE READING.

Psalm 18:1-15.

1 I will love thee, O Lord, my strength.

2 The Lord is my rock, and my fortress, and my deliverer; my God, my strength, in whom I will trust; my buckler, and the horn of my salvation, and my high tower.

3 I will call upon the Lord, who is worthy to be praised: so shall I be saved from mine enemies.

4 The sorrows of death compassed me, and the floods of ungodly men made me afraid.

5 The sorrows of hell compassed me about: the snares of death prevented me.

6 In my distress I called upon the Lord, and cried unto my God; he heard my voice out of his temple, and my cry came before him, even into his ears.

7 Then the earth shook and trembled; the foundations also of the hills moved and were shaken, because he was wroth.

8 There went up a smoke out of his nostrils, and fire out of his mouth devoured: coals were kindled by it.

9 He bowed the heavens also, and came down: and darkness was under his feet.

10 And he rode upon a cherub, and did fly: yea, he did fly upon the wings of the wind.

11 He made darkness his secret place: his pavilion round about him were dark waters and thick clouds of the skies.

12 At the brightness that was before him his thick clouds passed, hail stones and coals of fire.

13 The Lord also thundered in the heavens, and the Highest gave his voice; hail stones and coals of fire.

14 Yea, he sent out his arrows, and scattered them; and he shot out lightnings, and discomfited them.

15 Then the channels of waters were seen, and the foundations of the world were discovered at thy rebuke, O Lord, at the blast of the breath of thy nostrils.

Playing With Fire.

Those who have taken some note of the recent crusade against the blind tiger evil at South Bend, with its resultant wholesale arrests for illegal liquor-selling, will be interested in news from Indianapolis to the effect that South Bend saloon men and others have launched a movement to unseat Mayor Fred Keller. They are at work among senators, representatives and employes of the legislature, and it is said that a deluge of letters, telegrams and petitions has been loosed at the state capital during the past few days with this end in view. It is strange that those who are engineering this scheme do not realize that they are playing with fire, and that an aroused public indignation must certainly overwhelm them sooner or later.

Mayor Keller, elected on a citizens' ticket, somewhat more than a year ago, appears to have been making an attempt to give South Bend the good government he promised it in his campaign pledges. He has aroused the ire of many politicians and of all of the lawless element. They are attempting to strike back, and purpose legislating him out of office by the enactment of a law limiting his term of office to two years instead of the four-year term to which the people elected him. They figure that their chances would be infinitely better with somebody else in the mayor's chair, and in their desperation are crying out that "unless Keller is ousted we will have hard sledding to elect anybody in the future." Without intimate knowledge of conditions at South Bend, the character of the fight that is being made on him indicates that South Bend cannot afford to part with him as mayor—and probably won't. We do not believe the Indiana legislature will furnish the power for axegrinding of that character.

It has developed that a good many members of the Indiana state legislature have been supplied with "courtesy cards" reading as follows: "The courtesies of the city of Indianapolis are extended to —— member of the house of representatives," (or state senate,) as the case may be. The cards bear the signatures of Mayor Bell and Chief of Police Perrott. Now will somebody come forward and enlighten us as to just what privileges are either specifically or impliedly granted by a "courtesy card?"

The arrival of the stork at the white house with a baby grandson for the president will be ample justification for Mr. Wilson if during the next few days he is inclined to devote comparatively little attention to such inconsequential matters as governmental questions. The entire country will rejoice with the parents and with Mr. Wilson, and will cherish the hope that the youngster may grow into as great, as widely-loved and as superb an American as is his distinguished grandfather.

There can be no questioning the fact that opponents of the plan to improve Weisser park are clearly within their rights, and it would be manifestly unfair, also, to impugn their motives in waging a fight against the proposed park development in that section of the city. But another fact that should not be overlooked is that the only way to enjoy park improvements is to get them, and that the time to secure them is when they appear to be available.

That meeting of Fort Wayne men at the Lyon evangelistic services on Sunday afternoon will certainly go on record as one of the most remarkable gatherings ever held in the city. Five thousand men gathered in the great auditorium, joining in prayer and in praise and listening [illegible]

UNEXPECTEDLY SECURED RENEWAL

We unexpectedly have been able to secure a satisfactory renewal of our lease on our present quarters. The Hamilton Bank has decided not to build, for the present, and has re-leased our present room to us. While this action was entirely unexpected to us, we, of course, were very happy to be approached by them last week with a renewal proposition, which proved of desirable terms. Preparatory to putting in a fresh, new spring stock of Clothing, Hats and furnishings and also putting into effect an entirely new plan or system of doing business, we have decided to run a

EQUAL TO A BATTLE.

(Pittsburgh Dispatch.)

Some of the reports from Italy assert that the damage of the earthquake is greater than that of the Messina shock of 1908. Others put its destruction as second to that disaster. The dead are now officially estimated at 20,000. Unofficial estimates put the dead and injured at 50,000. As the earthquake extended into Rome and damaged the priceless antiquities of that capital the damage probably exceeds that of any modern earthquake.

This is a loss inflicted by nature. Heretofore, the convulsions of the earth have been held to inflict losses more wholesale than any that can be devised by the wrath of man. But this case is brought into close comparison with what can be done by human power in the destruction of life and property. To the north in Europe the greater powers of that continent have summoned their forces to the destruction of each other so urgently that for every life or injury in Italy ten or twelve have been killed or maimed by the senseless quarrels of men.

Italy has been contemplating an embarkation in the war. Whether the disaster that has stricken her will be a deterrent remains to be seen. But when the shaking of the solid earth visits on the people loss of life by the tens of thousands, it certainly will appear to those who judge in cold blood that men need not seek pretexts to add to the slaughter. For the lives lost by the insecurity of the earth's crust no man can be held responsible. But for the far greater list of men killed and injured and the swollen total of buildings destroyed and women and children widowed and orphaned by war, the selfish quarrels of statesmen must answer.

Should not this lesson of nature teach the folly of man turning in to swell the total of slaughter? Certainly it would seem that this convulsion seen rightly should teach Europe the lesson of peace.

TEACHING PEOPLE HOW TO SPEND.

(Grand Rapids Press.)

Most people do not need to be taught to spend money—they know well enough now. But as Governor Ferris affirmed in an address in this city not long ago, many people on the border of chronic debt could be piling up reasonably good bank accounts if they knew how to spend wisely. It is not what you earn, but what you save that counts. A group of middle class women endowed with generous instincts the other day shared experiences with these results:

One woman denied herself the pleasure of attending a high-priced concert in order to give the price of the tickets to a needy family, only to be told later that the needy family had invested her gift in the concert diversion. A mistress who was wearing out her old furs found her maid investing in a set of expensive ones, on the installment plan—furs much finer than the mistress could afford.

Another maid with a set of furs given as a Christmas present cut them up and threw them away while she bought a new set. Her employer knew the set of furs [illegible]

AMERICAN GLOBE-TROTTERS TO DISCOVER ALASKA THIS YEAR.

Seattle, Wash., Jan. 18.—Some of the thousands of wealthy Americans who have annually gone to Switzerland, Norway and Sweden in search of the picturesque and sublime are expected this spring to discover that there is such a country as Alaska—a land of towering mountain ranges, magnificent fiords and glaciers and great, wilderness rivers.

Alaska can discount anything which the natural show places of Europe can boast. Its mountains overtop Mt. Blanc, the fiords of the Southeastern Archipelago glaciers dwarf the Mer de Glace, and the fiords of the Southeastern Archipellgo do not suffer by comparison with those of Norway, whose praises are yearly chanted by streams of sight-seers. Alaska's beauties can practically all be seen from the deck of steamers, without the discomfort of tedious railway travel.

The glaciers of America's northland terminate on the ocean border or interior rivers, with towering fronts from 200 to 300 feet high and miles in width.

At the Child's glacier one may loll at ease in a bed of flowers on the Copper river bank, while towering above the great sea of green-white ice splits and cracks with detonations like artillery fire. From time to time great avalanches slide into the water, creating titanic waves.

Along the Alaska peninsula the tourists may witness the tremendous pent-up energy of internal fires; islands made playthings by earthquake action, rising one year and falling the next, and peaks towering a mile higher than the Swiss champions.

If you want something new to talk over at your club or at your pink tea, take a look at Alaska in a "see America first" tour.

straits, yet daily the garbage can was loaded with castoff food from the table which the economical neighbor would have been glad to use instead of throwing away. The same family, three months behind with their rent, invested in a piano.

High cost of living has a good many different angles.

Col. C. A. Zollinger informed The Sentinel today that he had not decided to engage in business in Huntington with Col. C. E. Briant, nor even to engage in business in that city at all.

Though simple and unostentatious as his life had been, the funeral of the late Hon. William Fleming yesterday was the most impressive and imposing event of that solemn nature in the history of Fort Wayne. The Cathedral was crowded to its capacity and hundreds could not gain entrance. The services consisted of a solemn requiem mass, of which Rev. J. H. Brammer was the celebrant. His sermon was an eloquent tribute to the great man who has gone and a pathetic summary of the loss his family and the community had suffered. Scores of men prominent in the political and business life of Indiana came from points distant to attend the funeral. The pall bearers were A. C. Trentman, B. S. O'Connor, John Brennan, J. H. Base, S. E. Morse, E. C. Bell, O. P. Morgan and S. B. Bond. The floral offerings were numerous and rich. The cortege was a long one, practically all of the available vehicles in the city being in requisition.

As a Farmer Views Question of Prices

To the Editor of The Sentinel:—I saw in your edition of Jan. 13, that in the investigation of increase of price of wheat products was laid to the farmers. Now if any one cared to investigate they know that a great many farmers have not the storage room to hold their wheat, many in the west being compelled to thresh their wheat upon the ground until they could haul it to the elevators and a great deal was sold to the buyers for one dollar per bushel—some as low as 68 or 70 cents per bushel. Now I would ask if the farmers got the profit on that sold, or the board of trade? True, the farmers have some wheat left, but not many average or have much, for he is forced to sell his product for what he can get. This the buyers and board of trade understand, so they keep prices down until they get the larger portion in their control and then the price soars up, reaping their harvest off the poorer farmer and consumer. True some of the more able farmers are benefited by their graft and gambling—not many in comparison to the whole farmer class. I am informed that more than three-fourths of the wheat product of 1914 has passed from the farmers to the buyers. If this be true, who is to be blamed for the high price of wheat products—the one that raises it or the buyers? The board of trade knows by statistical report nearly the amount that will be harvested that year before it is all threashed, which is furnished to them. The European war has been a big factor in the increase of price of food products, especially wheat, because that is more easily shipped than some other food products. Who gets the benefit—the board of trade or the small farmer? I believe the board of trade and statistical reports are a damage to the farmers, especially the smaller ones, because, for one reason, they are not organized into a protective association, as nearly every other business is. The farmer takes his product to market. The price is arranged by retail grocers and other unions of trade and the farmer is compelled to take the price prearranged by retail union, grocer, merchant, elevator union, buyers, the millers' union and nearly every other business. Even the tax dodger wants all taxes assessed on land which would be a special burden on the farmer. The merchant and the groceryman would go nearly scott free when some of their household furnishings and their jewels cost more than many of the farmers' farms. When the farmer wants to purchase anything the price is always made by the seller. A FARMER.

QUARANTINE LIFTED.

Danger of Hoof and Mouth Disease is Passed, it is Believed.

As it is believed that all danger of another outbreak of the hoof and mouth disease in Allen county is practically passed, Dr. W. F. Myers, county and state veterinarian, has lifted the quarantine from a number of farms in Madison and Jefferson townships.

As a result of lifting the quarantine from these two townships stock may again be sold from all farms that were not individually quarantined, as before the discovery of the disease within the boundaries of the two townships.

Individual quarantines have been lifted from the following farms: Frank, Edward and Joseph Girardot, Jesse Frye, M. A. Roberts, F. J. Murphy, George Shirley, Fred David, Mary Dinger, John Dinger, J. H. Heisler and Fred Heckler.

The farm of John Nail in Jefferson township, where several head of stock was killed sometime ago after the discovery of the hoof and mouth disease, is still under quarantine.

CRIMP IN LIQUOR TRADE.

Charleston, W. Va., Jan. 13.—Fred O. Blue, commissioner of prohibition, said today that the decision of the United States circuit court at Richmond, Va., yesterday, would immediately put an end to the solicitation of orders for intoxicants to be delivered to West Virginia customers and would be of inestimable value to his department in enforcing the prohibition laws.

"The ruling of the court, said Commissioner Blue, "is so stringent that railroads and express companies operating in West Virginia can not afford to take the risk of delivering intoxicants from other states to West Virginia customers."

The decision asserted that unless a consignee could show conclusively that he ordered liquor for personal use without advertisement on the part of the consignor or without other solicitation, common carriers might be restrained from making deliveries in the state. The decision was on the state's appeal fom an adverse decision of the lower courts in the case of a Cincinnati wholesale liquor firm and an express company.

AT THE MAJESTIC.

"The Shepherd of the Hills," Tomorrow for Two Days.

Harold Bell Wright's most popular novel, "The Shepherd of the Hills," of which a million copies have been sold, has been made into a play by its author with the assistance of Elsbery W. Reynolds. The engagement is for 2 days starting tomorrow evening.

The play is practically a true narrative of life among the humble dwellers of the Ozarks. It touches all the emotions, and its influence is wholesome and helpful, notwithstanding several rough characters that figure more or less prominently. It is hardly necessary to add that a pretty romance is woven into the humor, pathos and tragedy, for the play throughout is one of human interest with a conclusion that is thoroughly satisfactory to "Young Matt," and of course to the auditors.

"The Smart Set" Engagement Opens on Thursday.

A delightful melange of song, humor, comedy and surprises is promised in the latest production of the famous "Smart Set" company, which will be the attraction at the Majestic on Thursday and Friday. The production bears the title of "His Excellency the President" and will have as the leading funmaker that incomparable and resourceful comedian, Salem Tutt Whitney. The piece is a musical comedy in which bright scintillating fun is said to be to the fore. It relates the adventures of a shiftless darky who flaunts himself as the ruler of a South American republic. Mr. Whitney will have the assistance of Homer Tutt and Blanche Thompson, a young woman possessed of a voice out of the ordinary.

AT THE TEMPLE.

Madeline Webb is another of those mastodonic fun makers that Fort Wayne burlesque fans never seem to tire laughing with, and Rose Allen, the dandy little soubrette, is always interesting. The show is a typical Columbia wheel product, which means that it measures up to the standard required by this leading organization of the burlesque world.

AT THE EMPRESS.

Tomorrow afternoon all the ladies who attend the Empress theatre will receive a card which will tell them how they can have the opportunity of securing a new spring suit at one of the leading stores in the city free of charge. Wednesday afternoon will be fat ladies' day at the Empress. All ladies over 300 pounds in weight will be admitted to the theatre free of charge Wednesday evening. This is because of the fact that Miss Santos in the act of Santos and Hayes weighs 320 pounds while her partner weighs only ninety pounds.

Murray K. Hill is tickling everybody with his laugh act at the Empress. He is the speed boy with the jokes. The De Koe troupe are people who put on an acrobatic act of unusual and engrossing features. There is a midget in this troupe who is little short of wonderful.

AT THE LYRIC.

"The Education of Mr. Pipp," first given to the American public in a series of pen and ink drawings by the master, Charles Dana Gibson, and later presented in the legitimate in a dramatization done by Augustus Thomas, is to be seen at the Lyric today and tomorrow on the screen. Augustus Thomas, the foremost dramatist of the day, had personal charge of the picturization of his drama and with the vastly more varied resources of the photo-play, Mr. Thomas was able to give us a more intimate acquaintance with Mr. Pipp and his interesting family than he could in the original dramatization. Pipp appears much more the man and the two daughters of the meek and lowly Pipp are given a much better presentation on the screen than could be possible on the legitimate stage.

Mrs. Fred Mahler, who recently underwent an operation at the Hope hospital, has been removed to her home, 1111 Lafayette street.

(By Idah McGlone Gibson.)

This little sermon was written because I received one morning a number of questions on the subject of how a working girl should dress. Here are some of them:

"There have been some remarks passed about the office concerning my dress. I think I am dressing in good taste and within my means, but, for fear I am wrong, I have come to you for advice.

"I am a girl of eighteen years and am especially fond of dainty things such as silk stockings, pumps, lacy collars, etc. I work in a downtown business office where the girls dress very plainly, and my salary is just the same as most of theirs. I would rather deny myself pleasures and dinners that the other girls enjoy and buy pretty things for myself.

"Do you think it is proper for a working girl to wear silk stockings and low-necked lacy waists to work if it makes her happy and comfortable?"

The girl who works is criticized about a great many things, but on no other subject is she criticized as often as the subject of dress.

Every woman thinks, of course, that her standard of dress is the best. And if the girl who works would follow the rules set down by the woman who does not work she would spend the money she earns for clothes that would be a uniform of the plainest kind at the office, factory or store.

It's so easy to tell the other person what to do.

Every normal girl loves pretty clothes. And the girl who works six days a week has very few places to wear them except at the place where she spends most of her time.

There are dainty bits of apparel that are not appropriate for an office. But I am of the opinion that it is perfectly all right for a girl to wear some clothes as dainty and pretty as she can afford.

I can see no harm in a girl wearing silk stockings if her salary permits her to do so. And as for wearing the universal "low neck" I think it is much more sensible than to swathe her pretty throat in a great high collar.

No, little girl, if you like dainty shoes and stockings and soft, pretty shirtwaists, you may certainly wear them if your means permit.

But in so doing remember it sometimes follows that the question arises: "How can she afford to have such clothes? Sometimes, if not often, the suspicion of there being other ways of obtaining money to spend on clothing arises in the mind of the questioner who knows well how much she herself can afford to spare on stockings at $1.50 to $2.50 per, etc., etc., and other things in proportion. Of course suspicion does not always imply evil, nor does it follow that because one girl dresses in better taste or with prettier things than another that she must have spent more money. Some girls are better buyers, find a bargain quicker, use better judgment and are even cleverer in adapting their clothes to themselves than others. Therefore they appear to spend more money on themselves. A more important question is, Do you spend all you earn to put it on your back, and if you do, is it wise?

AT THE JEFFERSON.

One of the most significant triumphs ever attained by a motion-picture actress was scored by Florence Reed at the Jefferson theatre is a film version of Henry Arthur Jones' noted drama, "The Dancing Girl." This intense drama might have been written for the screen, for full of action and picturesqueness is every scene, the colorful exteriors of the rocky coast of "Endellion Isle" contrasting with the rich interiors of the elegant home of the profligate Duke of Guiseberry, under whose patronage the dancing girl lives for a while, and there is the dramatic comparison of the sober life of the Quakers on the isle with the gay existence lead by the gay Bohemians at Guiseberry house, with whom the Quaker girl mingles when she becomes the mistress of the Duke.

Florence Reed's initial screen appearance entitles her to consideration as one of the greatest motion picture actresses in the history of the mimic art. Leon Ormonde as the Duke plays his part with refinement and feeling

Robert Edeson, the foremost romantic star on the American legitimate stage, comes to the Jefferson tomorrow in a filminized version of his great stage success, "The Girl I Left Behind Me," and which was written by David Belasco. The appearance at this theatre of an artist possessing the dramtic prominence of Robert Edeson is an event note worthy in every way, and an occasion in theatrical circles that will arouse interest to an unprecendated height.

AT THE COLONIAL

"HIS HIGHNESS THE PRINCE."

Charming Comedy With Excellent Company Comes to the Colonial Today.

One of the most enjoyable comedies of the season comes to the popular Colonial theatre today under the title of "His Highness the Prince," with an excellent company.

This delightful comedy is full of life and fun and there is something doing every minute from the start to the roaring finish.

"The Judge's Wife."

The co-attraction on today's program is a three part drama, "The Judge's Wife" with Miss Neva Gerber in the leading role. The play has an emotional appeal which will leave a lasting sense of enjoyment with those who see it. Miss Gerber, the delightful little leading lady, gives a most convincing impersonation of the title role.

"The Lure" Tomorrow.

One of the most talked of plays, "The Lure," with an all star company—the same one, in fact, that made the play such a success on the legitimate stage, will be the attraction at the Colonial tomorrow.

The play is one of thrilling appeal, which teaches a good lesson to all who see it.

"Runaway June."

Wednesday, the second installment of George Randolph Chester's fascinating serial, "Runaway June," will be shown at the Colonial together with the famous comedy, "The School for Scandal," with Alice Joyce and Guy Coombs in the leading roles.

O. Henry, county agent, is the proud father of an eight-pound baby girl, born Sunday at the family residence, 1113 Lafayette street.

IN THE CHURCHES

HOLDS BI-ENNIAL ELECTION.

Cathedral Young Ladies' Sodality Choose Officers for Coming Two Years.

The Young Ladies' sodality of the Cathedral of Immaculate Conception held its annual meeting Sunday afternoon following the vesper services and elected officers for the coming year. The officers were all elected unanimously and are as follows: Prefect, Miss Anna Schneiders; assistant prefect, Miss Florence Baker; treasurer, Miss Marie Nolan; secretary, Miss Irene Noll; sacristans, Miss Margaret Leahy and Miss Grace Keeley, and collectors, Miss Alice Martin and Miss Isabell McDonald.

The annual report showed that at the present time there were two hundred and sixty people who carried their membership in the sodality. Marked efficiency has characterized the work of the retiring officers and they were tendered a vote of thanks.

It was decided to give a social function on Friday evening, January 29, at the Library hall at which time the young ladies will be hostesses. Father Quinlan, rector of the church, will deliver an address and under the direction of Miss Marie Sommers and Miss Mae Centlivre a musical program will be rendered.

DELIVERS IMPRESSIVE SERMON.

Prof. L. W. Dorn Installs Rev. G. Doege as Pastor of Trinity Church.

Preceding the installation services held Sunday morning at the Trinity Lutheran German church when Rev. Gustave Goege was installed as pastor of the congregation, Prof. Louis Dorn, of the Concordia college and who has had temporary charge of the affairs of the church delivered a very impressive sermon on, 1 Thess. 2, 13. He pointed out the various duties of a pastor and the congregation and the relation of one to the other.

In the presence of the entire congregation and with the members of the church council assembled at the altar, the ceremony of installation took place. The church choir and the children of the parish school rendered several selections. The newly installed pastor then took charge of the remainder of the services and he will preach his initial sermon next Sunday morning at 10 o'clock.

NEWS OF FORT WAYNE'S NEIGHBORS

PAWNSHOP IS LOOTED.

Yeggs Blow Safe in Huntington Loan Office and Gain Booty.

Huntington, Ind., Jan. 18.—The safe in the Valley Loan company office, 400 North Jefferson street was blown open late Saturday night and about $165 in money and dozens of rings and watches were stolen.

Protected by the roaring of a high wind and the total darkness in the down town section because the city lights were not burning, the burglars worked leisurely, opening envelopes containing the jewelry on which money had been loaned and rejecting articles of small value. A suit case that was held as security on a loan is missing, the loot being carried away in it, the police believe.

Everything was favorable to the yeggs and the robbery was not discovered until 11 o'clock yesterday morning when R. C. Dillingham, a chiropractor who recently came to Huntington from Fort Wayne saw the broken glass in the hall in front of the loan office. Mr. Dillingham has his office at the end of the hall.

A few feet from the safe that was blown, the opposite side of the partition separating the loan office and Dr. Danielson's suite of rooms was a safe containing about $300. No effort was made to enter this office or that of Dr. Dillingham.

BURNED, BUT SAVES HOME.

Auburn, Ind., Jan. 18.—With a hand hose used for dampening coal, Mrs. Frank Olinger saved the family residence on South Main street from what might have resulted in a heavy loss from fire Saturday, but in doing so she was badly burned about the face, arms and hands. Mrs. Olinger threw some greasy papers in the furnace and that caused the gas which had accumulated to explode. Fire issued forth from the furnace door and Mrs. Olinger was severly burned, although her clothes did not catch fire.

SMALL BOY SHOOTS BROTHER.

Warsaw, Ind., Jan. 18.—Because his brother refused to mind him, Herbert Dye, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Dye, of Leesburg, shot his three-year-old brother, Cass, in the head with a rifle filled with small shot. The two boys with a number of other children were playing at the Dye home when the boy asked his brother to run out in the yard and get something for him. The little fellow refused and his brother picked up a small target rifle standing in the corner of the room, pointed it at the side of his head and pulled the trigger. The entire load struck the boy in the head but owing to the fact that the cartridge had been loaded with fine shot, the injury was slight.

KEEPS HIS 90TH ANNIVERSARY.

Bluffton, Ind., Jan. 18.—John Sparks, of Markle, has just celebrated his ninetieth birthday anniversary. The day was spent quietly, a few relatives being entertained at his home at the dinner hour. Mr. Sparks, who is a pioneer of Markle, was born in Randolph county, but has spent most of his life in and near Markle. The house in which he now lives was built before there was any town of Markle. Mrs. Sparks will be seventy-nine years old next March.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Sparks are enjoying fairly good health, and take much interest in the affairs of the town.

DECATUR MAN INJURED.

St. Marys, O., Jan. 18.—Fred Jackson, 26, of Decatur, was severely bruised about the abdomen when two automobiles collided on the street here. William Rimer, driver and owner of one machine, and Tom Covault and Frank Doyle, other members of the party, were unhurt. One automobile is badly damaged.

FARM HOME DESTROYED.

Decatur, Ind., Jan. 18.—The house on the farm of W. H. Roop was destroyed by fire this forenoon about half-past ten. The cause of the fire is not known, but may have been from a defective chimney. By hard work the family and neighbors saved part of the household goods, but they could do nothing to save the building. The loss will reach $1,500, with some insurance, but not enough to cover it. Mr. Roop and family live in Blue Creek township, near the Ohio state line, four miles south and two and a half miles east of Pleasant Mills.

WHITLEY PIONEER DEAD AT 92.

Columbia City, Ind., Jan. 18.—Harrison F. Grabill, a pioneer of Whitley county, whose settlement here dates back 74 years and who was one of the arginauts who sought wealth in California in the early days of the gold rush, is dead at his home in Smith township at the age of 92 years. Death was due to blood poisoning resulting from schlerosis of the arteries. He was born in Virginia in 1822 and came with his parents to Whitley county in 1841. In 1852 he went to the Sacramento valley, in California, where he remained for two years, returning to this county.

TWO GENEVA DIVORCE CASES.

Geneva, Ind., Jan. 18.—Mrs. Lelia Francis has sued her husband for divorce, alleging abandonment and failure to provide. She also asks alimony. Elmire Boice, asking for a divorce, alleges that her husband is an habitual drunkard, and by his cruel and inhuman treatment has driven her away from their home. She asks $1,000 alimony and the custody of her two children.

PLAN TO ISSUE BONDS.

Hartford City, Ind., Jan. 18.—The city council at a meeting authorized the issuance of bonds covering the unpaid assessments on the improvements of the alleys at the west and at the rear of the new I. O. O. F. building. The bonds will be for a sum amounting to $541. The petition of Wright Peck and Walter Bates asking to be appointed special policemen for the southside were not acted upon.

NEW HIGH SCHOOL NEEDED.

Auburn, Ind., Jan. 18.—More room for housing Auburn's high school was recommended by J. P. Pearcy, of Indianapolis, state high school inspector when he inspected the Auburn high school. He said that it was difficult for him to understand how so large a high school as that at Auburn can be taken care of in the limited space afforded.

BLUFFTON WOMAN SUES.

Bluffton, Ind., Jan. 18.—Mrs. Stella Kumpf has filed suit asking a divorce from Fred C. Kumpf, the custody of two small children, restoration of her former name of Stella Williams, and an allowance of $10 per month for the support of the children.

NIGHT OFFICER FOR BLUFFTON.

Bluffton, Ind., Jan. 18.—The city council has appointed Ed Wingfield as a night policeman, to patrol the west part of the city. The city will pay part of his salary and west side business men the balance.

SPENCERVILLE NEWS.

Spencerville, Ind., Jan. 18.—The Farmers and Merchants State bank of this place has purchased the vacant lot of Roll Bowser, formerly occupied by the Bowser hardware store, which burned down December 16, 1911, as this lot was decided upon by the bank directors at their last meeting as the best location in town on which to erect the new bank building, the same to be built in the spring as soon as the weather will permit.

The Cosy Corner club of this place held a business meeting at the home of Mrs. John Beams on South Main street Friday afternoon and elected the following officers: President, Mrs. Anna Henderson; vice president, Mrs. Lizzie Weasley; secretary and treasurer, Miss LeAnna Wearley; inspectors, Mrs. Rebecca Benninghoff, Mrs. Simon Maurer and Miss Armita Steward. They also took in two new members, making a total of forty-one members. A dainty two-course lunch was served by the hostesses, Mrs. John Beams and Mrs. Robert Beams. There were twenty-seven members and six visitors present.

The Ladies' guild held a business meeting at the home of Mrs. John Benninghoff Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Jane Faust died Thursday at her home south of here, death being due to paralysis.

Otis Goeltzenleuchter and wife and Mrs. Anna Boger moved to Auburn Monday. They have bought property at that place and expect to make their future home there.

Mrs. Libbie Hilgeman returned to her home at Fort Wayne after spending a week with her parents, Rev. and Mrs. Erick.

NEW SONG COMING SOON.

"The Bride and the Rosebud" by Miss Henderson to Be Issued.

Miss Henderson, of New Haven, author of a number of songs and poems which have found popular favor, has still another song which is soon to come from the press. It is entitled "The Bride and the Rosebud," and the chorus is as follows:

When the wedding day had ended,
And Night's shadows hid the scene
In her eye a teardrop glistened
With a smile of joy serene,
To her lips she gently pressed me,
Sealed her earthly vow above;
As in accents low she murmured
"I will never cease to love."

SAGE TEA TURNS GRAY HAIR DARK

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Bring Back Color and Lustre to Hair.

That beautiful, even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray, streaked and looks dry, wispy and straggy, just an appliation or two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't bother to prepare the tonic; you can get from any drug store a 50 cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," ready to use. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color, thickness and lustre of your hair and remove dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair.

Everybody uses "Wyeth's" Sage and Sulphur because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy, lustrous and abundant.—Adv

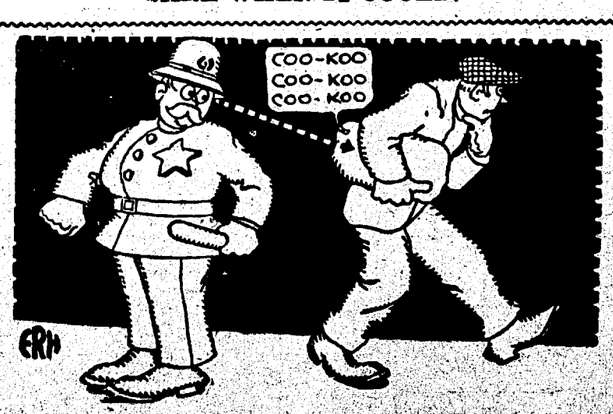
CUTE LITTLE COO-COO" CLOCK DID NOT CARE WHEN IT COOED.



Chicago, Jan. 18.—A coo-coo clock is all right in its place, but its place is not the inside pocket of a chap who sidesteps every time he sees brass buttons and a star.

When Charles Lynch and his good friend, Edward Stewart, armed with a dark lantern and a dinky watch out to collect family alibis the other evening [illegible] ner cop was on, the clock-collectors were off, beating it to the tune of the "coo-coo." But they couldn't keep ahead of time. Now they're doing "time," and they don't need an alarm clock to get them up bellmee in the morning.

J. PIERPONT MORGAN CALLS ON PRESIDENT

Washington, Jan. 18.—J. Pierpont Morgan was on President Wilson's list of callers today. The financier declined to say in advance what matters he would discuss with the president, but declared the principal object of his mission here at this time was in connection with a meeting of the advisory council of the reserve system, of which he is a member.

Problems in connection with the Alaskan railroad with particular reference to the Copper river and Northwestern railroad, which Mr. Morgan has offered to sell to the government for use as a part of the proposed railroad to connect the Alaskan coast with the coal fields, was said to be one of the objects of Mr. Morgan's visit at the white house. He was to discuss the matter with Secretary Lane, also.

For a Deep Seated Cold.

It is in cases of deep seated colds that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is most appreciated. It relieves the lungs and makes breathing easier, liquifies the tough mucus and makes it easier to expectorate, allays the cough and aids nature in throwing off the cold and restoring the system to a healthy condition. Mrs. C. B. Walters, Decatur, Ill., says, "Fifteen years ago Chamberlain's Cough Remedy cured me of a deep seated cold on the lungs and rid me of an aggravating cough. I have since used it with equally good results in my family and always recommend it." For sale by all dealers.—Adv.

THE SENTINEL'S LIVE SPORTS CRISP RELIABLE

When St. Paul attacks the Ottwa Germans at St. Paul's auditorium on Tuesday night of this week the contest will be the opening number of a schedule for a week that promises some good sport as all of the clubs are in good condition and ready to play at top speed until the close of the regular season.

In the Ottawa Germans St. Paul has on its hands a team that won from St. Mary's Athletic club in a New Year matinee and that indicated in the course of the proceeding that it is entitled to matches with the first string clubs of Fort Wayne.

The locals know this and on Sunday afternoon several hard drills were put on in preparation for the tilt. Franke, who has been out all season with a lame knee, may be in part of the game, just to see how the injured member is coming along.

On Wednesday night the Lyceum five, which sprung into prominence by trimming Corby hall in its first game, and repeated Saturday night in the encounter with the Winona aggies, will play the Active Turners at Lyceum hall and the second of a three-game contest will be played at the Turner gym on Jan. 29 and the place of play for the third will be decided later provided the series is not cleaned up in the first two.

The score in the Lyceum-Winona game of Saturday night was 33 to 27 and the local club showed good form in the engagement. In the preliminary to this affair the Aeolians, also part of St. Patrick's basketball contingent, won over the Bachelors 25 to 16.

The third game of the week will be on Saturday night when Concordia will play against the Bluffton (O.) college team, and in future the students will probably play only outside teams as the faculty disapproves of city series clashes.

Arrangements for games between other city league teams have been completed and among them is a series between St. Paul and the Lyceum, the first of which will be played at St. Paul's auditorium on Feb. 2. The second game is booked for the Lyceum on Feb. 14 and the third will be arranged later if it is necessary to play it.

St. Paul and St. Mary's clubs will get together Feb. 18 and again on March 11. These games promise some most interesting basketball for the next six weeks. St. Mary's team has no game scheduled this week and the players will rest up.

The Junior League.

In the Junior basketball league the Nationals and Precious Blood Maroons are tied for first honors with two games and no defeats. The T. O. P., Rexall, Olympics and Aeolians have won and lost a game each and the Bachelors and Wayne Knits have lost both encounters in which they engaged.

The schedule for the week includes a game between the Rexalls and Maroons, Wayne Knits and T. O. P.'s., Bachelors and Nationals and Aeolians and Olympics. Tonight at 8 o'clock at St. Paul's hall the regular weekly meeting of the league will be held.

PARENTS GAVE THESE BOYS A ROTTEN DEAL IN PICKING NAMES.

The citron brothers, Orange and Lemon Kegg, are the latest bidders for fistic fame.

Yes, the names are correct. The boys were named Orange and Lemon by their father, now a resident of Johnstown, Pa. Orange and Lemon have been a great "ade" to each other in the fighting mame by working out together.

Lemon Kegg, whose nom de box is now Roger O'Malley, is the brightst star of this featherweight pair. He has boxed from coast to coast and is just now basking in the limelight. He has 24 knockouts in 46 battles.

Orange Kegg has not enjoyed the wide experience of Lemon, but recently boxed a fast draw with Patsy Brannigan.

BOXERS TRAIN AND WAIT ON THE BILL

(By Hugh S. Fullerton.)

Fightless Chicago suddenly has become the Mecca of the pugilists. The city, for years, merely a tank stop for fighters en route to or from the coast and New York or Philadelphia, this winter is the training place of the majority of the leading pugilists of the country and their activities have stirred the fans and improved the chances of passage of a boxing bill.

There are three boxing bills ready for presentation in the legislature at Springfield, two of which are "square" and meant for the good of the game; the third evidently intended to be for the benefit of certain promoters in Chicago.

For the first time the big athletic clubs of Chicago are behind the bills—the square ones—and there is a liberal support of the down state legislators that promises the passage of some kind of a bill permitting boxing in Illinois. All the bills provide for boxing commissions, limited round bouts and two of them provide for a decision.

The sudden influx of fighters after the game was killed in California gave boxing a huge boost in Chicago. Three gymnasiums in the downtown district have been crowded every afternoon by fans watching the boxers work.

Jimmy Clabby and Mike Gibbons, who are to meet and practically settle the question of middleweight supremacy at Milwaukee Jan. 21, have been working in Chicago. Charlie White, who will tackle Freddie Welsh in New York Jan. 26, is boxing every day at a faster clip than he has ever known. Eddie McGoorty has been working daily, both before and after his fierce battle with Billy Murray. Murray, beaten but still confident, is preparing to tackle McGoorty again.

Among the "comers" working in Chicago is Joe Welling, who now threatens to blossom out into another champion for Larry Lichtenstein, Clabby's manager. Willie Schaefer, Johnny Ertle, Goats Doig, Jack White, who is Charlie's brother, Ruby Hirsch and a swarm of lesser lights are working at the gymnasiums.

The "big" event is the Clabby-Gibbons fight, which ought to be the best middleweight scrap in years. Clabby certainly is good just now, and speedier than ever before. The St. Paul phantom is in for a tough battle, and it ought to be the fastest ever fought.

Clabby has improved wonderfully in the past two years. While watching Gibbons a month ago it did not seem that any middleweight had a chance against his speed and generalship, but after seeing Clabby in action throws one out of form on guessing. Clabby is fast and full of tricks that will keep the wise head of the St. Paul star working to outgeneral him.

HULSWITT SEEKS A BERTH AS MANAGER

Dayton, O., Jan. 18.—Rudy Hulswitt, former major league player, would like to have the job of mangaing the Vets next season. Hulswitt last year piloted the Jersey City club of the International league and was declared a free agent at the end of the campaign. Hulswitt, although somewhat of a veteran, is still able to play a first class article of ball at second base, and he can hit. It is doubtful, however, if he could come to any agreement, as he would likely ask for more money than could possibly be paid him under the circumstances.

It will probably be several weeks at least before President Elmer Redelle comes to any definite decision in regard to naming Johnny Nee's successor for the coming season. He has several men in view, any one of whom he believes would make the Vets a competent manager, but he is taking his time in making the selection. There should be no great amount of surprise expressed if the next leader of the Vets would come from the ranks of the 1914 team. Two Vet players at least stand an excellent show of landing the plum, 'tis said. Their names are withheld for the present but just for the sake of speculation it might be mentioned that both are pitchers.

President Redelle has begun to lay his wires for the coming season and the job of getting ball players under contract and digging up new talent will keep him busy until the time arrives for the man, yet to be named as manager, calls the squad together for spring practice at Highland park.

During the past week President Redelle landed two athletes who, it is thought, will do much toward making another winner out of the Vets in the coming campaign. One is a catcher named Glocksom, who comes to the Vets via the purchase route from the Cincinnati club.

In 1914 Glocksom played with the Newport News team of the Virginia State league, where his work was so far above the average that the Reds' scouts who saw him perform recommended the youngster to Garry Herrmann, with the result that he was purchased by the Queen City club.

Glocksom joined the Reds late in the season and made the last eastern trip with the Reds. He showed much promise but Manager Herzog decided he was a little shy on experience as yet, so he was passed on to the Vets for further seasoning.

Glocksom is just a youngster, being but 22 years of age, and hit .301 last year. He is six feet tall and bats right-handed.

The other recruit picked up by President Redelle is Buster Povey, an outfielder, who played with the Edmonton club of the Western Canada league in 1914. According to Redelle, this youngster ought to deliver the goods in every department. He is said to cover a world of ground in the outfield, a fast man in getting to first and a splendid base runner. He is 23 years of age, weighs 175 pounds, bats left-handed and throws right-handed. His batting mark for 1914 was .325.

The signing of Catcher Glocksom makes it evident that the Vets will have an entirely new catching staff next season. With the sale of Gharrity last year the only veteran backstop left is Frank Armstrong. "Army" looked like a "find" when he first joined the Vets, but for the last two seasons his work behind the bat has been decidedly off color, to say the least. He slowed up in all departments to such an extent as to make him of little value to the team. Although still a young man, and equipped with a long pair of underpins which should take him over the ground in a hurry, "Army" is woefully weak in going to first. Time and again he was thrown out last season on smart raps that would have gone as hits for most anybody else on the club. Then, again, he moves in the same manner back of the plate, and his slowness in getting the ball away resulted in not a few stolen bases for the opposition. He has a good arm, but his delay in getting set for the throw robs it of its effectiveness. There is little doubt that Armstrong will be sent elsewhere, for he seems to have outlived his usefulness here.

(By Charles Cutler, World's Champion Wrestler).

Do you think that a person of small stature can wish himself into a physical giant by exercising? Neither that a large man can reduce himself to a midget? That is not the idea. Nature controls us, so we must make the best of what nature has given us. A small machine, kept properly oiled and in good condition, will accomplish more work than a large one that is poorly kept.

If a person is to attain something near perfect physical development he must possess ideals of physical development. Had we no such ideals in this late age, we would degenerate and, instead of having an upright body and independent carriage, would find ourselves working on four legs.

CHARLES CUTLER SHOWING THE ROTARY MOTION WITH THE WAND THAT THE JAPANESE FIND SO GOOD FOR DISCOVERING AND DEVELOPING WEAK SPOTS.

Let us take invoice of our physical stores. Look for the weak and undeveloped spots in our bodies and go about it systematically to build them up. I will explain a simple exercise that will eradicate numerous weak spots.

The Japanese have a method of developing that is exceptionally good. They start with a series of exercises that will build up the tissues about the vital organs—merely a rotary motion of the body.

Take a pole or stick about six feet in length and hold it as shown in this picture. Throw the body forward, sideways, backward, etc., in a rotary movement, inhaling while going back and exhaling when going forward.

At the start do this ten times a day and gradually work up to thirty times daily after a week or so.

Continue this system as long as you feel like exercising, as it will do wonders toward keeping you in condition, developing the abdomen and creating a general building up of the tissues supporting the vital organs.

SMALL BOYS ARMED PULL HOLD-UP GAME

Two 9-Year-Old Youngsters Say They Were Frisked on the Street.

Joseph Curtis and Robert Firestine, two 11-year-old lads, reported to the police Sunday evening that they had been held up and searched by three lads aged about 17, 11 and 9 years, respectively, who stopped them in a dark place on Lafayette street, between Jefferson and Washington streets, displayed a gun and made them stand while their pockets were rifled. The Curtis and Firestine boys said they had nothing worth taking and suffered from nothing but fright. They gave descriptions of the three stick-up juveniles, but almost any three lads of that age picked up at random on the street might answer to these descriptions. The police are investigating.

SPECIAL SESSION FOR VAG.

Ray Patterson, Rough Neck, Who Did Not Care, Comes Right Back.

Ray Patterson had not been released more than thirty minutes after an investigate continuance on a vagrancy charge when he was carted back to the police court, arraigned again in a special session of court and fined $50 and costs on a new charge. Patterson is a young man of the rough neck type and his actions and talk when he was first tried were impudent, defiant and insolent. He became docile when answering questions, and was turned loose only because he did not want to go to jail. He did not lose much of his opportunity to get town for a week. Judge Kerr and Prosecutor Callahan will make a special effort to have the county commissioners put him at hard work. Patterson's second arrest tamed him much and he was quite docile.

Ralph Watts, a peripatetic restaurant cook, was fined $5 and costs and given ten days in jail on a charge of petit larceny. He stole a suitcase New Year's day from R. Smith, another cook, put up the property as security for a loan and went to Decatur, where he went to work in a hotel. He came up from Decatur Saturday night for recreation in a town that is not dry and Detectives Immel and Rundell, who had long been looking for him, found him drinking in a saloon and put him under arrest. Watts says his home formerly was in Auburn.

Phil H. Weber and Charles McCall were turned loose after a hearing on a charge of disorderly conduct. They were arrested at their home, 2120 John street, Saturday night, following a family quarrel in which Weber, who is McCall's uncle, was badly beaten. Neither showed much resentment toward the other in the city court.

POLITICAL STRIFE BITTER.

Mrs. Marcella Holsinger, 3621 Reed street, made complaint to Patrolman Heller that boys in the neighborhood provoke her own son and stir up trouble by calling him "Hosey," a term which the Holsinger lad, being of good republican antecedents, loyally resents. The aggressors, who are represented to be democratic boys, also apply unkind epithets to Mrs. Holsinger and her daughter. Officer Heller has warned parents of the offending boys.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Mirick, 443 Buchanan street, are the proud parents of a seven pound boy, born

THE PENETRATING POWER OF GIGANTIC NAVAL GUNS.

The power of the big guns!

That's what the naval experts of the whole world are watching. What can the modern battleship do?

Since the great sea victories of Dewey and Schley and Admiral Togo the world has seen nothing of the actual destructive power of gigantic battleships. The craft of the Spanish-American war were as pygmies compared to the [illegible] of the present day. [illegible] engaged in real conflict yet. Cruiser and torpedo fleets have furnished the naval history so far. The use of the light craft as "bait" has followed out all naval theories advanced by maritime experts before this war began.

But the great guns of the floating fortresses—the 13.5 and 14-inch [illegible]

Taking the 12-inch guns as an example—they will hurl a projectile 16 miles—one British writer describes how two rival battleships would act on meeting in the open sea. After sighting each other the pair would approach cautiously until about five miles apart. At this distance the fight probably would begin, each ship training its own guns—by the use of range finders—at the mere outline of the other ship. Even the greatest marksmanship that has been shown hardly makes it possible to aim and strike a vital spot at this distance.

During the long range bombardment the ships soon find themselves closer together, and when hardly more than 3,000 yards apart the real battle starts.

The gunners first attempt to destroy the enemy's conning towers and barbettes and then turn their attention to the base of the funnels and masts, extremely vital spots. Shots at the water line follow.

By this time the boats are so close that the launching of torpedoes is practicable and sooner or later one of the ships must go down if the action is continued.

In fleet actions, it is agreed even though the commanders do as Dewey did—center the entire fleet fire on one ship until it sinks—even the victors must suffer loss of ships. Guns, it seems, are always developed a little more powerful than armor to withstand them.

An ordinary torpedo is about 20 inches long and 18 inches in diameter. It contains 200 pounds of gun cotton and will travel pretty straight up to 3,000 yards. They cost about $3,500 apiece.

The big guns aboard ship can be fired two times every minute, and the enemy must be vanquished quickly, as even the largest craft cannot carry more than 80 to 100 rounds for each gun.

The cheaper and swifter cruisers and torpedo destroyers handle the patrol and scout work. The destroyers alone are powerful enough to obliterate commerce, their four-inch guns being capable of sinking a merchantman without trouble.

In turn, the destroyers are the prey of the light cruisers of the enemy, which, with eight-inch guns, can blow them out of the water. The cruiser battleships are crafts carrying some of the large guns and capable of taking their part in a fleet action, because of the heavy armor with which they are equipped.

So far the European war at sea has been a battle of the "mosquito fleets," the largest ships recorded in action being the light cruisers.

FRANK APPEAL ON DOCKET.

Habeas Corpus Petition Has Reached Supreme Court.

Washington, Jan. 18.—The habeas corpus appeal of Leo M. Frank, convicted of the murder of Mary Phagan, an Atlanta, Ga., factory girl, was docketed today in the supreme court. The state of Georgia may now at any time move to have it advanced for early hearing. Without such action it will not be reached in the regular course of business for nearly 18 months.

SHOP AND RAIL ROAD NEWS

James E. Quinn, who resides with his daughter, Mrs. John Doise, of 1535 Andrew street, suffered a stroke of paralysis yesterday and will be unable to get around among his friends for several days. The attack, it is said, is not of a serious character and it is hoped will soon pass away. Mr. Quinn is a blacksmith. For over a third of a centeury he was employed in that capacity in the Pennsylvania shops, passing to the pension list about two years ago, when he reached the age of seventy. He is known by every shopman in the down town shops and by many of the other employes.

NEW RAILROAD BRIDGE.

Cumberland Valley Will Soon Start on $700,000 Structure.

The Cumberland Valley railroad, a part of the Pennsylvania system, will, within a short time, start work on a modern arch bridge to replace its present steel deck truss bridge over the Susquehanna river at Harrisburg, Pa. The new bridge will cost approximately $700,000. This will be the first construction work of any magnitude to be undertaken by any of the lines of the Pennsylvania system for more than a year. The bridge over the Susquehanna river at Harrisburg, which the Cumberland Valley railroad is now using, is a single track structure of 25 spans, supported by stone piers. The proposed bridge will have 46 spans and will carry two tracks. The present piers will be utilized and a number of additional ones built. The bridge will be 4,000 feet long—the same length as the Pennsylvania railroad's now famous stone bridge over the Susquehanna river at Rockville, Pa., just above Harrisburg.

WILL GIVE ANNUAL DANCE.

Nickel Plate Auxiliary No. 518 Preparing for Big Event.

The date has been set and preliminary arrangements are now under way for the third annual dance and card party of Nickel Plate division No. 513, Grand International Auxiliary to the B. L. E. The event will be held February 12 at Shriners' hall and the ladies will endeavor to make it a greater social event than were the two preceding dances, which is a big undertaking, for they were among the most prominent of the social events of the seasons in which they were given.

ALBERT REINKING FUNERAL.

Many Wabash Shopmen From Decatur Here to Attend.

Nearly 100 employes of the Wabash shops at Decatur and Springfield attended the funeral of Albert Reinking, the boilermaker, who died in Decatur last Thursday. The funeral was held at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon from the home of the Misses Louis and Amelia Reinking, sisters of the deceased, and the pall bearers were Herman Ehlert, William F. Furrow, Bert Hunt, William Cour and Leo Singer, of Decatur, and Henry Hall, of Springfield. The greater portion of the Decatur and Springfield men who came to the funeral were brought in on No. 2 this morning, the company furnishing two coaches for their accommodation. General Foreman Henry Eisele, Boiler Foreman Charles Dean and Firebox Foreman Dixon, of Decatur, were among the men at the funeral. Mr. Eisele, who was accompanied by his wife, came up Saturday night and spent Sunday with relatives and friends. Many of the local shop employes of the Wabash also attended the funeral.

"HISTORY OF ADVERTISING."

Bert Griswold to Lecture to the Compositors' Club.

The Compositors' Efficiency club will hold a meeting in the art room of the old High school building, on East Wayne street, Tuesday evening, when B. J. Griswold will deliver a lecture on "History of Advertising in Fort Wayne." This is a subject particularly interesting to printers and people connected with the printing business and there will be a big audience to hear the lecture. Other speakers booked for the season by the Compositors include Clifford Wearley, Kemp Baker, Claude Davies, John Winding and Harry Wilding.

BORROWING ENGINES.

Business Takes a Boom on the G. R. & I. Road.

To handle the rapidly increasing business on the Northern division of the road, the G. R. & I. is borrowing some engines. Two of the Pennsylvania freight engines, Nos. 7418 and 7732, left today for Grand Rapids to go into service on the Northern division.

CO-OPERATIVE STORE MEETING.

The meeting announced for the preliminary arrangements for a co-operative store in Fort Wayne under the control of the union laboring men of the city will be held at the assembly room in the court house tonight. P. R. Bell, who will preside as chairman of the meeting, announces that E. S. Phillips, general manager of the Indianapolis Co-Operative store, will address the meeting, explaining the proposition as planned at the Labor Forward meeting at Indianapolis some time ago and tell of the experience of the store over which he has charge. The proposition involves the contribution of every member of organized labor of $1 to start the project and to have this money apply on stock subscribed for by the members afterwards. The Indianapolis Co-Operative store company has 12,000 stockholders.

FEUCHTER LEADS MEAT CUTTERS.

At the meeting of Meat Cutters and Butchers' Workmen, No. 423, last Thursday night, two names were added to the membership roll, plans for a campaign against the meat markets that have not yet been organized and other business, including the election of officers, transacted, which went to make it one of the best meetings of the winter. The election resulted as follows: George Fuechter, president; Christian Kessen, vice president; W. Felger, recording secretary; Oscar Huber, financial secretary; W. A. Turnbull, guide; William Timmons, guard; Porter DeWitt, sergeant at arms; C. H. Clark, Emil Poinsett and W. H. Spuhler, trustees.

TO TALK TO ELECTRICAL ENGINEERS.

The announced lecture at the Commercial club next Thursday evening of E. S. Myers, electrical engineer of the Fort Wayne and Northern Indiana Traction company, is attracting a good deal of attention in engineering circles and will draw a good crowd to the club room on that occasion. Mr. Myers will talk about "The Indiana Utilities Commission anrd Its Effect on the Central Station." The lecture is one of the series to be given under the auspices of the Fort Wayne section of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers and J. J. A. Snook, of the Fort Wayne Electric works, who is the secretary, is mailing notices to the members.

ELECTRICAL WORKERS' NEW ROSTER.

The Electrical Workers' union, No. 305, which now occupies a prominent place in the ranks or organized labor, held its annual election of officers last week and will install them at the next meeting. The officers are Orville Allen, president; Lee Norford, vice president; Lewis Smith, recording secretary; Martin Wiedman, financial secretary; Henry Miller, treasurer; A. Myers, foreman; Nathaniel Bendure, inspector; R. V. Swihart, press agent; N. Bendure and C. Grodrian, trustees.

RUN DOWN BY AUTO.

Fred Wolf, material man at the Pennsylvania round house, will not be on duty for several days, Saturday, while en route home from his work, he was run down by an automobile and sustained some bruises on his hips and internal injuries. His condition is not serious.

FELL ASLEEP WHILE FISHING.

Because of the loss of sleep and fatigue attending a trip to Rome City to fish through the ice Saturday night, W. Mizer, of the [illegible] thoughts, his pole was pulled out of his hands and disappeared under the ice. Mr. Mizer was accompanied to the lake by J. F. Randil, also of the planing mills, and they caught a nice string of fish.

ATTENDING INCREASE FARE MEETINGS.

District Passenger Agent Frank P. Parnin, of the Nickel Plate, returned Saturday from Columbus, Ohio, where he attended a meeting of railway men and business men in the interest of the movement to increase the fare on steam roads. Mr. Parnin will attend a similar meeting at Indiana Harbor tomorrow, which will be attended also by J. S. Hall, general passenger agent of the L. E. & W. The latter was here to address a similar meeting two weeks ago.

MOTHER DIED SUDDENLY.

A. L. Hadley, chief engineer at the Fort Wayne Electric works, left hurriedly Saturday night for Templeton, Mass., where his mother died suddenly. Mr. Hadley had no previous information that his mother was sick and the news of her death was a most shocking surprise. The deceased visited Fort Wayne several times and was known to a number of the residents, who will be pained to hear of her death.

COMPLETES COMMITTEE LIST.

Joseph D. Shaw, president of the Fort Wayne Federation of Labor, announces the following appointments, which complete his organization for the year of the list of officers and committees of the federation. The last appointments were: Clarence Kroener, machinists', arbitration; Clayton H. Johnson, machinists', organization and legislation; W. C. Bowman, machinists', safety and sanitation; William McCarthy, vocational education.

CARPENTERS TO LYON MEETINGS.

The Carpenters' union has accepted Dr. Lyon's invitation to attend a meeting at the tabernacle and will march there in a body Thursday night. The carpenters are requested to meet at their hall as early as possible. These workmen donated several days' work in the erection of the tabernacle and are greatly interested in the meetings held therein.

GONE EAST ON BUSINESS.

J. H. Bass, Dr. G. M. Leslie and William C. Slater left last evening for New York on business for the Bass Foundry and Machine works. They will return home Wednesday.

SENDING EXHIBITS TO EXPOSITION

The Fort Wayne manufacturers who will have exhibits at the Panama-Pacific exposition are preparing to send the exhibits to San Francisco. The Diester Concentrator company forwarded its exhibit last week and the Bowsers, the Wayne Oil Tank and the Western Gas Construction companies will send their exhibits within the next two or three weeks.

BRAKEMAN INJURED.

E. C. Boggs, a brakeman on the Fort Wayne-Lima local on the Pennsylvania, sustained an injury to one of his ankles Saturday when he jumped from a box car to a gondola on his train as it was passing through Delphos. He is at his home, 210 West Jefferson street.

DRESS WARN AND KEEP FEET DRY

Rheumatism is no respecter of age, sex, color or rank. If not the most dangerous of human afflictions it is one of the most painful. Those subject to rheumatism should eat less meat, dress as warmly as possible, avoid any undue exposure and, above all, drink lots of pure water.

Rheumatism is caused by uric acid which is generated in the bowels and absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this acid from the blood and cast it out in the urine; the pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly, cold weather the skin pores are closed thus forcing the kidneys to do double work, they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate this uric acid which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles causing stiffness, soreness and pain called rheumatism.

At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is said to eliminate uric acid by stimulating the kidneys to normal action, thus ridding the blood of these impurities.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism. Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink which overcomes uric acid and is beneficial to your kidneys as well.

GRANDPA'S SMILE TODAY.

SAYRE BABY MODEL INFANT FIRST NIGHT

of callers at the executive offices later than usual today because of his desire to stay as long as possible with his small grandson, the child of Mr. and Mrs. Francis B. Sayre, who was born at the white house yesterday.

If the Sayre baby follows the precedent he set during his first night he will be a model infant. He gave his attendants little trouble. A large heap of rattles sent by members of the Wilson and Sayre families and close friends were ready for the baby as soon as he should show interest in them. Several baby baskets had also been sent to the white house but the one used was prepared by Mrs. Sayre herself.

Mr. Sayre, who arrived last night after the birth of his son view with the president today in displaying pride over the new addition to the white house family.

Lungs in Working Order.

The boy weighed seven and a half pounds. He announced his arrival by a series of cries which gave assurance that his lungs were in excellent condition. President Wilson made no effor to conceal his joy when informed that the child was a boy, and that Mrs. Sayre was well. His face was wreathed in smiles for hours afterward.

Mr. and Mrs. Sayre were married at the white house, November 25, 1913. After a honeymoon to Europe they went to Williamstown to make their home. Mrs. Sayre has been visiting the white house since Christmas.

Ten other children—six girls and four boys—have been born in the white house, most of them being the grandsons or grand daughters of presidents. The first child having the honor of being born in the historic mansion was James Madison Randolph, the son of Martha Jefferson Randolph, the daughter of President Jefferson. The baby came during a visit of Mrs. Randolph to the white house in the winter of 1805-1806.

Esther Cleveland, the daughter of President and Mrs. Cleveland was the only child of a president ever born in the white house.

TWENTY-ONE WILL FACE RIOT CHARGE

Arrests Follow Demonstration by Unemployed at Chicago.

Chicago, Jan. 18.—Twenty-one persons, six of whom are women arrested yesterday in the streets in front of Hull House a social settlement were to appear in court today to answer charges of inciting a riot. Mrs. Lucy Parsons, widow of the anarchist hanged for murder after the Haymarket riots several years ago, was among those arrested. She did not spend the night in jail, however, as social workers obtained her release on bail.

Seven others also were released on bail. Irwin Tucker, who said he was a preacher and editor of a paper was among the thirteen compelled to spend the night in a police station. The riot was the result of an attempt of about 1500 unemployed men and women to parade. Some of the marchers carried black banners on which in large white letters was the word "Hunger." On other banners were: "We don't want charity. We want jobs" and "give us this day our daily bread."

Police demanded that the marchers halt as no permits had been issued for them to parade. The marchers, according to the police began to push the banner bearers forward. Fighting started instantly. Police with revolvers and clubs drawn rushed the crowd, felling all with in their reach. Women marchers grabbed the policemen by the legs and threw them on the street, biting and scratching at their faces with fingernails. A number of shots were fired by the police in their attempt to drive back the crowd.

The police fought their way into the crowd, arrested twenty-one and with difficulty locked them up in police stations after squads of reserves had come to their assistance.

PLAN TO ENLARGE NATIONAL GUARD

Plans for enlarging and bettering the Indiana national guard was outlined in an address delivered Sunday afternoon by Adjutant General Franklin L. Bridges at the meeting of the Northern Indiana Military institute in the armory of Company D, in the Flick building on West Berry street.

Short addresses were delivered by Inspector General Leslie R. Naftzger, who is also first deputy attorney general; Guy Shaughness, of the Third infantry, and Carl F. Beyer, captain of the Third infantry. Major Clyde Dreisbach presided.

Captain Beyer declared that a military company in a city is a commercial asset to a town. General Bridges declared that a movement had been on foot for some time to interest commercial clubs and civic bodies over the state to take more interest in the national guard.

There was a large attendance at the meeting and much interest was manifested. At the close of the meeting a buffet luncheon was served.

HAIR COMING OUT?

Dandruff causes a feverish irritation of the scalp, the hair roots shrink, loosen and then the hair comes out fast. ENTERS CHURCH TO SLAY SWEETHEART

Peoria, Ill., Jan. 18.—A panic was caused during services in the Church of God last night, when Frederick C. Erdman shot and probably fatally wounded Miss Hattie Ganuwitz, his former sweetheart, and then killed himself.

Erdman met the young woman while on her way to church and asked her to take him back, but she refused. She entered the church, taking a seat near the front. Erdman waited until the service started then opened a side door, directly behind Miss Ganuwitz and opened fire, shooting his victim in the back. The woman fell to the floor while the audience made a rush for the front door. Several persons are in a serious condition from being trampled on.

Erdman, after the shooting, made his way on a freight train to his home in the south end of the city, nearly four miles distant. He told his relatives of his deed, went to his room, took poison and then shot himself. He died shortly after the police arrived.

MAKING FIRST MOVE TO BRING THAW BACK

New York, Jan. 18.—The first move to bring Harry K. Thaw back to this state on extradition papers as directed by the United States supreme court, will be taken tomorrow when William Travers Jerome will apply to the court for a certified copy of the decision directing that Thaw be delivered to the New York authorities by New Hampshire.

Immediately after receiving the orders, according to announcement today, Mr. Jerome and Sheriff Hornbeck, of Dutchess county, will go to Manchester to take Thaw into custody. The time limit of thirty days allowed by the supreme court for carrying out its order for the return of Thaw to New York state expires tomorrow and unless legal obstacles are placed in their way by Thaw's attorneys, it is expected that Mr. Jerome and Sheriff Hornbeck will bring Thaw back to New York some time this week.

WAS SOUND OF BLASTING,

Reported Firing at Sea Off Havana Found to Be Untrue.

Havana, Jan. 18.—The reports that cannon firing heard at sea last night off the coast near Havana were promptly investigated and found to be untrue. It seems that some blasting work was being done along the shore and that these sounds were taken for artillery. A British cruiser belived to be the Bristol is patrolling about five miles off the coast outside of Havana, having relieved another vessel thought to have been the cruiser Berwick.

ELECT OFFICERS.

Croaker Club, of the Lincoln Highway, Hold Meeting.

EXCUSES.

Luke 14:18—And they all with one consent began to make excuses.

It is one of the strangest facts that anyone would, for a moment, reject God's great invitation to become a citizen of his Kingdom, and to sit at the banquet feast of everlasting life. Jesus had entered into the home of one of the chief Pharisees, and as he was sitting at supper, one of the invited guests, who seemed especially to enter into the spirit of the occasion, exclaimed, "Blessed is he that shall eat bread in the Kingdom of God." Our Lord saw still another opportunity of teaching a great spiritual lesson, by likening this earthly banquet to the great feast of salvation, and so he said a certain man made a great super and bade many.

It is indeed a great banquet to which God invites you and me. First of all, on account of the greatness of our host. Whatever God does, he never does by halves. If you were to be invited by one of America's richest men to come to his mansion for a feast, you would naturally expect that this supper would be in keeping with the wealth and social standing of your host. You would make extra efforts and preparation to be present. You would consider it one of the events of your life. When the infinite, omnipotent God, who created the universe, and holds the planets in the hollow of his hand, invites you to the banquet of eternal salvation, you may be sure it is something that is worth your while.

This is a great banquet also on account of the greatness of the preparation. It must have taken the angels and archangels, Cherubim and Seraphim, with the Father, Son and Holy Spirit to have planned a salvation so complete and comprehensive. It must have taken all the wisdom and wealth of eternity, to prepare the glories of Heaven so that Jesus might be enabled to say, "Come, for all things are now ready."

This is a great salvation to which we are invited, also on account of the greatness of the companionship. I was invited some time ago to a banquet in a great city, and the important thing about that feast to me was not the number of courses, or the richness of the food, or the elegance of the cut glass and silver. It was the privilege of sitting down for two or three hours with many of America's greatest men. So the glorious thing in heaven will not be the golden streets or the pearly gates, but the companionship of the good and great of all generations. Abraham will be there, the man of faith; Isaac, the gentleman; Jacob, the storm tossed, tried, tempted man. Moses will be there, the leader and the law giver. An infidel, for $1,000.00 a night, used to go about this country lecturing on the mistakes of Moses. I would like to hear Moses lecturing upon the mistakes of some folks I know. Joshua, the general, will be there. Elijah, the prophet, and David, Isreal's psalmist and king. I want to hear Peter preach as he did on the day of Pentecost, and Paul as he did on Mar's hill. Ruth and Esther will be there and the Bethany sisters, Mary and Martha, and Mary, the Mother of Christ. I want to see Savonarola, that great reformer of Florence, and Luther and Wm. E. Gladstone and Frances Willard. And many of us have loved ones over in heaven that we are anxious to see. But above all I want to see Jesus. Glorious will be the privilege of his companionship throughout the ages.

Is it not strange that any one would hesitate for a moment accepting an invitation to share this eternal inheritance? Yet Jesus said they would begin to make excuse. There is a great difference between an excuse and a reason. A reason is a just cause for doing a thing, but an excuse is something that we give when we have no reason, or when we do not want the real reason to appear. In fact all excuses are hum-bugs—they are lies.

Have you never smiled at the foolish excuses given by those of whom Jesus spoke for rejecting the invitation to that banquet feast? One of them said, "I have bought a piece of ground and must needs go and see it." What would you think of a business man in this community who would purchase a farm without looking at it? And that second man was like unto the first. He cared more to see ten head of steers than he did for the feelings of his best friends. He did not have any interest in these oxen before. He bought them to find whether they were large or small, fat or lean, but now when the bargain has been made and the money paid, and he received the greatest invitation of his life, he becomes very much excited over trying out those oxen. And I have always thought that the third man was the most foolish of all. If there is any one that is stuck up, it is the one who has just gotten married. I can see him strutting around like a peacock, as he says, "I have married a wife and therefore I cannot come." Why didn't the foolish fellow bring his wife with him? She would have enjoyed that feast as well as he would. How could have they better spent their wedding evening? You smile at these excuses, but are not the excuses which people are giving today for rejecting Jesus Christ just as flimsy and foolish as these of whom Jesus spoke?

One says, "I will not become a Christian because there are many things in the bible I cannot understand." Well what if there are, there are plenty of things you can understand. Believe your beliefs, but doubt your doubts. You can understand enough about the bible to know that you are a sinner. You would know that, even if there were no bible. You know enough of the Bible to learn that you can be saved. God will always give you a little more faith than you put to use. Reading the bible is like eating fish. When you come to a bone you do not throw away the fish, you just lay the bone aside. Just because there are some things in the bible you cannot understand, do not think for a moment they are not true. It is just because your little benighted mind has not been able to comprehend their meaning. Spiritual things are spiritually discerned.

I had heard about the beautiful art windows in the Milan Cathedral. I viewed these windows from the outside of the building, but they had no especial beauty, but I went inside and the sun came out from beneath the clouds, and those windows were resplendent with an indescribable glory. So when you enter the Kingdom of Heaven the word of God will look entirely different to you. Supposing I got a letter from my aged mother. She speaks of family affairs that would have little interest to strangers, but every line has a significance to me. So when you become a child of God, this family letter which the Father has written to his children is filled with new interest.

I have heard of a young lady who was given the present of a book. She glanced over it hastily, but had no especial interest in it, but afterwards this girl fell in love with a young man, as sometimes girls do, and one day she happened to notice that the name of the author of this book was the same as the name of her lover. She made inquiry and found indeed that her lover was the author of the volume. Now the book has a new meaning and interest to her. She reads eagerly every word. Why? Because she has learned to know and love the author. So when you come to know God as your Father and Jesus as your Saviour, the divine word will have a new meaning and interest to you.

I have all sympathy with those who are honest doubters, who are trying to believe the great truths of Christianity, but are yet in the darkness of doubt. But I have no sympathy at all for the man who is trying to hide his sins under the cloak of skepticism. Why is it that many boast that they are agnostics. Why do they not use the Latin word "ignoramus" instead of the Greek word "agnostics," for it means exactly the same thing. I am reminded of a smart young fellow who was making sport of his grandmother for reading the Bible. He says, "Grandmother, do you believe that book?" "Certainly I do my son, because it is true." "Do you believe the miracles?" "Yes, every one." "Well, what do you think about that story of Balaam and the ass? Do you not think it was remarkable for an ass to talk like a man?" She looked at him over her steel-bowed spectacles and replied, "Well, sonny, I do not know that is any more remarkable than for a man to talk like an ass, like you are doing." Sometimes it is best to answer a fool according to his folly.

There are others who try to excuse themselves from accepting Christ because they say there are hypocrites in the church. Well, what if there are? A man came at me with that excuse, and I replied, "Well, there is room for one more, there is room for you." You are never going to improve matters by standing back and criticising. Cures are not applied simply to the outside, but to the inside. If there are those within the church that are living wrong lives, the duty is upon you to live such an upright, earnest Christian life that it will make them ashamed of themselves. Supposing in looking through your pocketbook some day, among your bills you should find a counterfeit. Would you stick the whole pocketbook into the fire, bills and all? You say, "Certainly not; I have more sense than that." The very fact of the counterfeit proves the genuine. What do they counterfeit, anyway? Do they counterfeit brown paper and iron washers? You say, "No; they counterfeit bank bills and gold and silver coin." You know plenty of Christians that are genuine. Model your life after them.

In that little company of Christ's disciples there was one traitor—Judas. Was that anything against the sincerity of James and John and the rest? The church has a right to have one hypocrite in twelve—it will not average worse than that. Supposing a civil war was in progress in this country. This city was besieged by the enemy, and the mayor had made proclamation commanding all able-bodied men to enter the trenches and defend the town. Supposing the man next to you in the line would throw down his gun and desert to the enemy. What would you do? Would you say, "That man has turned a traitor and therefore I will, too?" That would be unreasonable. Rather would you say, "If some other man is going to prove disloyal, that is the more reason why I should do double duty."

Are you hiding behind some hypocrite, then you must be very close to him to hide behind him. Hypocrites will be lost, will they not? "Oh," you say, "there is no doubt of that." Well, if you reject Christ you will be lost, too. Would it not be better for you to spend a little time with some of the hypocrites here than to have to spend all eternity with all of them hereafter?

But I hear another one say, "I am not very bad." No one said you were. You are not condemned for your badness, or received for your goodness. Salvation is not a matter of merely good or bad, or of good or better. It is a question of life or death. The condemnation is for rejecting Jesus Christ.

But another interposes, "I will take my chance." That is unreasonable. Supposing a train were coming down grade sixty miles an hour, and I would go out and lie down on the track with my neck across the rail, you would shout to me, "Get off the track, you will be killed." Supposing I would look up at you and say, "Oh, I will take my chance." There is no chance about it; it is a sure thing. Between salvation and damnation, there is, as it were, a barbed wire fence and you cannot sit on it. You are on the one side or the other.

"But," says another one, "I have no feeling upon this matter." It is not a question of feeling, but of faith. Not once in the Scripture is it said that a man is saved by his feelings, but five hundred times it is said that he is saved by faith. I remember just now of only one man in the Scripture that depended upon his feelings, and that was Isaac. He thought he was feeling of Esau when he was really feeling of Jacob. He was mistaken—he got the wrong man. Feeling is sometimes the result of salvation, but it is never the cause of salvation. You do not feel an organ in the body when it is healthy; it is only when it gets diseased that you feel it. You do not depend upon feelings, merely, in other important matters. Do you working men get up in the morning and go to your work only when you feel like it? If you did, I fear many of you would lose your job. Supposing you were at a hotel and you had to catch a 4:30 train in the morning in mid-winter. Your room is icy cold; the clerk comes and raps on your door and says, "Four o'clock!" Would you get up? "Yes, because I must catch that train. Every dollar I have in the world is at stake." Would you feel like getting up? No.

How unreasonable this excuse is for waiting for feeling. Many say, "When I feel all right I will accept Christ." Supposing a friend of yours was seriously ill with some dangerous disease. You bring him a remedy which is a sure cure for that ailment. You tell him to take it regularly every half hour until the next day and he will be well. Supposing you come the next day and find him worse than he was before. You say to him, "Did you take the medicine?" He says, "No, I didn't feel any better, and therefore I did not take the medicine."

First of all accept Christ as your Savior because it is right to do so, feeling or no feeling. Then when you have done this, go out into Christian work and endeavor to bring someone else to Christ. When God has used your words, your influence, or your example to bring another to salvation, you will have more feeling than you can stand. In other words, feeling comes not so much through salvation, as through service. Waiting for feeling would be a good deal like a man going into the timber with his axe on a cold winter day, and sitting down on a stump and waiting for sweat.

Still another excuses himself for refusing to begin the Christian life by saying, "I am afraid I could not hold out." You do not have to hold out; all you have to do is to hold on—it is Christ that does the holding out. No excuse offered is more unreasonable than this one. Someone says, "I am not going to begin the Christian life until I am sure that I have enough grace to carry me clear through to heaven." But that is not the way that God deals with man. Supposing I should start from Chicago to New York and would step up to the engineer and say to him, "Have you enough steam in your boiler to carry us clear to New York?" He would reply, "No, certainly I have not." "Well, then," I would say, "I am not going to get on the train until I am sure you have enough steam to carry us clear through." "Why," he would reply, "if we would try to get up enough steam in the boiler to carry us to New York it would burst the boiler all to pieces. All we do here in the station is to generate enough steam to start the train and then we create power as we go." That is the way that God does in dealing with the human soul. When He led the children of Israel through the wilderness for forty years, He did not give them enough provisions at the start to keep them the entire time. He gave them manna fresh every day. His promise is, "As thy day is, so shall thy strength be."

Supposing a young man has got a good business and built him a residence, and now is looking around for a wife. He centers his affections upon a certain girl, and at last one evening when he is calling upon her he draws his chair up a little closer and says, "Now, my dear, I love you with my whole heart, and I would like to be your husband, if I thought my love would hold out!" Did you ever know of anyone to act that way? The glory of the Christian life is that it keeps getting better and better, and richer and richer, as the years go on.

Are you saying that you would be a Christian if you could live it? But listen, you must live, anyway, whether you are a Christian or whether you are not. You have your problems to solve, your burdens to bear, your temptations to overcome, your character to form, anyway. Becoming a Christian does not create your responsibilities. They are already upon your life. What your becoming a Christian does is to help you bear the responsibilities that you already have. The question reverts then down to this in the last analysis: "How can I bear my burdens and solve my problems, and overcome my temptations, and form my character, and face the judgment better, with God's help, or without God's help?" There is not a one of you but what would answer immediately, "I can meet these responsibilities better with God's help than without it." Then let the power of God come into your life. He has promised, "My grace is sufficient for thee." If God could create your life, can He not save it and keep it? It is not how much power you have, it is how much power He has.

"But there are so many things that I would have to give up, if I became a Christian," says another. There is but one thing you would have to give up and that is sin. That which will cause you shame and sorrow here, and doom and damnation hereafter. How unreasonable it is in you to hold on to sin. Supposing a young man in college wanted to become a member of the athletic team. He goes to the physician for examination, and finds that a small cancer is forming on his body. The doctor says, "That can now be easily removed, and the wound will heal, and you will become a strong athlete." What would you think if the fellow would reply, "But, doctor, I want to hold on to that dear cancer!" Sin is a moral cancer—it will constantly grow. It will not cure itself. The only reasonable course is to give it up while you can. Are you not paying too big a price for the pleasures of sin when you are paying for them at the cost of your eternal soul?

In one of the southern armies during the civil war, the discipline was becoming lax, and the orders were issued from headquarters that any soldier who was caught foraging would be severely dealt with. There was a careless, thoughtless fellow in one company who paid no attention to orders. Only a few days later he was caught stealing apples out of an orchard. He was tried and convicted, and the commander decided to make an example of him. He was sentenced to be shot. The next morning he was being taken by two of his comrades to the place of the execution, and he was going along carelessly eating the apples that he had stolen. One of his guards said to him, "How is it that in this, almost the last moment of your life, you can be indifferently eating those apples?" He looked up with a cynical expression and replied, "Can you not let me alone and let me eat my apples? I am paying dearly enough for them." Are you not paying too dearly for the apples of sin, when you are paying for them at the cost of eternal life? First of all, give your life to Christ. It is the only right and reasonable course. Then whatever is not consistent with the Christian life, not only for Christ's sake, but also for your own sake, be glad to forsake.

Then, there is the last excuse which is usually urged when every other one fails. "I am going to be a Christian some time, but I am not ready yet." No, neither will you ever get ready. If you wait until you are ready, you will never come at all. If you are ever saved, it will not be through your own, but through the power of God. He will never have any more power than He has now. Time is not going to solve the problem, it aggravates it. If you are not going toward Him, you are going from Him, and the further you go, the faster you go, and the harder it is to turn. If a friend would invite you to his home for a meal, you would not expect to have to prepare a lunch and take it with you. If he would give you the invitation you would naturally infer that he would make the proper preparations. So when God invites you to the great banquet of salvation, you may be sure that the preparations have been made. Jesus says, "Come, for all things are now ready."

In a meeting in a city of New Jersey, a young business man attended night after night, and he became impressed with the conviction that he ought to be a Christian. But drawn by an evil spirit, he convinced himself that he must go up to New York city on business. He stepped off from the overheated parlor car at the New York station; it was a bitterly cold winter day, and the wind was blowing and the snow falling. He walked to the hotel and contracted a severe cold. That afternoon he had to take to his bed. The hotel physician was called. It was found that he had contracted pneumonia. There are some forms of pneumonia that as far as medical skill has yet found, seem absolutely fatal from the start. "Have you any relatives near?" said the doctor. "Yes, I have a wife and mother in my home town." "Well, I do not want to alarm you," said the physician, "but I think it would be the wise course to have them with you."

As soon as they received the summons and could reach the city they were at his side. He rapidly grew worse. His lungs were filling up and he began to realize the truth; that he was not going to recover. Then there came over him an overwhelming feeling of regret and remorse. "Oh, to think of it," said he; "I left home just to get away from the influence of the meetings. It was merely an excuse that I had to come up here on business. I have missed it! I have missed it!" The Christian wife and mother urged him then to give his heart to Christ, but he said, "It is too late, I had my chance and I refused it." The last audible words he ever uttered were, as he turned his face toward the wall, "It is too late! I have missed it! I have missed it!" Jesus says, "Come, for all things are now ready." And He adds, "Not a one of those who heard the invitation and refused it shall ever taste of My supper."

New York, Jan. 18.—Trouble, grief, and a large, able-bodied papa overtook an elopement that had been a clean escape up to today from West Plains, in the peach belt of the Missourian Ozarks as far as the pier of the Bermuda-American liner Olympic. The result was that Mrs. Clyde Oliver, a bride of eighteen, sailed with her father, L. K. Pollard, a wealthy orchard man, who had recovered his own best peach while the bridegroom tarried ashore.

Just before the couple were ready to sail the bride wired home what she confidently thought was news of her wedding. But Mr. Oliver's irate father-in-law was in New York city and already on his way to the pier after ascertaining that the couple were booked to sail.

About half an hour before sailing time the bridegroom went ashore to make some purchases. Upon returning he stopped half way up the gangplank. There at the other end was his father-in-law. Mr. Pollard seemed an unusually large and ferocious father-in-law and Oliver began a strategic retreat, hoping to draw him off in pursuit, leaving the gangplank clear. But Mr. Pollard resisted the temptation. Oliver tried to find another gangplank, but there wasn't any. Finally the gangplank was pulled aboard, the ship moved out and Oliver beheld his weeping bride clinging to her smiling father.

MISS LUCILE CARSON.

San Francisco, Jan. 18.—The strange psychic power of communicating with her sweetheart at sea through "mental wireless" and the ability to project her spirit self to his side across thousands of miles of ocean, is claimed by Miss Lucile Carson, of this city.

Almost daily Captain Leslie, of the British schooner Strathcona, the soul-mate with whom Miss Carson claims to be en rapport, has received her ethereal messages, while she has been able to determine the location of the steamer accurately on the high seas and at alien ports without the aid of marine publications or newspaper accounts.

This strange communication has been kept up for practically a year, says the girl. The Strathcona's captain is her horoscopical opposite.

"I was born under the sign of Gemini," says Miss Carson, "and am subject to the sway of Neptune. Always I have wanted to travel by sea. Since the Strathcona sailed from here in January, 1914, girdling the world, my mental self has traveled with Captain Leslie."

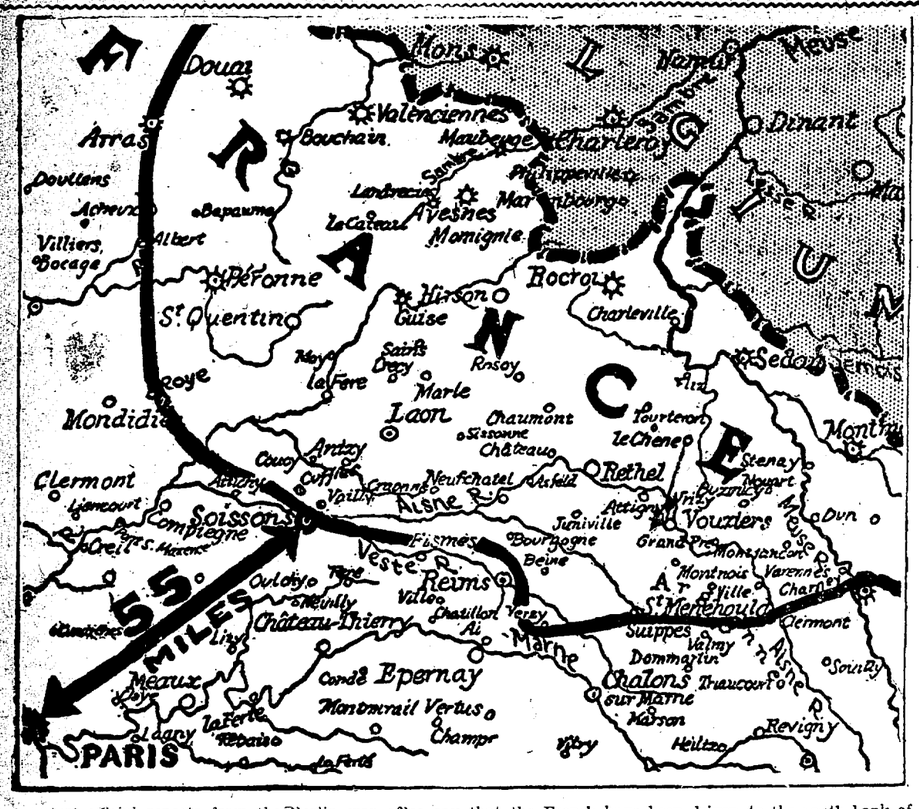
KAISER'S NEW DRIVE ON PARIS—ONLY FIFTY-FIVE MILES AWAY.



Latest official reports from the Berlin war office say that the French have been driven to the south bank of the Aisne at Soissons and that six towns have been captured in a forward movement of the German troops. The kaiser is said to be personally directing the advance. Map shows location of Soissons, 55 miles from Paris.

REMONSTRANCE MAY NOT BE SUFFICIENT

Park Board Believes Weisser Park Plan is Not Defeated.

It is the belief of the park board that the remonstrance now on file against the board's resolution for the enlargement and completion of Weisser park is insufficient to defeat the plan and that it will be able to confirm the resolution even if the city attorney should decide that the board has no legal authority to extend the hearing.

At its meeting Saturday afternoon the board considered a resolution to extend the time of the hearing for two weeks, fixing Saturday, January 4, at 4 o'clock in the afternoon for final action on the resolution to enlarge and complete the park. This resolution was read to the big meeting of resident property owners of the Weisser park district in the council chamber at the city hall and almost started a riot. Mayor Hosey promptly took ground against such action, holding it to be probably illegal.

City Attorney to Decide.

The board thereupon continued its session to Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock, when City Attorney Colerick was expected to deliver a formal opinion determining whether or not the resolution can be adopted and given effect. Mr. Colerick declined to state in advance what his opinion would be. The law upon the point seems to be somewhat vague and is held by some lawyers here to permit the park board to validly take the action proposed in the resolution, which is as follows:

"Whereas: Upon the platform, in the public prints and in letters sent to the property holders of the Weisser park assessment district it has been directly charged that this board of park commissioners are trying to railroad this measure through without giving the property holders a chance to express their opinion, therefore be it

"Resolved: That the hearing on Park Improvement Resolution No. 8, referring to the enlargement and completion of Weisser park be and is hereby extended until 4 o'clock p. m. of Saturday, January 30, 1915."

It is believed that if the board may continue the hearing for two weeks enough names will be withdrawn from the remonstrance to cause a decisive defeat of the opponents of the Weisser park plans. Great numbers of property owners who signed the remonstrance are asserted to have done so because of misrepresentations concerning the assessments. When these are more thoroughly enlightened, it is claimed, they will not oppose the plans.

The remonstrance filed Saturday contained a total of 2,247 names—1,855 on the remonstrance sheets and 889 on postal cards. Three others were added at the city hall late Saturday afternoon. Attorney Otto Fuelber, counsel for remonstrants, says there are probably 900 duplications in the names, cutting the total to 1,347. There are in round numbers 2,500 resident property owners on the assessment rolls. Park Board Secretary Charles J. Steiss stated Monday he was confident that after the elimination from the remonstrance of the names of all persons who had no legal right to sign the adverse majority would be wiped out and a majority shown for the improvement. He said, however, that the result would be very close.

The Hearing Was Turbulent.

The hearing in the council chamber was turbulent in the extreme and there were numerous passages of words between advocates of the antagonistic sides in which bitter personalities were freely exchanged. President Foster, who presided over the hearing, had great difficulty in keeping the meeting within bounds and it seemed at times that he would lose control and a Donnybrook fair would be staged in the chamber.

Those in favor of the improvement openly charged that the leaders of the opponents of the plan had obtained names to their remonstrances by the grossest misrepresentation, causing people in humbler circumstances to believe that assessment for the park plans would be almost confiscation. E. L. Haffner, of East Leith street, secretary of the South Side Improvement association, made a direct attack on Anselm Fuelber, one of the opposition leaders, declaring that if Fort Wayne had a few more such men Fort Wayne in public spirit and development would soon take her place with the village of Arcola. He said that he was tired of seeing the ward run by one man, an allusion to Mr. Fuelber's activities.

Otto Fuelber, son of Anselm Fuelber and attorney and leader of the opposition, declared that some time ago he tried to get the park board to extend the time of hearing because he believed the period was too short in which to get a full expression from the people of the Weisser park assessment district, but had been turned down. Now, he said, that it had developed the plan was beaten by remonstrance the park board reversed itself and seized more time because it believed it could get enough names removed from the petitions to make them worthless.

Speaking with much passion, Anselm Fuelber voiced a protest against the resolution continuing the hearing, declaring that he did so in behalf of all the remonstrants.

That much of the hostility to park improvements rested on feeling against the park board was clearly indicated by some of the short rapid-fire speeches in the controversy, the Rudisill boulevard assessments more than once being alluded to.

Mayor Hosey, who was present throughout the meeting, took no part in the discussion until President Foster had read the resolution that provided for a continuance of the hearing for two weeks and announced that the board would adopt it, when amid much applause from the big audience the mayor took the floor to say that the resolution raised a serious issue and developed a situation that was contrary to all local precedents in the procedure by which remonstrances against public improvements were disposed of. He did not believe the board could legally do what the resolution proposed.

Every seat in the lobby of the council chamber was occupied and many were obliged to stand. That the opponents of the plan were in a majority in the crowd was manifest.

President Foster adjourned the meeting shortly after 5 o'clock, remarking with a sarcastic grin that he thanked the assemblage for the good feeling and temperateness with which the discussion had proceeded.

Pledge of Last Assessment.

At the outset of the meeting President Foster read resolutions which later were adopted by the park board in its own offices, in which pledge was given that the proposed assessment for the enlargement and completion of Weisser park was the last that the present park board would ever impose on the people of that district. The resolutions follow:

"Whereas, It has been repeatedly asserted upon the platform and in printed letters sent to the property holders of the Weisser Park assessment district, that the assessment of $3.50 per lot on the average, now proposed for the enlargement and completion of Weisser park is only one of many special assessments that the board of park commissioners will make against the property in said district on account of said park, and

"Whereas, The specific statement has been made that said park board will shortly make another assessment for improving and completing said park, and

"Whereas, The further specific statement has been made that these property holders 'will have to be assessed again to pay for twelve blocks of additional street pavement at an expense to them of from $12,000 to $15,000,' therefore, be it

"Resolved, By this board of park commissioners that it declares that its agreement with the property holders of the Weisser park district, made at a public meeting called by such property holders at the James H. Smart school, in May of last year was, that if the property holders would purchase the additional grounds they proposed to have added to the park, our board would then proceed at once to the completion of the park without ever making any further assessment upon the benefited property holders for such or any other purpose.

"Resolved, That this board now repeats that pledge that no further assessment will ever be made by it for the completion and improvement of this park, and that if the present assessment does not furnish quite all the needed funds they will be supplied from our general park revenues.

"Resolved, Further, that this board of park commissioners has never and will never assess any property in the Weisser park district for any pavement or sidewalk, curb or gutter, sewer or water pipes, telephones or light lines which either this board, or the board of public works may order built or put down within this park upon any one of its four sides, except such property holders as face the park, who will only pay for one-half of such pavement in front of their lots, as upon all other streets when a pavement is put down.

"DAVID N. FOSTER,
"LOUIS FOX.
"LOUIS DORN.
"ABE ACKERMAN."

Following the hearing in the council chamber the park board returned to its own rooms and adopted the resolutions that had been read and adjourned the session until 4 o'clock Monday afternoon.

Association Charges Fraud.

The South Side Civic Improvement association has adopted resolutions in which it is freely charged that misrepresentation and fraud were practiced by opponents of the Weisser park enlargement plan and giving strong approval to the park board for the action taken in the matter. The resolutions follows:

"Whereas, It is generally known and admitted that remonstrances against the enlargement and improvement of Weisser park were obtained by fraud and misrepresentation and,

"Whereas, The men responsible for this work now practically admit the fraud and misrepresentation they have practiced by opposing the extension of two weeks' time upon the hearing as proposed by the park board that an opportunity may be given the interested property holders to withdraw their [illegible] would be to condone fraud and misrepresentation, therefore be it

"Resolved, That we commend the board of park commissioners for its expressed desire to see this question settled upon its real merits and according to the real sentiment and wish of our resident property holders when shown the fraud that has been practiced upon them and when fully informed of what their assessment really would be, the only assessment ever to be levied for the enlargement and completion of Weisser park, and be it further resolved

"That a copy of these resolutions be put in the hands of the park board before its meeting on Monday, January 18, with the urgent request that it shall extend to the citizens of the district the two weeks' time needed to demonstrate the fact that when fully informed in the matter an overwhelming majority of the resident property holders favor the addition to and completion of our beautiful park.

RAIN AGAIN INTERFERES.

High Water Puts Stop to All Work on Spy Run Wall.

The thaw of the latter part of last week and the rains of Saturday caused a rise of several feet in the St. Joe river and put a stop to all work on the Spy Run avenue retaining wall. Street Superintendent Strodel and his men were unable Monday to resume the work of dumping the broken concrete filling behind the wall and Contractor Herman W. Tapp was unable to resume work on the unfinished portion of the wall, as he had expected, after several weeks' delay. Resumption of work will be impossible until the water subsides.

RABBI GUTTMACHER FOUND DEAD ON TRAIN

Word has been recived here announcing the death of Dr. A. Guttmacher, at one time rabbi of the local Hebrew congregation, and well known in this city, which occurred Sunday evening at 6 o'clock on board a Pennsylvania limited while on his way to Chicago with his wife. As the train neared Huntington, Pa., the rabbi left his wife and a short time later was found dead by the brakeman in the toilet of the train. A physician of Huntington stated that death was due to heart trouble.

Dr. Guttmacher left Fort Wayne twenty-four years ago, after serving the local congregation for three years and has been rabbi of the congregation in Baltimore eve since. The congregation that he was serving at the time of his death was one of the largest and most important charges in the country.

The deceased was 54 years of age, and shortly after coming to this city was married to Miss Laura Oppenheimer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Abe Oppenheimer, pioneer resirdents of Fort Wayne. Max Franks, of the Franks Dry Goods company, is an uncle of the deceased rabbi. During his stay in this city and frequent visits to the city he had made many friends who will all be grieved to learn of his death.

Although a young man while serving the congregation here, he proved to be a brilliant speaker and a most profound student. He was a graduate of the Union Hebrew college of Cincinnati, and the local congregation was his first charge after he graduated. Besides his wife he is survived by three children.

THE DEATHS.

RAN HER FROM HER HOME WITH PISTOL

Charging that on the night of their separation, January 13, 1914, her husband, in a drunken rage, tried to kill her by shooting at her with a revolver, Frances Lash has begun action in the superior court against Golie Lash for divorce. They were married June 30, 1906, and she alleges that he subjected her to cruel and inhuman treatment, was jealous without cause and repeatedly accused her of criminal intimacy with men. He drank to excess, she says, and when drunk would accuse her of infidelity and would get angry and beat and choke her. This continued until the night of the separation, when she says he shot at her, compelling her in fear for her life to flee after midnight to the home of her father, three miles away, to seek refuge. She now has no love or respect for him, she declares, and wants a divorce and her maiden name of Frances Kumfer. The plaintiff is now employed as a domestic in the Lake Shore hotel.

Hanna Case to Wells County.

On change of venue from the Allen circuit court the case of the state against Samuel D. Hanna and John H. Immel, charged with forgery, have been sent to Wells county for trial. These are criminal cases that grew out of the crash of the Hanna-Brackenridge company more than a year ago.

Prison for Cruel Woman.

In the circuit court, late Saturday afternoon, Judge Eggeman sentenced Ethel Green to serve ninety days in the correctional department of the Indiana woman's prison for assault and battery on 4-year-old Martha Clark, the blind daughter of Joseph H. Clark, 2815 Hoagland avenue, where the Green woman was employed as a housekeeper. The testimony showed that the little girl had been cruelly beaten by the housekeeper.

Would Not Be Good, Says Wife.

After withdrawing a divorce suit that she had filed last September, Clara Boedeker has filed another complaint in the superior court, against William H. Boedoker, saying that he broke his promise to do better. She says that since their marriage in 1902 he has treated her cruelly and has accused her of being unfaithful. On the 16th inst. She says he told her to get, that he would not longer shelter a woman of her vile and immoral character. She fears bodily harm and has obtained an order to restrain him from molesting her. She asks the custody of two minor children.

Wants Divorce and Big Alimony.

Cora B. Stumpf has begun action in the circuit court for divorce from Edward Stumpf and $2,000 alimony. She says that they were married in December, 1913, and separarted a year later. He is charged with having treated her cruelly and of falsely accusing her of being immoral and indecent. She says he has threatened to kill her and has beaten her so that she was confined to her home for days. The plaintiff says she is the owner of a diamond stud and diamond ring worth $1,000, an automobile and an interest in a saloon and that the defendant has much personal property. She secured an order restraining him from disposing of any of the property, including the jewelry, and from molesting her.

WILL BE NO DELAY IN PALACE OPENING

"The Palace will positively open on time if we have to use bunting for draperies," B. H. Barnett, one of the owners of the magnificent new playhouse, said before leaving with F. E. Stouder for Chicago to make final arrangements for dedicating the house to vaudeville next Monday. The house practically is ready to open today, except for the draperies and the luxurious carpets for the various floors. The seats have been placed, the painters and decorators are done and the last of the chandeliers and spray lights have been fixed in position and tested out. All that remains to be finished is the hanging of the draperies and the laying of the carpet.

The Palace will follow the popular price policy with a top admission fee of seventy-five cents and several hundred seats in the spacious balcony selling for ten cents. In this particular the Palace will be unique among Keith big time theaters and in the larger cities the price scale varies from $1 to $1.50 for the most select seats. The prices will be ten, twenty-five, thirty-five, fifty and seventy-five cents, with practically the entire main floor selling for seventy-five cents.

When the seat sale for the opening night starts, Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock, all seats except those in the proscenium and entresol boxes and loges will be placed on sale. These seats are being reserved for the special guests of the management, including the vice president ofthe United States, Thomas R. Marshall, Governor Ralston and his official family, Mayor Hosey and members of his city administration and the county officials.

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Chicago, Jan. 18.—President Wilson's order for a government inquiry relative to prices of wheat and flour was followed today by a considerable selling of wheat, and temporary setback of 1½c in quotations, but the market quickly reacted and scored a net advance of ¾c. Later a new decline took place, influenced to some extent by a revival of talk of the possibility of an embargo being put on exports. During these changes prices for May had a range of 3c from $1.40 to $1.42. After opening ¾c off to ¼c up, the market as a whole kept within narrower limits than the May delivery.

The close was unsettled but ¾c to ⅞c under than Saturday night.

Although corn at the outset had a downward tendency with wheat good demand for export soon led to a decided upturn. Opening prices, which varied from ¼@½c to ⅝@¾c lower, were followed by a rise all around to well above Saturday night's level.

The close was steady at an advance of 1¼@1½c to 1⅝c net.

Oats took much the same course as corn. Strength that developed, however, was not so pronounced.

THE DAY ON WALL STREET.

New York, Jan. 18.—Conflicting gains and losses characterized today's early trading in stocks although changes were confined to a few issues. A movement of encouraging, practically the entire international list shwing declines which extended to a point thereabouts in Reading, St. Paul, Southern Pacific, New York Central and Atchison. By the end of the half hour the local market showed a firmer tendency all round, Canadian Pacific and Bethlehem Steel gaining a full point.

Profit taking had some effect on the moderate rise of the first hour, most prominent shares losing their advantage by midday. Reading, Bathlehem Steel and U. S. Steel fell back and the metal group which had shown some strength on a further advance in copper, yielded with the active list. Fertilizer issues, notably American Agricultural, Chemical, Virginia-Carolina Chemical and American Cotton Oil were better and among motor stocks Studebaker was conspicuous for its new higher prices. Several sales of German-owned Japanese government 4½ per cent. bonds at a reduction from their list price was the only interesting feature of the bond market.

Leaders recovered from the early lethargy later, Reading, Leehigh Valley, Union Pacific and other representative shares gaining a point or more. The closing was strong.

OFFICIAL FORECASTS.

For Fort Wayne and vicinity: Cloudy tonight and Tuesday; not much change in temperature; lowest tonight, about 22 degrees.
For Indiana: Cloudy tonight; Tuesday partly cloudy.
For Ohio: Local snows tonight; Tuesday partly cloudy.
For Lower Michigan: Generally cloudy tonight and Tuesday.

WEATHER CONDITIONS.

A storm from the gulf coast is spreading northeastward and is central over Georgia this morning. It gave heavy rains yesterday over most districts from the Ohio river southward to the gulf coast, and this morning rains are general from the east gulf coast northward to New York and New England. Over the middle Atlantic coast districts the rainfall is heavy. The storm is being preceded by warm weather over the Atlantic coast states, and it is being followed by colder weather which has already overspread the lower Mississippi valley, snow being reported from Memphis, Little Rock and Shreveport, while freezing temperatures extend southward nearly to the Texas coast.

Fair weather prevails over most districts from the Mississippi river westward to the Pacific coast. While some zero temperatures are reported from Minnesota and Colorado, no very cold weather is reported from any section of the western states.

The southern storm will spread northeastward but its influence will not extend to this section ,and cloudy weather is indicated for tonight and Tuesday, with but slight changes in temperature. No unusually cold weather is indicated for the next two or three days.

W. S.PALMER, Local Forecaster.

ROAD NOTICE.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

A petition will be presented to the Board of Commissioners of the County of Allen, State of Indiana, at their next session in February, 1915, for the location of a public highway in the county of Allen, State of Indiana, on or as near the following described route as practicable, to-wit: Commencing at the east line of what is known as the Simons road in Wayne Township, Allen County, Indiana, where the same intersects the east and west line dividing sections 23 and 26 in said Township; thence running east on the line dividing sections 23, 26, 24 and 25 to what is known as the Decatur or Piqua road, and there to terminate; said road to be of uniform width with the road running east from the Philley school house, but not to be less than thirty feet, and that said proposed highway may pass through lands owned or occupied as follows, to-wit:

WHO CAN LEARN DRESSMAKING? Never fear that because you may now be unskilled you cannot learn dressmaking. We can teach you by the S. T. TAYLOR SYSTEM of dressmaking to turn out the most elegant gowns imaginable. With average industry, application and care our STUDENTS cannot help becoming first-class dressmakers. There are ABSOLUTELY NO SERIOUS DIFFICULTIES to overcome. Everything is made so clear, plain, simple and easy to understand that the pupil, however unskilled at the start, is led step by step to a full understanding of each detail of dressmaking and ladies' tailoring from foundation to finish. EACH PUPIL is instructed separately and not in classes. WINTER TERM OPENS JANUARY 12, 1915. Call, write or phone for further information regarding terms, etc. S. T. HOUSE MUST HURRY A BIT position in either house. The bill was passed at the 1913 session of the legislature but failed to receive the sanction of the governor on the ground that it would cause too great a public inconvenience on account of its provision to become effective immediately.

Will Get Early Vote.

Senator Charles B. Clark's bill to provide the machinery for the election of United States senators is ready for third reading and will likely be one of the first measures to be voted on at this session.

Interest of house members centered in the plan of Speaker Bedwell for the creation of a legislative reference department, where measures and resolutions could be inspected by the public immediately after being introduced and in a number of bills that were ready to be presented this afternoon. The legislative department will be under the administration of John Lapp, who is preparing for members most of the bills that they expect to present. The purpose of the bureau is to give the public a better opportunity to learn for itself the nature of bills filed and to remove the source of an alleged city graft that has existed heretofore in the preparation of copies of bills that were available only to a few persons.

Would Bond Commissioners.

A bill that provides for members of the board of county commissioners of each county in the state giving bonds, was one of the important measures that was being prepared for introduction this afternoon. Representative Crosslius, of New Albany, author of the measure, said county commissioners have never been required to give bonds for faithful performance of duty. The bill provides that each commissioner shall give bond in the sum of $5,000 from each commissioner, and for the smaller counties with bonds of $2,500 from each official.

A free school text book law will be proposed by Representative Evelo, of Terre Haute, whose bill will follow closely the recommendations of the state federation of labor for such legislation, he said.

The provisions for the change of venue of criminal cases will be the same as for such action in civil cases, if the bill of Representative Bendel, of Sullivan, becomes a law.

Another Auto License Law.

Representative Hepler, of South Bend, is working on a bill that would, like several others already introduced, amend the present automobile state license law. His proposal is that the license be issued by the city or county clerk and the money placed directly in the city or county treasury. The activities of certain South Bend residents to remove Mayor Fred Keller, of that city, from office, or to shorten his term to two years by legislation enacted at this session, will not receive much consideration.

Veterans of American wars who like to hunt will be affected by a bill which Representative Jennett will offer. It provides they not be required to secure a hunters' license. The state wide nominating primary plan to which the democratic party is pledged by its 1914 platform, is the subject of proposed legislation. J. R. Jones, of Plymouth, was to introduce today.

WILL NOT ERECT NEW BUILDING THIS YEAR

As the Dukes Clothing company has been granted an unexpected extension of its lease, the proposed new building of the Hamilton bank at Calhoun and Main streets will not be built this spring.

The extension of the lease is not, however, for any great length of time which is taken to mean that the bank will in the course of a few years erect a new structure. The extension of Mr. Duke's lease came as a surprise to him as well as to the bank officials. It is understood that the present [illegible]

WIDOW OF MULTIMILLIONAIRE SOON TO BE BRIDE OF MERE MILLIONAIRE.

The widow of a multi-millionaire becomes the bride of a mere millionaire when Mrs. Charles G. Gates is married January 30 to Harold Lee Judd, of Hartford, Conn.

Mrs. Gates inherited a fortune estimated at $15,000,000 from her husband, who died last October. Gates was the son of J. W. Gates, the famous stock market speculator. Her husband-to-be is rated at $1,000,000. The marriage will take place at the home of Mrs. Gates' parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. F. Hopwood, in Minneapolis, Minn.

GIVES FIGURES ON WAGES IN INDIANA

(By Glenn Gardner.)

Washington, Jan. 18.—Saleswomen in retail department stores and in the garment industry in Indiana receive less than $7 per week, according to figures compiled by the bureau of labor and published today. The figures were completed by the bureau in the leading cities and towns in Indiana. The results of the investigation show that approximately half of the women and girls in stores receive less than $7 per week, while in the garment industry nearly 53 per cent. of the factory women receive less than $7 per week. These figures may be taken as typical of these industries throughout the country which employ women and girls almost exclusively. In large cities the average is probably lower than in the smaller towns.

The relation of these low wages to the ability of a girl to live a moral life was recently made the subject of an investigation by the Chicago "Vice Commission" of Chicago, which made a careful study of the whole question:

"The life of an unprotected girl who tries to make a living in a great city is full of torturing temptations. First, she faces the problem of living on an inadequate wage: Six dollars a week is the average in mercantile establishments.

"The girl who has no home soon learns of 'city poverty' all the more cruel to her because of the artificial contrasts. She quickly learns of the possibilities about her, of the joys of comfort, good food, entertainment, attractive clothes. Poverty becomes a menace and a snare. One who has not beheld the struggle or come in personal contact with the tempted soul of the underpaid girl can never realize what the poverty of the city means to her. One who has never seen her bravely fighting against such fearful odds will never understand. A day's sickness or a week out of work are tragedies in her life. They mean trips to the pawn broker's, meager dinners, a weakened will, often a plunge into the abyss from which she so often never escapes.

"Hundreds, if not thousands, of girls from country towns, and those born in the city, but who have been thrown on their own resources, are compelled to live in cheap boarding or rooming houses on the average wage of $6. How do they exist on this sum? It is impossible to figure it out on a mathematical basis. If the wage were $8 per week, and the girl paid $2.50 for her room, $1 for laundry, and sixty cents for car fare, she would have less than fifty cents at the end of the week. That is, provided she ate ten-cent breakfasts, fifteen-cent luncheons, and twenty-five-cent dinners. But there is no doubt that many girls do live on even $6 and do it honestly, but we can affirm that they do not have nourishing food, or comfortable shelter, or warm clothes, or any amusement, except perhaps free public dances, without outside help, either from charity in the shape of girls' clubs, or friends in the country home. How can she possibly exist, to say nothing of live!"

Wisconsin Man May Be Stock Judge

Mondovi, Wis., Jan. 15.—Wisconsin wants to name the superintendent of the swine department of the Panama-Pacific exposition and James Dillon, of Mondovi, is the man the Wisconsin Live Stock Breeders' association recommends for the position.

Dillon is a successful stockman and for several years he has superintended the swine exhibit of the Wisconsin state fair.

MRS. MARY WEBBER DIES IN WEST.

Friends in this city have received word of the death of Mrs. Mary Webber which occurred on Jan. 8 at the home of her daughter, Miss Fannie L. Webber, of Pasadena, Cal. Mrs. Webber would have been 84 years of age had she lived until April 6. For a year she had been perfectly helpless from rheumatism. The deceased moved to Allen county about sixty-five years ago with Mr. and Mrs. Dille and lived here nearly all the time until ten years ago when she went west with her daughter. Joseph Dille and Ralph Dille, the well known artists, are brother and nephew respectively of the deceased woman.

DON'T

Don't buy a feed because it is cheap. Just remember that old saying that "You can't get something for nothing," and the same applies to poultry feeds.

You get more value in a sack of Bash's Standard than in any other feed on the market. Compare our feed with other brands and it won't take long to convince you of this fact.

We put nothing but the best grains in our feed that money can buy. Quality—then quantity and price.

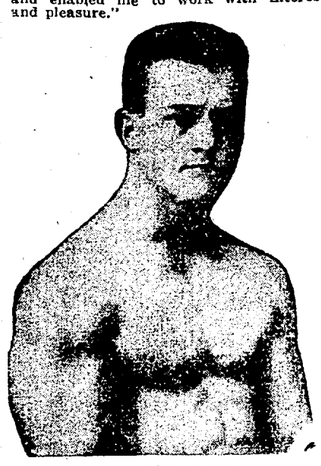
"Gains 22 Pounds In 23 Days"

REMARKABLE EXPERIENCE OF F. GAGNON. BUILDS UP WEIGHT WONDERFULLY.

"I was all run down to the very bottom," writes F. Gagnon. "I had to quit work I was so weak. Now, thanks to Sargol, I look like a new man. I gained 22 pounds in 23 days."

"Sargol has put 10 pounds on me in 14 days," states W. O. Roberts. "It has made me sleep well, enjoy what I ate, and enabled me to work with interest and pleasure."



A PLUMP, STRONG, ROBUST BODY.

"Before I took Sargol people used to call me 'skinny' but now my name is changed. My whole body is stout. Have gained 15 pounds and am gaining yet. I look like a new man," declared another man who had just finished the Sargol treatment.

Would you, too, like to quickly put from 10 to 30 lbs. of good, solid, "stay-there" flesh, fat and muscular tissue between your skin and bones?

Don't say it can't be done. Try it. Let us send you free a 50c package of Sargol and prove what it can do for you.

More than half a million thin men and women have gladly made this test and that Sargol does succeed, does make thin folks fat even where all else has failed, is best proved by the tremendous business we have done. URGE A TEN-CENT LOAF EVERYWHERE

Chicago, Jan. 19.—Manufacture of a ten cent loaf of bread throughout the United States was recommended at a meeting here yesterday of the efficiency board of the National Bakers' association. The board is made up of bakers from twenty-six cities. They believe this action is necessary as a result of the high price of wheat.

Bread weighing twenty-six or twenty-seven ounces can be produced at ten cents a loaf at a profit, it was said, whereas a loss must be faced in the manufacture of a five cent loaf weighing twelve ounces.

The report of the efficiency board, it was said will show that at the normal price, flour comprises 73 per cent. of the manufacturing cost of bread.

SECURITIES ARE STOLEN.

Robber Raids Life Insurance Offices at Indianapolis.

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 19.—Securities valued at $76,000 were stolen from the offices of a life insurance company here Saturday or Sunday night, it was learned yesterday. Another life insurance company reports the loss of $3,000 in securities and the police believe the same burglars committed the two robberies. Officers of the companies affected say that only a small portion of the securities can be negotiated by the thieves. The robberies were effected by prying open steel cabinets.

To Cure Catarrhal Deafness and Head Noises

Persons suffering from catarrhal deafness and head noises will be glad to know that this distressing affliction can be successfully treated at home by an internal remedy that in many instances has effected a complete cure after all else has failed. Sufferers who could scarcely hear a watch tick have had their hearing restored to such an extent that the tick of a watch was plainly audible seven or eight inches away from either ear.

Therefore, if you know someone who is troubled with head noises or catarrh, or catarrhal deafness, cut out this formula and hand to them, and you will have been the means of saving some poor sufferer perhaps from total deafness. The prescription can be prepared at home, and is made as follows:

Secure from your druggist 1 oz. Parmint (double strength), about 75c worth. Take this home and add to it ¼ pint of hot water and 4 oz. of granulated sugar; stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day.

The first dose should begin to relieve the distressing head noises, headache, dullness, cloudy thinking, etc., while the hearing rapidly returns as the system is invigorated by the tonic action of the treatment. Loss of smell and mucus dropping in the back of the throat, are other symptoms that show the presence of catarrhal poison, and which are often entirely overcome by this efficacious treatment. Nearly ninety per cent. of all ear troubles are said to be directly caused by catarrh, therefore there must be many people whose hearing can be restored by this simple home treatment.

NEW CONSTITUTION IS TO BE DISCUSSED

State Conference Under Auspices of Citizens' League at Indianapolis.

Several Fort Wayne citizens are expecting to attend a state conference on the new constitution for Indiana to be held in the assembly room of the Washington hotel at Indianapolis, Tuesday, January 26, under the auspices of the Citizens' League of Indiana. B. Paul Mossman, of this city, is a member of the conference committee.

At the afternoon session Theodore F. Thieme, of this city, will explain the purpose and effort of the Citizens' League of Indiana, and Clayton H. Johnston, president of district No. 72, I. A. of M., will talk on "Organized Labor for a Constitutional Convention."

Following is the program: Morning session, 10 o'clock, subject, "Our present situation and need in the matter of constitutional revision in Indiana: 'addresses by Judge J. B. Wilson, Bloomington; Hon. Fred I. King, editor of the Wabash Plain Dealer; Judge W. H. Eichhorn, Bluffton; general discussion; appointment of committees on organization, publicity resolutions and finance.

Afternoon session, 2 o'clock:—"Purpose and Effort of the Citizens' League of Indiana," Theodore F. Thieme, Fort Wayne; "Organized Labor for a Constitutional Convention," Clayton H. Johnson, president of district No. 72, I. A. of M., Fort Wayne; further steps in organization discussion led by Ross F. Lockridge, secretary; general discussion; report of committees.

Evening session, 8:15 o'clock:—Address by Dr. W. E. Stone, president of Purdue university; address, "The Progress of Popular Government," Hon. Robert L. Owen, United States senator from Oklahoma.

The Citizens' League of Indiana is devoted to the promotion of a new constitution on an educational basis. All citizens interested in the cause of constitutional progress in Indiana are invited to attend the conference and participate in the proceedings. In addition to the regular program, short addresses will be given by representatives from all districts of the state.

THINKS TRANSFER WAS NOT GENUINE

Britain Will Not Consent to Dacia's Voyage to Rotterdam.

Washington, Jan. 19.—The British government will not consent to allow the steamer Dacia, recently transferred from German to American registry, to proceed to Rotterdam under safe conduct with her cargo of cotton, the state department was notified today from London.

The British reply to suggestions for a safe conduct, recently made by the state department, came through the American embassy at London. While the text of the message is withheld, it is known the British objection was based broadly on a reluctance to create a precedent, which it is felt would be followed by many similar purchases of German ships in America and efforts to operate them on the former German trade routes.

The British note does not undertake to assert the right of Great Britain to interfere with ships purchased and transferred to the American flag in a legitimate way. The objection to the transfer of the Dacia, according to the British view, is that it was not genuine, it being intimated the British government believes the American purchasers really was acting for German principals.

HOPE TO PROMOTE FARMING BUSINESS

Rural Credits Legislation to Be Discussed at Indianapolis.

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 19. With the purpose of promoting the business of farming, the subject of rural credits legislation will be discussed at this session of the legislature. Members of the farmers organization, effected among the representatives whose business interests pertain to farming, have two plans in view, one for the legislature to adopt a resolution asking congress to pass a national law, and the other for the legislature to enact a law.

Rep. Dunmire, of Elkhart, said today he was drawing up a bill which he will introduce later, that will pertain to this subject. He also announced that Congressman Moss of the 5th Indiana district has been invited to address the members of the farmers club of the legislature and others who may be interested in the subject but that no reply has been received from Mr. Moss. Governor Ralston, members of the legislature say, considered recommending the enactment of a rural credit law when preparing his message to the legislature. He however, is quoted as saying that he was not familiar enough with the subject to feel justified in making any recommendation.

AUTO VICTIM MUCH IMPROVED TUESDAY

Victor Lepper, 369 Baker street, who was rendered unconscious when the automobile in which he was riding shot down a five foot embankment two miles east of the city, at the Lincoln highway, late Monday night, was much improved Tuesday and no serious results are expected.

In the car was a Mr. Baker who claimed to be an agent for the Overland Motor Car company at Ossian, and two young women, whose names could not be learned. Baker suffered a number of minor bruises, while the women escaped uninjured.

C. W. Pattee, of the Motor Sales company, was a short distance back of the car being driven by Baker. He noticed it swaying from one side of the road to the other and made no attempt to (illegible). Baker, fearful to lose control (illegible)

Pattee brought the two men and women on to Fort Wayne, the women getting out at Ohio and Lewis streets and then disappeared without revealing their identity. While Pattee was seeking medical aid for Lepper, Baker also disappeared. Much mystery surrounds the accident.

Mothers Make This Home Made Cough Syrup

The good, tender, thoughtful mother will make a full pint of the quickest acting, permanent result giving cough syrup which can be used by the whole family for coughs and colds, thus preventing pneumonia, sore throat, diphtheria and other fatal maladies. Just obtain a concentrated fluid known as Essence Mentho-Laxene, a 2½ oz. bottle, and empty it in a pint jar or bottle. Then take a pint of granulated sugar and pour over it a half pint of boiling water, stir, cool and fill up the bottle with the syrup. Full directions for

TO KEEP SKIN HEALTHY, YOUTHFUL, WRINKLELESS

Now that the social season is here, be especially careful to keep your skin in fine condition. You know how complexion defects appear under the bright light of the drawing room. Also how very evident are skin blemishes when similarly illuminated. Use a good discarded cosmetic, continuing the process which gives fair women their beauty and which leaves no trace of its use. At night I smear on a thin coating of ordinary mercolized wax, washing off next morning. This dissolves the devitalized particles of cuticle, and as gradually the fresh, velvety skin beneath comes to the surface, it has the same effect as a vacuum cleaner. It draws out

OTTAWA HAS GREAT RECORD THIS YEAR

Club Has Gone Down Once in Eight Games Played During Season.

In eight games played so far this season the Ottawa Germans have lost one and this indicates that the St. Paul troupe will have some job on its hands at St. Paul's auditorium in the game scheduled for Tuesday night.

No record was sent along to show just what teams have been defeated but any club that can take seven games from the independent in this section in a list of eight encounters must know something of the art of playing basket ball.

The club has been here once this season, having defeated St. Mary's athletics in a struggle that marked the opening of the new year and at that time played an impressive sort of game.

However, the Saints hope to set them back and to bolster up this hope the members have been working faithfully and promise to go into the fray in excellent condition. A great deal of attention will be paid to "Red" Buesche, of the visitors, who has played here before and who is one of the most dangerous men in independent circles.

The seats have been selling rapidly and as a preliminary offering the St. Paul Juniors will take on the Crescents, opening the bill at 8 o'clock.

Basket Ball Notes.

A game has been arranged for Fort Wayne on Feb. 27 between the Zanesville and the Em-Roe club. The latter is an Indianapolis five and claims to have won the independent championship of Indiana last season.

The Crescents won from the City Light men Monday night by a score of 19 to 14. The lineups and scores:

Field goals—Waggoner, 3; Agne, 3; wards; Robbe, center; Weikert and Schenning, guards.

Foul goals—Morrisey, 5; Drewett, 2.

The Turner Juniors beat the Bachelors Monday night by a score of 39 to 15. The line-ups and scores:

BOXERS TO SETTLE THE OLD ARGUMENT

Differences Between Holzhauer and Stewart Promise a Good Match.

For some years it has been a disputed matter between Young Holzhauer and Hal Stewart which of the two is the better boxer and Fort Wayne fans have been divided on the subject.

Through negotiations completed by Manager George Biemer, of the Summit City Athletic club, this question probably will be settled in an argument to be staged at the Majestic theater on the evening of Tuesday Jan. 26, when the two men will meet in a ten round match at 135 pounds.

A few years ago Holzahuer was one of the most promising youngster in these parts but illness put him out of the game for a time and he is trying a comeback. Stewart has been given some good matches in this vicinity and has made a showing that entitles him to consideration. He is working out at Payne while Holzhauer has gone to Chicago to get a line on some new points in the game.

Frankie Mason will meet Harry Bell, of Chicago, at 110 pounds and this event will be a ten round affair and ought to be a corking good mill as both of these boys are good ring generals and always give the clubs the best they have.

Roger O'Malley is the fighting name adopted by one of the famous Kegg brothers whose parents afflicted them with the names of Orange and Lemon and he is carded to meet Harry McHenry, of Montpelier, O., who has been on several bills here. This bout is looked upon as one of the best the management has ever staged.

The entire card is well balanced and with three ten round bouts the public is offered a show that will probably prove worth while.

CUTLER TELLS HOW BROAD SHOULDERS CAN BE DEVELOPED BY MOST SIMPLE EXERCISE.

(By Charles Cutler, World's Champion Wrestler).

Nearly everyone admires broad shoulders and an erect carriage. A little experience of my own will show you how they can be attained.

When I was about 13 years of age Robert Fitzsimmons was creating a big sensation, and the newspapers were elaborating upon his broad shoulders, slim waist and underpinning. To me that was the ideal physique. I procured a picture of Fitz and took it home to admire. Each day I would look at it before going to school and stand in front of a mirror, stripped to the waist, and go through exercises that I thought would develop myself to resemble him.

Gradually I began to broaden out across the shoulders, but I possessed the same slim legs. I remained that way until my ideas of an athlete changed.

I took up wrestling and here the thick legs of a Gotch were necessary. Road work gave them to me.

But I will explain how I attained broad shoulders, and, if you attempt the exercise, keep your mind constantly glued on your purpose.

Stand in front of a mirrow, raise your arms above your head and take a deep breath. Lower your arms slowly and horizontally until they are parallel with your shoulders. Then extend your latissimus dorci muscles (the muscles that run down the back of the body from the arms just back of the arm pits). The control of these muscles may not be easy at first, but persevere.

Then bringing the arms slowly to your sides, keeping the muscles under the arms rigid. This will gradually widen the distance between your shoulder blades and allow them freer play than before.

The old method of attaining erect carriage was to walk with the hands clasped behind the back, but this system had a tendency to allow the shoulder blades to become set in the middle of the back and gave no exercise to the trapezius muscles.

AMATEUR BASE BALL SERIES WILL BE ARRANGED AT CLEVELAND MEETING.

(By Hugh S. Fullerton).

America is to have another world's championship baseball series next fall, practically equal in scope to the one between the winners of the American and National league pennants.

The series will be between the amateur championship team of the east and the amateur champions of the Pacific coast, and, in all probability, it will be played in the stadium of the Panama-Pacific exposition late in October.

The further details of the tournament which will decide the amateur championship of the world will be arranged at the meeting of the National Amateur Baseball Association of America, which will be held in Cleveland Jan. 28.

Steps already have been taken (by officials of the association and by the organizers of the California League of Amateur Leagues and by the sports and pastimes committee of the Panama-Pacific exposition which will be ratified at the Cleveland meeting.

The series will entitle the winner to possession for one year of the Patterson [illegible] and to permanent possession of [illegible] emblematic of the amateur championship of the world for 1915, the 1915 [illegible] being the gift of the Newspaper [illegible] association, of which The Sen[illegible] is a member.

California has taken up the amateur baseball movement with great enthusiasm and at the Cleveland meeting will be admitted to membership in the National [illegible] association, making that body, [illegible] now practically controls amateur [illegible] in the greater part of the United [illegible] nation wide in scope.

The national association, which grew [illegible] last year, probably will have an [illegible] membership of 1,000 clubs which [illegible] themselves candidates for the [illegible] and many more thousands [illegible] the junior membership under [illegible] the association.

[illegible] admission of California's [illegible] association, the plan of in[illegible] events embracing the entire [illegible] become practical. [illegible] will be divided into zones, [illegible] Clinton Cutler, of Cleveland, [illegible] Coast [illegible] to determine their champion the leagues on the Pacific coast will be struggling to win the honor of representing the coast, and, according to present plans, the eastern champion is to go to the San Francisco exposition and play the coast winners for the championship.

California always has been strong for amateur baseball. Its famous high school tournaments, which unfortunately were abandoned several years ago, gave a great impetus to the sport but this winter it has enjoyed a revival that has spread all over the state.

San Francisco has its amateur league and the southern California amateur league is booming, Los Angeles and San Diego leading the movement.

It is expected that Bakersfield, Fresno and the cities of the valley will organize the fourth circuit to join the state league.

Besides arranging the championship series and admitting new members the National Amateur association will elect officers. E. C. Patterson, the leading spirit of America in amateur baseball, probably will be re-elected president.

Patterson has sacrificed much of his time to encouraging amateur organization and has enlisted strong support. His ambition is to make amateur baseball in America rank in importance with the [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

MANDA TO COAST LEAGUE.

Former Fort Wayne Player Sent to the Oakland Baseball Club.

Chicago, Jan. 19.—From White Sox headquarters come the information that another player had been severed from the list, cutting the squad down to thirty-four men, of whom thirty will be taken on the training trip. Carl Manda, the second sacker secured from Decatur of the Three-I league last fall, is the latest victim of the ax. He goes to the Oakland Coast league club.

LOCAL PLAYER HAS JOB AHEAD OF HIM

Wambsganss Must Beat Out Ray Chapman to Stick With the Naps.

Joe Jackson is the only member of the Cleveland team sure of his berth and if William "Goose" Wambsganss sticks with the Naps he must beat out Ray Chapman, who was one of the sensations of the season of 1913. An injury put him out of the running last year.

This sets a hard task for the Fort Wayne boy but he is a game fielder and his showing during the latter part of the season indicates that he will get a chance and a good one as Birmingham has to build up and needs some new blood to do it successfully.

The passing of Lajoie and Doc Johnston, for Doc will not be a member of the Nap's crew this year, puts all the infield positions on the market, while two of the outfield jobs are on the "For rent" list.

With this condition prevailing the class of ball put up by Birmingham's lads is sure to be much better than last year, for every man will be trying and putting forth his best efforts to grab off a regular berth.

Twenty-seven or twenty-eight men will comprise the party which will start training at San Antonio next month and they'll all be out there battling every inch of the way.

Four catchers will comprise the party—O'Neil, Egan, Billins and DeVogt—while the outfielders who are now slated to go are Graney, Jackson, Leibold and Elmer Smith. Another young outfielder who has not signed as yet may be among the candidates for the garden jobs.

The infielders will put up a merry struggle for the inner stations. At present there are two first sackers, Pete Shields and Ray Wood; two shortstops Wambsganns and Chapman; two third sackers, Turner and Barbare, and one second baseman, Bill Rodgers.

Birmingham has an ace up his sleeve should Shields and Wood fail to come up to expectations at the initial station, as Barbare is a first sacker and can also hold his own at either second or short.

Seven pitchers are now slated to start south, with the possibility of three more youngsters joining the squad later. The men who will work out at San Antonio are Steen, Mitchell, Morton, Coumbe, Dixie Walker, Harstad and Bowman.

With all the real vets with the exception of Terry Turner labeled among the missing, the youngsters will come into their own, and the outlook is bright for a club this year that twill hustle all the way and all the time.

Through the efforts of C. Henry, county agent, D. O. Thompson, secretary of the Stallion Registration board of Purdue university, has been secured to deliver a series of lectures in Allen county on March 4 and 5.

Cleanses the little liver and bowels and they get well quick.

When your child suffers from a cold don't wait; give the little stomach, liver and bowels a gentle, thorough cleansing at once. When cross, peevish, listless, pale, doesn't sleep, eat or act naturally; if breath is bad, stomach sour, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the clogged-up, constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food will gently move out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again.

If your child coughs, snuffles and has caught cold or is feverish or has a sore throat give a good dose of "California Syrup of Figs," to evacuate the bowels no difference what other treatment is given.

Sick children needn't be coaxed to take this harmless "fruit laxative." Millions of mothers keep it handy because they know its action on the stomach, liver and bowels is prompt and sure. They also know a little given today saves a sick child tomorrow.

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which contains direction for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. Get the genuine, made by "California Fig Syrup Company."—Adv.

MANY GUESTS COMING FOR PALACE OPENING

Chicago and Indianapolis to Send Delegations Here Monday.

There will be a big delegation of Chicago theatrical men and newspaper men and their wives in Fort Wayne on the night of January 25 to attend the opening of the Palace theater. Yesterday the heads of the United Booking agency, the greatest vaudeville combination in the world, informed Messrs. Barnett and Stouder, in Chicago, that they already had their trip planned. The visitors will arrive in Fort Wayne shortly after the noon hour and headquarters will be established for them at the Anthony and Wayne. Another delegation of newspaper men and vaudeville managers will come to Fort Wayne from Indianapolis to attend the function.

Tomorrow morning the Palace box office will be opened for the first time. Fifty cent reservations will be made on the main floor and the balcony floor, but the entresol and proscenium boxes and loges will not be offered for sale, as they will be reserved by the management.

Every precaution will be taken to insure against tickets falling into the hands of speculators and to that end no one will be able to purchase more than ten seats. In event of tickets being offered at a premium, the management will handle the matter with gloves off if the would-be victim informs the Palace as to the identity of the person attempting the hold-up.

Don't Merely "Stop" a Cough

Stop the Thing that Caused It and the Cough will Stop Itself

A cough is really one of our best friends. It warns us that there is inflammation or obstruction in a dangerous place. Therefore, when you get a bad cough don't proceed to dose yourself with a lot of drugs that merely "stop" the cough temporarily by deadening the throat nerves. Treat the cause—heal the inflamed membranes. Here is a home-made remedy that gets right at the cause and will make an obstinate cough vanish more quickly than you ever thought possible.

Put 2½ ounces of Pinex (50 cents worth) in a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup. This gives you a full pint of the most pleasant and effective cough remedy you ever used, at a cost of only 54 cents. No bother to prepare. Full directions with Pinex.

It heals the inflamed membranes so gently and promptly that you wonder how it does it. Also loosens a dry, hoarse or tight cough and stops the formation of phlegm in the throat and bronchial tubes, thus ending the persistent loose cough.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of Norway pine extract, rich in guaiacol, and is famous the world over for its healing effect on the membranes.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" (don't accept anything else) and don't forget that to the genuine Pinex you must add enough sugar syrup or strained honey to make a pint. Or you can use clarified molasses instead of sugar syrup if desired. Mix well in a bottle and shake. Keep tightly corked and use as directed. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ltd., Toronto, Ont.

IF BACK HURTS BEGIN ON SALTS

Flush your kidneys occasionally if you eat meat regularly.

No man or women who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well known authority. Meat forms uric acid which clogs the kidney pores so they sluggishly filter or strain only part of the waste and poisons from the blood, then you get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, constipation, dizziness, sleeplessness, bladder disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any reliable pharmacy and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which all regular meat eaters should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.—Adv.

THIS IS A BAD MONTH.

The indoor life of winter, with lack of outside exercise, puts a heavy load on the kidneys. Nearly everybody suffers from rheumatism, backache, pain in sides and back, kidney and bladder ailments. A backache may not mean anything serious, but it certainly does not mean anything good. It's better to be on the safe side and take Foley Kidney Pills to strengthen and invigorate the kidneys and htlp them do their work. They help rid the blood of acids and poisons. Sold by Dreier Drug Co.—Adv.

ANTWERP NEWS.

Antwerp, Ohio, Jan. 19.—Otto Earhart was among those that made a voyage to the Summit City Monday, he being called there to consult an oculist.

David Cromley and Morris Newton, of Defiance, and Victor Cromley, of Fort Wayne, were Sunday visitors at this place, the guests of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Cromley and family.

E. Bungard, of Hicksville, was a visitor at this place a short time Monday, while en route to Fort Wayne.

Rev. R. A. Walling, who is conducting a revival at the Church of God, north of town, which has proved very successful, was a visitor to Fort Wayne Monday, from which place he went to Willshire, Ohio, called there on business.

Mrs. Milo Schwab went to Woodburn Monday, where she spent the day as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Doering and family.

Miss Grace Kinkle and Mrs. John Lutz, accompanied by Master Don Lichty, all of Cecil, were visitors at this place Monday, where they spent the day as the guests of Mrs. Geo. Cofflet and family, at the farm home just east of town.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Brown, of Fort Wayne, came Monday and will be the guests of her father, Adam Reeb and family for a few days.

A revival is now being held at the Methodist church, Rev. W. C. Mitchell presiding, in which considerable interest is being taken and large crowds are in attendance nightly.

Wednesday, January 20th, will be the last day that taxes will be received at the Aantwerp Exchange bank.

J. H. Adcock, who has been confined to his home the past week by an acute attack of indigestion, has so far recovered as to be again at the store. Friendly disposed persons should not attempt to ingratiate themselves in his good will by offering his cigars—he has quit smoking; fast.

Frank Etter, one of our very progressive farmers, just west of town, we are informed, has just completed marketing 10,000 bushels of corn, raised by himself the past season. Frank is some hustler when it comes to results.

Paulding county has 7,527 children between the ages of 6 and 20 years and 5,459 of them attend school. This is 72.5 per cent of the total number, so it appears there is about 2,068 that do not get their share of the benefits to be derived from Ohio's excellent school system.

Miss Bertha Miller, of Fort Wayne, was a visitor at this place over the Sabbath, the guest of her uncle, Clark Wilson and family.

ORDERED TO WEIGH MAIL AT DEPOTS

Weighing Will Commence February 10 and Continue 105 Days.

Local postal and railway men have been instructed to get ready for weighing the mails, which will begin about February 10 and continue 105 days. Mail will be weighed by both the government and the railway representatives on trains and at the stations, as it was four years ago, the last time the mails were weighed. Mail carried by the Pennsylvania and the Wabash lines will be weighed on the elevated tracks before it is put aboard the cars and the incoming mail before it is taken down to be delivered to the postoffice. This will be the biggest job of the kind in Fort Wayne, because it is said that at least three-fourths of the Fort Wayne incoming and outgoing mail is carried over those two roads. The men who will have this work in hand have not been named. Four years ago, when the mails were last weighed, A. C. Twining represented the Pennsylvania.

CO-OPERATIVE STORE.

Union Men Assemble at Court House to Discuss Plans.

When E. S. Phillips, of Indianapolis, arose at the assembly room of the court house last night to explain the co-operative store proposition, he faced between 200 and 250 men, all members of local labor unions, and all supporters of the movement to establish a store in Fort Wayne and one in each of the other important cities in the state. As explained by Mr. Phillips the plan involves the establishing of a wholesale or distributing store for the state in Indianapolis, from which all of the co-operative stores in the state will get the stock of goods that are usually secured through wholesale houses. It is proposed to get from each member of the labor unions $1, which is to form the neucleus of the capital stock necessary to start the enterprise and later to apply this dollar on the shares bought by the contributor, which will be fixed at $10 each. The movement is being pushed strongly in the central and southern part of the state, Mr. Phillips said. The Indianapolis store is now in full operation and doing a good business. It has 12,000 stockholders, or has that number of shares out. At Evansville last Friday $14,000 was subscribed and a store will soon be in operation in that city. Princeton, Booneville, Fort Branch and several other towns in that part of the state will be ready to open stores within a month or six weeks. Mr. Phillips stated that the co-operative coal yards at Indianapolis sold to the stockholders over 90,000 tons of coal, saving them over $60,000. Mr. Phillips will remain in the city this week and attend the meetings of the labor unions to explain the movement more fully. He has given the matter a great deal of study and he has an experience in large mercantile establishments of fifteen years. P. R. Bell presided at the meeting and spoke briefly of the movement and Harry Roesener, of the Knitters' union, told of the operations of an organization composed of knitters and railway men with a stock of $2,500 which was started here some months ago.

Stomach Troubles Due to Acidity

SO SAYS EMINENT SPECIALIST.

So-called stomach troubles, such as indigestion, wind, and stomach-ache are in probably nine cases out of ten simply evidence that fermentation is taking place in the food contents of the stomach, causing the formation of gas and acids. Wind distends the stomach, and causes that full, oppressive feeling sometimes known as heartburn, while the acid irritates and inflames the delicate lining of the stomach. The trouble lies entirely in the fermenting food. Such fermentation is unnatural, and acid formation is not only unnatural, but may involve most serious consequences if not corrected. To stop or prevent fermentation of the food contents of the stomach and to neutralize the acid and render it bland and harmless, a teaspoonful of bisurated magnesia, probably the best and most effective corrector of acid stomach known, should be taken in a quarter of a glass of hot or cold water immediately after eating, or whenever wind or acidity is felt. This stops the fermentation, and neutralizes the acidity in a few moments. Fermentation, wind and acidity are dangerous and unnecessary. Stop or prevent them by the use of a proper antacid, such as bisurated magnesia, which can be obtained from any druggist and thus enable the stomach to do its work properly without being hindered by poisonous gas and dangerous acids.—M. F. P.

OWNER OF HORSE IS FOUND.

Animal Killed by Wabash Train Belonged in Lincolnville.

The owner of the horse killed on a bridge by a Wabash passenger train last Saturday was discovered yesterday. His name is John Moore, who resides near Lincolnville, Wabash county. The animal broke its hitching strap while tied to a post in Wabash and started for home, taking down the railway tracks. He got his legs down between the ties of a bridge and the train did the rest. The horse was instantly killed and the buggy smashed. For some hours a search was carried on for the driver, for it was thought he was in the buggy.

THREE SHOPMEN HURT.

J. F. Poiry, F. Gephart and W. H. Coil the Victims.

Three Pennsylvania shopmen were taken to the hospital this morning with injuries received while at work, though none is serious. J. F. Poiry, a boilermaker, had some toes badly bruised when a flue sheet fell upon his right foot. Frank Gephart, a car builder, had the back of his head and neck bruised when a scaffold plank fell and struck him at the east car shops. W. H. Coil, also a car builder, fell off a scaffold, sprained one of his wrists and cut an ugly gash in his forehead above his right eye.

PERU MAKES A KICK.

The Peru Commercial club and the citizens generally have joined the passenger railway men on the Wabash in the effort to get the management of the Wabash to change the passenger schedule of the system. The present system requires all passenger crews running between St. Louis and Detroit and St. Louis and Toledo to change at Danville, Ill. A large number of the passenger men on the Wabash reside in Peru, own property there and feel that the company should make that city a terminal for them.

HERE TO ATTEND POULTRY SHOW.

Engineer and Mrs. E. M. Sherbondy, of Peru, the former employed on the Wabash road, are stopping at the home of his brother, W. H. Sherbondy, chief electrician of the Pennsylvania shops. Engineer Sherbondy is an enthusiastic chicken fancier and has some of the finest fowls in the state, some of them now on exhibition at the poultry show.

J. B. MILLS WILL SPEAK.

The Print-Technic club and the families of the members will have a ball and social at the Fort Wayne I. O. O. F. hall Wednesday night. Preceding the dance J. B. Mills, councilman from the Sixth ward and head of one of the departments at the Fort Wayne Electric works, will deliver an address.

CONDITION VERY CRITICAL.

James E. Quinn, the retired Pennsylvania shopman, who suffered a stroke of paralysis Sunday, is in a critical condition today, his attendant being unable to arouse him from sleep. News from the bedside of the old man will be anxiously looked for by his former shopmates. Mr. Quinn is at the home of his daughter, Mrs. John Boese, of 1535 Andrew street.

SISTER DIES SUDDENLY.

W. F. Graham, of the Pennsylvania motive power offices, will leave tonight for Freeman, Pa., where he will attend the funeral of his only sister, Mrs. A. P. Wharton. She died yesterday after a short illness. Mrs. Wharton was the wife of Rev. A. P. Wharton, a Methodist minister.

MR. COTTER COMING.

General Supt. S. E. Cotter, who is at present acting manager of the Wabash, is in Peru this afternoon and will probably be in Fort Wayne tomorrow. He is making a trip over the lines looking after some business matters.

MOVED IN NEW HOME.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ropa are now at home at 1206 Organ avenue, in a handsome and cozy house recently erected for them. Mr. Ropa is a machinist and has worked at the Wabash shops many years.

President J. H. P. Hughart, of the G. R. & I., went to Pittsburgh last night, passing through this city in his private car.

Machinist Orin F. Opatz returned to work yesterday in the Pennsy shops, after a few days' absence because of illness.

Mrs. C. E. Paul, wife of Wabash Machinist Paul, will go to Decatur, Ill., the last of the week to spend a few days.

Machinist William Lang resumed work in the Wabash shops yesterday after a few days' absence because of illness.

Mearle Kimble, who was sick last Saturday, reported for duty at the punch room at the Fort Wayne Electric works.

George M. Smith, the Wabash blacksmith who was injured six weeks ago, has recovered and reported for duty yesterday.

C. L. Hepp, foreman of the Wabash blacksmith shop, was in Logansport Sunday, at the bedside of his mother, who is ill.

Henry Homeyer, a Wabash machinist's helper, who has been ailing for some time, went to the Peru hospital this morning to take treatment.

John Creasey and Robert Munse, students at the Fort Wayne Electric works, have been temporarily assigned to work in the general testing room, where there is an unusual amount of work at present.

Machinist J. A. Lechler, of the Wabash, was called to South Bend last night to attend to some business connected with the Good Citizens' league.

The snow storm last night covered a small area, being heaviest in the vicinity of Fort Wayne. It did not greatly interfere with the movement of trains.

Mrs. H. A. Weber, wife of the Pennsylvania machinist, will visit in Chicago for several days. She will be joined there by her husband the latter part of the week.

A special train bearing silk passed through Fort Wayne about 3 o'clock this morning, en route from Chicago to New York. The train consisted of seven cars.

Capt. H. C. Stoll, of the Pennsylvania police, was notified this morning that a young fellow who got off No. 15 at Gary had carried another passenger's overcoat with him.

Fred Rohrback, 1436 Lillie street, suffered a painfully lacerated foot yesterday when a large piece of iron dropped on it while he was working at the plant of the Engineering company.

George D. Anderson, the head of the receiving department at the Fort Wayne Electric works, is suffering from a severe attack of quinsy. He has been confined to his home since last Saturday.

H. A. Koenig, of Carworkers' union, No. 86, has been advised of a meeting of the Wabash System Council of Railroad Workers to be held at Danville, Ill., January 29 and 30. He will attend.

Machinist Ed Paul called at the Pennsylvania shops this morning for the first time since he had one of his fingers crushed, two weeks ago. He stated that he expected to report for duty next Monday.

H. W. Driftmeyer, the retired electrician called at the Fort Wayne Electric works yesterday to see the "boys." He worked for that concern from its start to January 1, when he retired on account of partial loss of hearing.

Mrs. Herbert Lankenau and baby will go to Grand Rapids the latter part of the week to visit two weeks. Mr. Lankenau, who is a machinist at the Pennsylvania shops, will go to Grand Rapids near the close of Mrs. Lankenau's visit and accompany her home.

Richard Falconer, Wabash machinist, who has been sick two or three weeks, is out and says he expects to resume charge of his machine in the shop next Monday. Mr. Falconer called at the shops yesterday to see his shopmates and to say that he would soon be at work again.

A combination baggage and express car, empty with the exception of some empty packing boxes belonging to the Wells-Fargo company, was totally destroyed by fire Sunday at Flint. The fire started from a hot box and got under such headway that it could not be extinguished and the crew of the train "cut" the car out and let it burn up.

T. L. Burson, an apprentice at the Pennsylvania erecting shop, fell at his home Sunday and fractured one of his fingers. The injury will not only keep him from his work in the shop, but will prevent participation in the basket ball game between the Erecting Shop All Stars and the gang foremen, which is to be played some time this week and which is attracting so much attention among the "fans" at the shops.

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Chicago, Jan. 19.—Increased receipts northwest counted against the bulls today in wheat. Lower quotations at Liverpool had also a bearish effect and so too did the renewal of snow protection throughout the winter crop belt, especially western Kansas. After opening ⅝c to 1⅛c lower, the market rallied somewhat but later sagged further than before.

The close was unsettled, 2⅛@2⅜c to 1¾c under last night.

Corn turned heavy with wheat. Besides, cables were disappointing to friends of higher prices. The opening, which varied from ⅛@⅜c off to ⅛@¼c advance, was followed by a moderate setback all around.

The close was steady at a loss of ¼c to 1⅛@1⅛c net.

Inquiry for provisions was slow. A decline in hog prices appeared to make buyers cautious.

New York Grain and Provisions.

New York, Jan. 19.—Flour market was steady.

Wheat—Futures were without transactions.

THE DAY ON WALL STREET.

New York, Jan. 19.—Stocks opened with another burst of activity and generally higher prices, but trading settled down before the end of the first half hour. With such exceptions as Missouri Pacific, Lehigh Valley and "300," all of which rose a point or more, gains were mostly fractional.

Following its early low, the advance was resumed on about the largest scale witnessed since the renewal of business. Transactions in the first hour aggregate 140,000 shares and embraced the greatest variety of issues. The significant feature, however, was that favorites asserted their former leadership although Missouri Pacific led all stocks in point of activity. United States Steel, after showing currency, was perhaps the most potent factor in the movement. Bonds were strong.

Active trade was resumed in the final hour, Reading increasing its gain to two points. Brooklyn Transit also became a feature. The closing was strong.

THE WEATHER.

OFFICIAL FORECASTS.

For Fort Wayne and vicinity: Snow and slightly warmer tonight; Wednesday partly cloudy and slightly colder.

For Indiana: Unsettled, with local snows tonight or Wednesday; warmer tonight.

For Ohio: Local snows tonight and Wednesday; slightly warmer tonight in north and west portions.

WEATHER CONDITIONS.

Since yesterday morning an extensive storm has given general rains over the Atlantic coast states, and snow over most of the Ohio valley and the lower lake region, the snowfall extending westward over Indiana. Last night seven inches of snow was reported on the ground at Evansville, and three inches as far south as Memphis. The storm has been followed by somewhat colder weather over the central states, but no very cold weather is reported from the northwest this morning.

Another moderate storm which is central over the upper Mississippi valley and is spreading eastward, is giving snow over Minnesota and Iowa. This storm will continue to spread eastward and will probably give some snow in this section tonight, with slightly higher temperature, and will be followed by partly cloudy weather on Wednesday, and slightly lower temperature by Wednesday night.

TWO FORT WAYNE BILLS SENT IN

V. H. Lockwood, both identified with the church federation of Indianapolis, and S. E. Nicholson, of Richmond, author of the Nicholson liquor law.

The committee adopted a rule requiring all person who appear before the committee to argue for or against the enactment of such a law, to give his name and the business in which he is engaged. In discussion of the bill Representative Meidrich, of Evansville, raised the question whether the bill county, for the repeal of the housing law in regard to a defendant being presumed innocent until proved guilty. The probable constitutionality of such a law was a question that interested members.

New Bills in House.

In the house 15 bills were introduced when adjournment was taken until tomorrow. The more important measures provided for the repeal of the present Indiana housing law, and for stricter regulation of hours of work of electric railway employes and for the safer operation of electric interurban cars. The bill of Representative Van Horn, of Lake county, for the repeal of the house law is brief and is in direct contrast to that introduced in the senate yesterday by Senator Clark, of Indianapolis, which would give health authorities power to condemn properties that they might deem "disease traps."

Representative J. R. Jones, of Plymouth, and Representative Friend, of Clark county, would regulate the hours of labor of employes of electric railway lines and provide penalties for officers of such companies compelling employes to violate the proposed law. The Jones bill sets forth that no employe shall be required to work more than ten hours a day or sixty hours a week. It provides that the superintendents of companies ordering men to work longer, if proved guilty, could be fined from $50 to $200 to which a jail sentence of from 10 to 30 days could be added by the court. The Friend measure would make it illegal for any one to take orders by telephone or telegraph for the movement of trains who has been on duty continuously more than nine hours a day unless such person has had at least one year's experience as a telegraph operator. The penal clause would make a fine of from $100 to $500 possible in case of a conviction, while railroad companies would be made liable for damages by virtue of injury to any by violation of the proposed law.

Broadens Mechanic's Lien.

Bills that would broaden the scope of the present mechanic's lien statute were introduced, including one by Representative Hagerty, of South Bend, which would make attorneys' fees liens on all claims, and collectable upon judgments being rendered in favor of his clients.

A debate took place on the floor over the adoption of the report of the house judiciary committee A on the bill to regulate the size of fish hooks. The committee amended the bill to legalize hooks 7-16 of an inch from the point to the shank to which Rep. Dunmire, of Elkhart took exceptions. He said the use of such hooks would make possible the catching of fish now protected by law.

MAY TAKE AN APPEAL TO UTILITIES BODY

Unless the Fort Wayne & Northern Indiana Traction company grants the petition asking for a new street car line west from Wells street on Second to the Grand Rapids and Indiana railway, or north from Second street on Runnion avenue to Spring street, an appeal will be taken to the public utilities commission, according to a statement made by Charles Butler, president of the Fort Wayne Heights Civic association.

A meeting of the organization will be held Wednesday evening in the Wayne Knit club house at which time all property owners of North Wayne [illegible]

WEISSER PARK WAR OPEN FIFTEEN DAYS

City Attorney Rules Park Board May Extend the Time of Hearing.

The Fort Wayne board of park commissioners late Monday afternoon adopted the resolution continuing for two weeks the hearing on the resolution for the enlargement and completion of Weisser park and in the meanwhile will receive all additional remonstrances and withdrawals that are presented. The new remonstrances and withdrawals will be kept wholly separate from those that had been filed up to 4 o'clock last Saturday afternoon, the first time fixed for confirmation of the resolution, and the board will determine before the hour of 4 o'clock in the afternoon, January 30, whether or not it will consider addition remonstrances and withdrawals that may be filed. The board also decided that there shall not be any further extension of time beyond the new date fixed for acting on the matter and that proposal to enlarge Weisser park shall stand or fall according as the situation may be at that time.

It is probable that no matter how the matter shall fall out at the end of the time extension the courts will be invoked to determine the vexed issues in this affair that has put the populace of the southeast park district in a turmoil.

City Attorney's Opinion.

These determinations by the park board rest upon an opinion given it Monday afternoon by City Attorney Guy Colerick in which he declared that the park board had an undoubted right to extend the time of the hearing. The opinion was written and was quite long. The gist of it is found in the concluding paragraph, which is as follows:

"The question that you present is not necessarily to be determined at this juncture of your proceeding. There is nothing in the statute to prevent you from postponing the hearing on this matter, and unless additional remonstrances or subsequent withdrawals are filed your question is not presented and it is my opinion that the time for you to decide as to your powers in this matter and as to the rights of remonstrants and withdrawers who file during the extended period and whether or not they can be considered arises at the time set for your final action under your order of postponement. At this time you will be in a better position to know whether or not a majority of the people (regardless of the question of law) want the improvement or not and your action upon these doubtful provisions may then be prompted upon your knowledge of the sentiment of the persons who are to be assessed therefor."

Likely to Go Into Courts.

The park board agreed that it would request Otto Fuelber, attorney and leader of the opposition, to enter into an arrangement whereby any purpose to seek an injunction to restrain the park board, in event the resolution should be confirmed, before the property for the enlargement of the park had been acquired and assessments collected. This course would stop procedure before a point had been reached that would involve the general city in responsibility for the cost of the real estate it is proposed to buy.

If the park board, on January 30, finds there have been enough withdrawals from the remonstrance to warrant confirmation of the resolution, it will probably follow that some resident property owner in favor of the improvement will start proceedings to have the courts mandate the park commissioners to proceed with the improvement. This will force the issue to a decision without risk to the entire city for the cost. Per contra, the opposition, should the resolution be confirmed, may seek an injunction to restrain collection of the assessments.

Discussed the Affair.

Preceding the handing in of City Attorney Colerick's opinion the park board opened its session for discussion of the Weisser park matter to some of the leaders of the hostile factions. Henry Lew, one of the opponents, said that he was there to demand justice and fair dealing from the park board and wanted that body to stand upon the ruling it had made itself for concluding the hearing last Saturday. He raised some material objections to the plans for improving the park, and these were answered by President D. N. Foster, and Members Louis Dorn and Louis Fox, of the board, by Frank J. Federspiel, president of the Southside Improvement association and ex-Councilman H. W. Felger, of the Tenth ward. Mr. Lew then fell back upon his demand for a square deal—justice and fairness to those opposed to the improvement.

Both Sides at Work.

Both sides to the intense and bitter controversy over the Weisser park situation remain at work to further crystallize sentiment for or against the improvement. [illegible]

A Country Party.

Frank and Miss Rose Roussey were given a pleasant surprise on Sunday evening by a company of friends who called to give them a house warming in their new home in Jefferson township. A game of progressive five hundred was enjoyed and following the game a lunch of bountiful quantity and appetizing quality was enjoyed. There were present Rev. M. Louen, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Lomont, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lomont, Mrs. Frank Reuille, Rosalie Lomont, Carrie Louen, Mary Ehinger, Rose Rorick, May White, Florence Snider, Frank Rorick, John Lomont, Clement Rorick, James Rorick, Joseph Voirol and Emile Roussey.

Mr. and Mrs. Clint Walton have returned from a visit in Youngstown, O.

Mrs. Caroline Ferry is very ill at the home of her daughter, Mrs. E. Boyles, of 813 West Main street. Mrs. Ferry is 100 years old, and her great age is likely to make it difficult for her to recover, in spite of her remarkable mental activity.

PARK LAKES CLEANED.

Under direction of the park board the lakes in Reservoir, Lakeside and Swinney parks have been sufficiently cleared of snow to permit skating Tuesday evening. The board also has had the sidewalks around the several parks scraped during the day, two men and two single-horse scrapers being detailed for the work.

WILL REMODEL STORE

AN EVENT SURE TO ATTRACT THOUSANDS OF EAGER BUYERS.

Rumors that have for several days been coming into this office of an impending gigantic sale of the stock of the Barker-Rose Co. clothing store, 714 Calhoun street, were today positively verified by the firm. Nothing ever caused a greater sensation among the buying public than this unlooked for announcement by Fort Wayne's leading men's store.

According to the firm, sale will start Thursday, January 21st, and run 21 days, until Saturday night, February 13th. It will have as its object the disposal of all goods for what they will bring in order to prepare the way for extensive remodeling operations and business extension plans.

"We were up against a hard problem," said a member of the firm. "Alterations and changes are necessary in order to handle properly our growing business. It would be impossible to make these with the store full of goods. To temporarily move or store the stock would not be practical. So we decided we would save time and trouble, and suffer no greater loss in money, by selling the stock out and thus give carpenters and workmen free swing later on. We also believe that by selling such goods as we carry, at the prices we will sell them, we will make many new friends for the future, and be able to start the Spring season early with a fresh, new stock.

Ranking as one of the better stores that sells the better grade of goods, the Barker-Rose Co. has [illegible]

Artillery Duels Outstanding Feature of Western Fighting.

Berlin, Jan. 19.—(By Wireless to London, 2:50 p. m.)—The German official statement given out in Berlin today says:

"In the western theatre except for a few unimportant skirmishes, only artillery duels took place along the entire front.

"In the eastern theatre the weather was very unfavorable.

"At Radsanowa, at Ciechun and at Sierpec (north of the Vistula river) the Russians were repulsed with heavy losses. Several hundred prisoners remained in our hands.

"On the west of the Vistula river and on the east of the Pilica river the situation generally remains the same."

GERMANS PUT FOES TO FLIGHT NEAR ALBERT

Berlin, Jan. 18.—(By Wireless to London 3 p. m.)—The German war office today gave out an official announcement as follows:

"In the neighborhood of Nieuport yesterday there were artillery duels but nothing else. No attacking movements have been undertaken by the enemy in the last few days. British mines have been washed ashore at several places on the coast.

"At La Boisselle, northeast of Albert, our troops who again had established themselves in the church yard of La Boisselle and in the hamlet to the southwest attacked the French with the bayonet and drove them from their positions. We took prisoners three officers and 100 men. Several French trenches have been captured in the Argonne forest. The French detachments occupying them were almost annihilated.

"The French attack on our positions to the northwest of Pont-a-Mousson against a hill which is two kilometers (a mile and one-fifth) south of Velcie, advanced as far as our trenches. This fighting is still going on.

"In the Vosges and the upper Alsace a heavy storm and fog has prevailed, interfering with the fighting.

"The situation in East Prussia has undergone no change. In northern Poland the Russians attempted to advance across a branch of the river Wkra, near Radzanow, but were repulsed. Nothing of importance has transpired on the Polish Vistula."

MOROCCANS HARD FIGHTERS.

Paris, Jan. 18.—(2:44 p. m.)—The French war office this afternoon gave out an official communication reading as follows:

"From the sea to the Oise there was yesterday a violent storm, particularly in Belgium. The day saw artillery fighting at certain points. Near Autreche, to the northeast of Vic-sur-Aisne, two German attacks were repulsed. In the sectors of Soissons and of Rheims there was no change.

"In the region of Perthes there was very efficient markmanship on the part of our artillery on the positions of the enemy.

"In Argonne the German attacks on Hill 263 to the west of Boureville, brought no results. We took possession of several German field works to the northwest of Pont-a-Mousson, in the only part of the forest of Le Pretre which is still in the hands of the enemy. We later repulsed a counter attack and maintained all our gains.

"In the Vosges there has been a heavy fall of snow. The enemy bombarded Thann but without inflicting serious damage."

Moroccans in Thick of It.

In the suburbs of Soissons were hand to hand fighting of the most desperate nature in which the French Moroccan regiments distinguished themselves, using their rifles as clubs after their bayonets had been bent or broken in the pitiless struggle.

Advices from French sources say that the allied front, in the positions taken up after the retreat is stronger than ever. London suggests that Germany may follow up their victory by inaugurating another forward movement. Berlin considers that the general offensive movement of the allies said to have been ordered a month ago by Gen. Joffre has broken down.

Today's War News Given in Summary.

The German attack on the western front has shifted northward from Soissons, and yesterday there was a severe encounter in the region of Albert. Today's official Berlin statement says that the Germans attacking with bayonets, drove the allies from positions northeast of Albert. In the Soissons region there is little activity. Several French trenches in the Argonne are said to have been captured.

The official statement from Paris disputes the German claim of victories in the Argonne, saying that the attacks were repulsed. Several minor victories for the allies are reported, mostly in artillery engagements.

The official observer attached to the British army headquarters denies the recent report from St. Omer, France, that the British troops had advanced one mile near La Basselle, capturing German positions.

In Russia so far as the official communications show, there is no marked change. In Berlin, it is said, attacks by Russian forces in North Poland which are attempting to advance toward the west Prussian border, were repulsed.

ITALIAN KING SENDS MESSAGE OF THANKS

Washington, Jan. 18.—President Wilson received a cablegram today from King Victor Emmanuel, of Italy, thanking him for expressions of sympathy following the recent earthquake. The message follows: "I am sensible very much of the expression of sympathy you have been so kind as to send me on this dolorous occasion. Please accept with my sincerest thanks, the heartfelt gratitude of the Italian people."

The latest message from Ambassador Page at Rome said the Italian government would not accept foreign assistance, owing to the present international situation.

"Two parties from embassy," the message added, "have visited region desolated by earthquake covering radius of some thirty miles. They corroborate reports of terrible devastation. Government estimates 25,00 as the approximate figure for killed and wounded. Foreign countries are thanked for sympathy, but owing to international situation, the government is not accepting foreign aid."

HAD PAID INCOME TAX OF $144,000

San Francisco, Jan. 18.—An income tax of $144,000, said to have been one of the largest paid the government, was turned in by L. V. Harkness, early associate of John D. Rockefeller, who died yesterday at the ranch of his son-in-law, Dr. A. King Macomber, near Hollister, Cal.

He was in California when the income tax was instituted, and the statement he filed showed the value of his holdings to be between $80,000,000 and $100,000,000. Mr. Harkness' hobby was fine horses and cattle, which he bred at his home place, Walnut Hall farm near Lexington, Ky. One of his choicest herds recently was brought out and placed on the Macomber ranch, where the aged millionaire passed the last six weeks of his life.

HE ORDERS A PROBE OF POOLING, ALSO

Washington, Jan. 18.—President Wilson, it became known today has included pooling agreements in the possible causes for the recent rise in the price of wheat and flour which he has directed Attorney Gregory to investigate.

The president sent Mr. Gregory a letter today formally asking him to investigate with a view to prosecution, if evidence was discovered of illegal combinations. The investigation already was in progress on oral word from the white house but up to the present time no facts warranting criminal action have been discovered.

In one of the affidavits Roger Bresnahan, manager of the Chicago Nationals denied that while manager of the St. Louis Nationals he traded Booth Hopper, a pitcher, for a bird dog.

HOUSE MUST HURRY A BIT

Capital Punishment and Eugenic Marriage to Get an Early Vote.

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 18.—When the legislature reconvened this afternoon after adjournment since Friday, the senate was ready to take up some of its more important bills for final action. The house is somewhat behind the upper house in the matter of preparedness for bills on third reading but it is expected to catch up today and tomorrow.

The McCormick capital punishment bill, the Neal eugenic marriage bill and the White drinking cup bill are the measures creating the most comment which are ready for third reading at this time. A roll call for the introduction of bills, will likely be the only business considered at the session in the senate today.

Meet Much Opposition.

Because of the opposition there seems to be against the capital punishment and the eugenic marriage bills it is thought that their authors will not call them for third reading until they have had more time to make friends for the measures. Both were before the last session and were defeated. Senator Neal's bill successfully passed the senate but was killed in the house. The bill has the endorsement of many state health officers, but is opposed by some senators on the theory that it will restrict marriages.

The bill to abolish public drinking cups, it is thought will find little op-

BIG TAX COMMITTEE TO MEET TOMORROW

Indianapolis, Jan. 18.—The state wide committee, representative of every taxable interest and class in the state, created by the recent Indiana state tax conference to "evolve and draft an equitable and modern tax system for Indiana, will begin its meetings in Indianapolis tomorrow. The first session will be held at 11 o'clock. The committees is composed of forty-five men and women and is generally recognized as being too large a body to work in that form. It remains to be decided whether it shall create, within itself, a real working committee or executive committee the general committee taking the position of an advisory and ratifying body or whether the subject shall be divided into several parts and parceled out to different committees as legislation is handled in the general assembly.

Uniontown, Pa., Jan. 18.—The First National bank, of Uniontown, failed to open its doors this morning at 9 o'clock and waiting customers were told that the board of directors were in session and an announcement would soron be made.

A large crowd gathered in front of the bank and a few minutes before noon a notirce was posted on the door announcing that the institution was closed by order of the directors.

The action followed long conference between the directors, Bank Examiner Gerald Smitrh and a representative of the comptroller of the currency. President J. V. Thompson said that the bank would not reopen until there was enough money in the counters to pay alrl depositors.

The First National, of Uniontown, has a capital of $100,000 and in the last statement the surplus was given as $1,000,000. Recently the bank paid an extra dividend of 700 per cent. until which time it led the roll of honor banks.

President Thompson isr one of the largest individual owners of coral lands in the country and it was reported last week that he was about to close deals in coal lands amounting to $18,000,000. Failure of these transactions, it was reported today, caused the closing of the bank.

LAST MINUTE NEWS

GUITERREZ TAKES TROOPS WITH HIM

Washington, Jan. 18.—When General Guiterrez left Mexico City yesterday, he took with him most of the troops garrisoning the capital. State department advices indicate that Guiterrez's present command is 5,000 strong, and officials here infer that few soldiers remained in the capital from the fact that first action of General Garza, the new provisional president, was to utilize the police force temporarily for military purposes.

SEARCHLIGHT ON DANVILLE DISTRICT

Danville, Ill., Jan. 18.—District Attorney Charles A. Karch arrived here today to begin the federal inquiry into alleged vote buying and corruption in this district last November. An emissary said to represent several political workers, was one of his first callers. It was reported that these workers were willing to aid in the investigation

9:30 a. m.—Group prayer meetings: Topic: "Helping Our Neighbors."

12:15 p. m.—Shop meetings.

7:30 p. m.—Evening service at tabernacle.

One hundred and seventy took a stand for Christ at the tabernacle and woman's meetings Sunday, making a total of 1,038 decisions thus far in the campaign.

Dr. Lyon has made a new record in northern Indiana and before the meetings close the prospects are that he will make a new record for the state.

The number of converts so early in the campaign far surpass the expectations of the most optimistic. Nothing like it has been seen in this section of the state.

Monday Dr. Lyon and his party enjoyed a day of rest after one of the most strenuous as well as the most successful weeks in their evangelistic experience. On Tuesday the campaign will be renewed and it is believed that the number of conversions at the end of the coming week will exceed the 2,000 mark.

Names Political Boss.

At the men's service Sunday afternoon Dr. Lyon named the political boss referred to by him last week and which created much excitement and comment. He made the following statement, which is self-explanatory:

"I have been greatly surprised as to the stir created as to who is the political boss of this city. When I stated that there was here a boss that would make Tammany under Tweed look like thirty cents, I thought I was stating such a self-evident fact that even for a moment it would not be questioned. When I said that he had been for years debauching the virtue and purity of the people, especially the young men and women, I supposed that anyone not intentionally blind would immediately know his name. I think so still. Doubtless he has had various representatives at different times, whose names you know better than I do, but his system has remained the same. He knows no party, combines with anyone who will do his bidding and fights any who will oppose him. He will resort to any means, no matter how unscrupulous, to gain his ends. Whoever is elected to office, his hands are tied so that he cannot do what he would. His recruiting stations are your chief corners, where he panders to appetite and passion, lust and greed. For years he has had his clutch on the throat of the citizenship of this city. It is time the people arise in their might and break his hellish grip. You know his name. It is John Barleycorn, familiary known as Booze."

Joke on Somebody.

Before beginning his sermon Sunday evening Dr. Lyon said: "I think the joke is on somebody in regard to the boss business. They say if you throw a stone in a pack of hounds it will always have hit the dog that barks. We hit the nail on the head this afternoon when we said the boss had been John Barleycorn, commonly known as 'Booze.'"

Then he announced that on next Sunday afternoon he would speak to the men on the subject of "Booze."

"There will be 'booze' in the tabernacle for men only next Sunday afternoon," he said.

Sermon on "Excuses."

Dr. Lyon spoke Sunday evening on the subject of "Excuses." The evangelist took up excuse after excuse that is offered by those rejecting Christ. He gave a beautiful word picture of heaven and the happy reunion with loved ones who have gone ahead.

"From the condition of many of our churches it strikes me that seventy-five per cent of those in heaven will be women," he exclaimed.

At another time in his sermon the evangelist shouted: "The rotten 'booze' element in Fort Wayne is trying to pick flaws and find something to kick about."

Dr. Lyon provoked much laughter in his imitation of a love-sick youth calling on his girl. As an illustration the evangelist pointed out how ridiculous it would be if the youth would say to his girl: "I would like to be your husband if I thought I would hold out." He said that the excuse given by so many that they would accept Christ if they

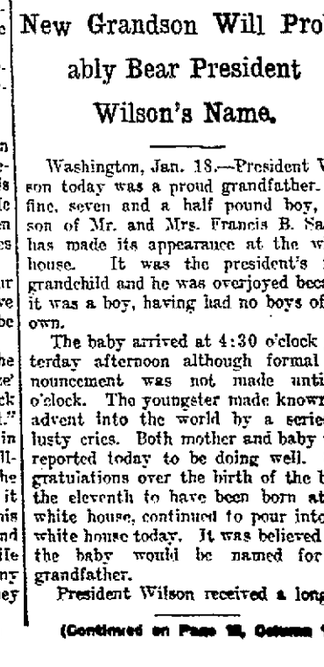
A Portrait by Jones



The above pen sketch of the "boss" whom Dr. Lyon says is so powerful in Fort Wayne was drawn by Rev. Loren Jones, the sweet-voiced singer and choir director at the Lyon tabernacle meetings.

SAYRE BABY MODEL INFANT FIRST NIGHT

New Grandson Will Probably Bear President Wilson's Name.

Washington, Jan. 18.—President Wilson today was a proud grandfather. A fine, seven and a half pound boy, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis B. Sayre, has made its appearance at the white house. It was the president's first grandchild and he was overjoyed because it was a boy, having had no boys of his own.

The baby arrived at 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon although formal announcement was not made until 6 o'clock. The youngster made known his advent into the world by a series of lusty cries. Both mother and baby were reported today to be doing well. Congratulations over the birth of the baby, the eleventh to have been born at the white house, continued to pour into the white house today. It was believed that the baby would be named for his grandfather.

2,000 DIGGING AWAY IN RUINS

Pathetic Scenes Mark Delving After Hundreds of Buried Victims.

Avezzano, Jan. 18.—More than 2,000 soldiers under command of Lieut. Gen. Marini are at work on the ruins of Avezzano, which may be described as a wilderness extending several square miles Signor Ciufelli, minister of public works, estimates the number of dead in the Avezzano district at 20,000 and 10,000 injured.

So altogether ruined is the city that it is difficult for the inhabitants to recognize streets, much less individual houses.

Avezzano was important as a manufacturing and trade center. The sugar works cost $1,250,000. Some of the machinery may still be of value. Other mills less important represented a property value of some $3,000,000. Prince Torlonia, one of the greatest landed proprietors in Italy, is the heaviest loser financially, but he declined to consider that at this time. When seen by the correspondent he had been up all night, working in the wreckage. The great Roman prince looked rather like a coal heaver as he had actually been laboring physically in the work of rescue.

Titled Women at Work.

Among the titled women who have came here to aid the injured is the Marchesa Di Sostego, of Florence. She is working as a nurse in one of the seven hospitals erected in the park near the new railroad station.

Incidents of the remarkable rescues that were made are gradually becoming known. One is told of a lieutenant of engineers, Cerri Evills by name, who came here and located the residence of his mother. He worked for some time alone, pulling away stones, but presently he was assisted by soldiers. After seven hours of the hardest kind of labor he found his mother alive and not very badly injured. She had been protected by an unbroken piece of wall falling over a corner of the room in which she was sleeping.

Another rescue of the kind made by women is also reported. The mother, it seems, had escaped and believed that her daughter must be alive under the fragments of her house. She gathered a party of women and she stimulated them to continue what seemed a hopeless excavation in nothing but a heap of irregular pieces of limestone. The mother on Sunday heard a voice just beneath where the women were working and they finally reached the young woman, who was roofed in and protected by two parts of walls forming an angle. One foot was held under a block of stone, but otherwise the young woman was unhurt. She had been without food or drink for four days and had been nearly suffocated by the dust of the pulverized mortar, which sifted down through crevices while the women were trying to reach her.

Experience No Feeling.

Then he said many people would not accept Christ because they failed to experience any unusual feeling.

"Feeling is sometimes the result of salvation, but feeling is never the cause of salvation," he explained. "There is no devil keeping more people from God than the feeling devil. Waiting for feeling would be a good deal like a man going into the timber with his ax on a cold winter day and sitting down on a stump and waiting for sweat."

At the meeting Sunday evening sisters were seen to lead their brothers to the front, wives their husbands and in one case a husband led down his wife. Gray haired men and women marched forward determined that their remaining days would be on the side of Christ.

Prayer was offered Sunday evening by Rev. M. C. Tunison. The choir sang as a special number "Wounded for Our Transgressions." The song service was opened by Mr. Jones' sunbeams and moonbeams.

Overflow Meeting.

An overflow meeting was held at the stminster church, the sermon being ivered by Rev. H. H. Pitzer, Dr. n's assistant. The church was about ree-fourths filled. The music was in harge of Messrs. Sutton and Upson, of e Lyon party.

Announcement was made Sunday evening that on Thursday night Dr. Lyon would speak to the women at the tabernacle, while a meeting for men only would be held at the First Presbyterian church.

Patterson-Fletcher Company

Mrs. Loren Jones will meet the high school girls at the First Presbyterian church Wednesday afternoon and Mr. Jones the boys. The meetings will be separate. Another noon-day meeting will be held in the assembly room of the court house Tuesday at which time Dr. Lyon will speak on "The Good Samaritan."

Men's Meeting.

More than fifty men decided for Christ at the men's meeting Sunday afternoon. They went forward four and five at a time, big strong, stalwart men, many of them in tears, resolved to lead Christian lives in the future.

It came at the climax of the greatest men's meeting ever held in Fort Wayne and following a sermon straight from the shoulder.

"Who will be the first to hit the trail?" shouted Dr. Lyon. One young man went forward. He was crying and in dead earnest. Others soon followed and nearly a dozen had made a new decision before Dr. Lyon asked the Christian men to get to work.

"If every man in this building would take the stand this afternoon it would mean a new Fort Wayne," Dr. Lyon shouted. "Come on men, get right with God. Do not hesitate."

No more inspiring sight was ever witnessed in this city. Many who did not take the stand raised their hands and asked that prayers might be offered for them. As each man marched forward he was cheered. Men stood on the benches and chairs. The personal workers went after their friends, but really it seemed that not much persuasion was needed.

Dr. Lyon spoke on the "Man and the Tiger." The evangelist declared it is the battle against temptation that develops the greatest and strongest life.

"Whenever we overcome temptation we are that much stronger for having had the temptation," he continued. He admitted that men have stronger temptations than women.

Attacks Fashionable Club.

The speaker again attacked a fashionable men's club in Fort Wayne, where he said gambling was permitted even on the Lord's day.

"Every joint whether high toned or low toned ought to be cleaned out." he exclaimed.

Dr. Lyon declared that there are gambling joints in Fort Wayne under cover. He also said slot machines were being permitted to operate in this city.

"The man who gambles and wins is a thief and the man who gambles and loses is a fool—take your choice," the evangelist exclaimed.

Speaking of the double standard of morals Dr. Lyon said two things are certain: Man is either going to ascend to the level of woman or woman will descend to the level of man.

"You can't keep this double standard any longer," he exclaimed.

Attacks Cigaret Habit.

The evangelist did not mince words in his condemnation of the cigaret habit. There is no habit so weakening to body and mind, he said. Either America must drive out the cigaret curse or the civilization of the country is doomed. He referred to cigarets as "coffin nails."

The evangelist discussed the social evil at length, the evils of lewd pictures, vulgar stories, the vice of licentiousness, quack doctors and sins peculiar to men.

Dr. Lyon said he had been told that there are many places in Fort Wayne where there are slot machines and by dropping a nickel in the slot, an electric light is turned on and most lewd and obscene pictures are shown.

"A man who supports or allows that kind of thing is too low down to live," he shouted. "If you know of such pictures and you don't make an effort to put them out of business you are in a sense a traitor to your own beautiful city."

Dr. Lyon asked every man to take a vow to hereafter treat every woman as he would have every man treat his mother, wife, daughter or sister to stand. It seemed that every man in the big tabernacle stood.

Dr. Lyon said that never before has he spoken to as kind or more courteous audience of men.

Wonderful Song Service.

One of the big features of the meeting was the singing under the direction of Mr. Jones.

"I want to say that Fort Wayne is one of the best places for singers I ever struck," Mr. Jones said. The men sang and then they whistled. Between four and five hundred men were seated on the platform and sang as a special number "Come to the Church in the Vale." Mr. Jones sang as a solo "My Mother's Way." When Dr. Lyon arrived while the song service was in progress he was loudly cheered.

The evangelist denied most emphatically that he was getting a graft, and created much laughter when he exclaimed: "Any man who says I get a cent out of these collections you just tell him I'm a liar." He immediately corrected himself by saying "He's a liar." The evangelist laughed just as heartily as did the audience at his slip of the tongue.

Before taking up the collection he asked for estimates on the probable amount. The estimates ranged all the way from $100 to $2,500. The collection, however, amounted to $301.01. Prayer was offered at the men's service by Rev. G. F. Byrer.

Sunday Morning.

After speaking Sunday morning five or ten minutes Dr. Lyon sat down in a chair on the pulpit platform.

"As this will be a hard day on me, let me rest." he said, and continued his sermon sitting, turning from one side to the other and talking in a familiar conversational way. The fact that he remained seated did not seem to detract from his sermon in the least.

The evangelist spoke on "The Lordship of Jesus." Prolonged applause greeted the following declaration: "The gambling room, the saloon and the house of ill fame are a trinity of hell, that run our politics. Do you begin to find out now who the political boss of Fort Wayne is?"

Every great revival in the history of Christianity is centered about some supreme truth, some truth that before may have been believed by the church, but had never yet received the emphasis that its importance had deserved.

Home Life Must Be Purified.

"Any real revival must begin by purifying and uplifting the home life," the evangelist declared. "We hear a great deal in these days about the servant girl problem. The name 'servant' itself makes the problem. You do not call a girl that works in a factory, office or store a servant, but if she works as a helper in the home then there is a class that deems her inferior. There is no more honorable work on earth than house work. I would rather have a daughter of mine assist some good Christian wife and mother in the duties of the household than to have her employed in many mills and stores and offices, where she would be subjected to countless temptations and dangers."

In closing Dr. Lyon said it is to be the application of this great principle, make Christ King, which is going to accomplish the result. Prayer was offered by Rev. P. T. Hale, L. L. D., of Louisville, Ky., of the South Baptist Theological seminary.

Women's Meeting.

Every seat was taken in the Wayne Street M. E. church fifteen minutes before the time set for the opening of the women's meeting at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon. The aisles, the choir loft, the gallery stairs were all crowded. Mrs. Daisy Barr, of the Lyon party, conducted the meeting. Announcement was made that an overflow meeting would be held at the Westminster Presbyterian church and Mrs. Jones and Mrs. Lyon would be the speakers. Mrs. Barr presented Mrs. Lyon to the women. Mrs. Lyon spoke briefly, expressing her satisfaction at the crowd and said that her work had been that of the mother in the home. Referring to her part in the present campaign in Fort Wayne Mrs. Lyon declared that her work here in this city was largely that of protecting her husband from the "criticism and the vile lies" which were being circulated concerning him. She said that she read Dr. Lyon's letters.

"I want you to know," said Mrs. Lyon, "that I read his letters first."

Mrs. Baar Speaks.

Mrs. Barr delivered an address to which the closest of attention was given by the hundreds of women who were standing. After outlining her life, which she did in a most entertaining way to the evident satisfaction of her hearers, Mrs. Barr spoke on "Springs That Dry Up." She said that women should be careful in their choices, picking out the essential things, the things which are eternal.

"My observation of woman," said the speaker, "is that she stresses the material things and neglects the spiritual."

Enumerating as the streams which dry up the streams of friendship, of youth, and of wealth, she said concerning the latter that the danger of America is in its mad rush for the almighty dollar.

Mrs. Barr condemned the mad rush for pleasure, and said that the people were going crazy over entertainment.

"I watched the scores of young women students of your high school the other day and as I saw their elaborate dressing I wondered what on earth women who have sons are going to do to rear their boys so that they can support such wives. We need an old fashioned revival of old fashioned women, who are willing to be helpmates to their husbands.

"She said that the spring that never runs dry is the old spring of God's love and goodness."

Mrs. Cleary Sings.

Mrs. Will Cleary sang a solo. Announcement was made that Mrs. Barr would meet the representatives of the Ladies' Aid societies of the various churches Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock at the Y. W. C. A. Mrs. Barr also announced that Tuesday night would be woman's night at the tabernacle and that Dr. Lyon would at that time speak to women only. At the close of the meeting the invitation was extended and eighteen responded.

The overflow meeting at the Westminster Presbyterian church was conducted by Mrs. Jones. Mrs. Lyon also addressed the meeting.

Saturday Evening.

Ninety-six responded to the invitation Saturday evening, three more than on the previous night.

In his opening remarks Saturday evening Dr. Lyon said: "I must say that Fort Wayne has the livest bunch of pastors I have struck. I am sorry that I cannot say this of every place. I have not found a dead one since I have been here.

"Another thing I have noticed is the pride you take in your city. Everyone of you are boosters for it. This is always a good sign and I like to see it. I am a neighbor of yours, and I am glad to be here and get acquainted with you."

Dr. Lyon spoke Saturday evening on "The Wanderer's Return." During the course of his sermon he impersonated a card fiend playing a game of cards which brought forth much laughter and applause.

Speaking of a church member who dances the evangelist said: "Whenever you see a church member doing the hesitation, grape vine, waltz or tango, you can rest assured that church member is serving the devil."

The evangelist said he had been receiving more letters from Fort Wayne citizens. Some of them are heart rending, he said. He declared he had more hope for the poor outcast girl who writes to him of her sorrows and the young man who is trying to break away from the drink or cigaret habit than he has for the indifferent and self-satisfied church member.

"Many are denying Jesus by refusing to testify for Him, and engage in active, aggressive, Christian work," he continued. "The scripture says that if any man has not the spirit of Christ, he is none of His. Jesus was primarily a soul winner. His whole being was absorbed in the great work of bringing men to God. If you are indifferent in the salvation of others, you are denying your Lord."

In closing the evangelist made an appeal for men and women to get right with God.

"Forsake your sins—come back to Him and He will receive you," he pleaded. "He will forgive you, and in these coming days He will use your influence and example nightly to bring others to God."

Saturday Afternoon.

Five hundred and twenty-eight boys and girls and young men and women marched forward Saturday afternoon, shook hands with the evangelist and signed cards agreeing to lead Christian lives in the future. When Donald Hunter, 319 Centlivre avenue, a bright little youngster, shook hands with the evagelist he said that when he grew up to be a man he was going to be a preacher. Dr. Lyon smiled and told him that was the thing for him to do. There were several colored children who went forward at the Saturday afternoon service.

Group Prayer Meetings.

"Helping Our Neighbors," taken from Luke 10:25-37, is the topic for the group prayer meetings to be held Tuesday morning from 9:30 to 10 o'clock at the following places:

KAISER WILL FOLLOW UP RECENT SUCCESSES

Allies Expect New Dash of German Forces to Gain Southern Bank of Aisne.

London, Jan. 18.—London is recalling that this is the 44th anniversary of the proclamation of Wilhelm I as German emperor and in the British capital it is expected the day may bring news of a wide spread German effort to follow up with a still more important movement the success achieved last week in the neighborhood of Soissons.

In London it is believed the Germans have adopted what is virtually a defensive whole to the west of Warsaw—some British observers arguing that this has been forced upon them by superior Russian numbers—and that these defensive tactics synchronize with the movement of many thousands of Teutonic troops from Poland to the French and eBligian battlefields.

The fighting at Soissons, some British commentators and declare to be the precursor of the entry of these new troops upon a vigorous offensive perhaps an attempt to cross the river Aisne. At Soissons the French failed to hold their positions on the northern bank of the river and for the Germans to attempt to gain the southern bank is regarded as a development to be expected. As to future engagements in this region, it appears to be a fact that the French artillery on the hills south of the Aisne commands all the approaches to the river and taht it will have to be reckoned with.

In the eastern arena of the war the steady pressure which he arrival of one million of last year levies has enabled the Russians to exert upon the Germans, according to news dispatches reaching London, has been slowly pushing back the German line to the west of Warsaw. News dispatches today report the Russian occupation of Plock. This report has not been confirmed officially, but the Russians on Saturday crossed the Surwa river a few miles below that point and may have been able to occupy the city. Russian forces already had reached Sierpec and Gombin lying respectively directly north and south of this provincial capital. The Russian defeat of the Turkish if the claims of Petrograd are fully borne out, was so decisive that it may mark the close of the Ottoman attempt to invade Russia in the Caucasus region. The Russian victory probably will free enough of the Caucasan army to oppose effectively the Turkish forces which are approaching the frontier further eastward through Persia.

T. A. Canfield has resigned as superintendent of construction of the Wildwood Builders' company, and has accepted a position as assistant city engineer at Indianapolis.

Young Taylor's parents are wealthy. They live in a beautiful home directly opposite John D. Rockefeller's great estate of Forest Hill. Phillips would never have to do a stroke of manual labor in his life if he wished not to.

But he simply can't help making things with his hands. It is fascinating fun to him and he has been known to work as late as 2 a. m., alone in the garage, over some trouble with engine or gears.

Phillips isn't the first boy automobile builder to be produced by Cleveland. Eleven years ago Merle France, a boy of thirteen, caused a great deal of amusement to the neighbors when he drove out of his yard one morning in his first home-made automobile, six feet long.

Automobiles themselves were still young then. Merle grew up with them. The neighbors, who laughed then, are proud today to be able to shout "Hello" to Merle as he drives in his big six-cylinder, seven-passenger car—also home-made, but a beauty.

Merle France has had several offers of excellent positions in big automobile factories because of the skill he has acquired through playing at making things, but he still prefers to work—fifteen hours a day is his schedule in his old workshop, where he and his brother are turning out a shock absorber and a mechanical starter, both of which are selling well on the market.

He built his first machine when he was fifteen years old and still in grammar school. Then he sold the machine for more than it cost.

His second machine, just completed, makes thirty miles an hour. He and a friend have taken long country trips in it. Phillips "just to show 'em," has carried seven passengers in "the car."

The engine is a single-cylinder, two-cycle marine. It gives seven-horse power in the machine. Phillips decided to use a friction drive and himself built the shifting, clutch and "V" belts. In fact, with the exception of the engine, the entire machine is of his own construction. The gasoline tank is composed of two ordinary gasoline cans, soldered together. The axles and belt rims for the small wire wheels are also home-made.

Phillips made friends with men in a nearby garage who allowed him to do his machine work there.

As an example of the ingenuity the boy has shown in constructing his machine, the running boards are so built that the weight of any load, placed on one side, is evenly distributed on both sides of the car.

"Aeroplanes? Yes, I'll probably be trying them next," says Phillips.

SURVEY STARTED FOR NEW ARTIFICIAL LAKE

Earl Rundles and two assistants started Monday morning taking a preliminary survey and water levels for the artificial lake proposed by F. L. Barthold, and which has the backing of a large number of prominent and influential citizens.

Rodney Fleming, state game warden, has agreed to stock the lake with edible fish.

Plans for the proposed lake were discussed at a meeting Saturday afternoon held in the office of A. J. Vesey, at which time it was decided to hold a public meeting on Saturday evening in the assembly room of the court house.

It is planned to build a dam in the St. Joe river near the Rudisill dam site and construct an artificial lake. In this manner, it has been suggested, a veritable pleasure resort will be made out of a sewer district and a waterway from Fort Wayne to Cedar creek will be provided.

A publicity committee composed of A. J. Vesey, L. H. Moore and R. D. Fleming was named Saturday afternoon. The officers of the organization back of the project are: Fred Shoaff, president; William Breuer, vice president; Allen Hursh, secretary, and William F. Ranke, treasurer.

ELECT OFFICERS.

At the annual stockholders meeting of the Portland Hotel Apartments company a semi-annual dividend of 5 per cent. was declared on the common stock and 3½ per cent. on the preferred.

The following officers were elected: E. L. Craw, president; Sarah B. Craw, vice-president; George R. Craw, secretary and treasurer.

CASCARETS KEEP BOWELS REGULAR AND CURE COLDS

No headache, sour stomach, bad cold or constipation by morning.

Get a 10-cent box.

Colds—whether in the head or any part of the body—are quickly overcome by urging the liver to action and keeping the bowels free of poison. Take Cascarets tonight and you will wake up with a clear head and no doubt you will wonder what became of your cold. Cascarets work while you sleep; they cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, undigested food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry off the constipated waste matter and poison from the bowels.

Remember the quickest way to get rid of colds is one or two Cascarets at night to cleanse the system. Get a 10-cent box at any drug store. Don't forget the children. They relish this Candy Cathartic and it is often all that is needed to drive a cold from their little systems.—Adv.

BIG POULTRY SHOW TO BEGIN TUESDAY

Everything is in readiness for the big poultry show of the Allen County Poultry Fanciers' association, which starts Tuesday morning in the Pfeiffer building, 111-113 East Columbia street.

Silver cups that have been donated for prizes are now on exhibition in a down town store window. The judges for the show will be A. E. Hamlin and D. E. Hale, both of whom are experts in the judging of poultry. Mr. Hamlin will judge the Mediterranean, Polish, French and Dutch classes and Mr. Hale the American, English and Asiatic classes.

The show will continue for one week. An unusually large number of entires have been made.

Battles in human blood between white corpsucles and disease germs have been photographed with the motion picture camera by two French scientists.

There are 925 separate operations in the manufacture of a watch that sells for a dollar.

THE SENTINEL'S DAILY SCRIPTURE READING.

Psalm 18:1-15.

1 I will love thee, O Lord, my strength.

2 The Lord is my rock, and my fortress, and my deliverer; my God, my strength, in whom I will trust; my buckler, and the horn of my salvation, and my high tower.

3 I will call upon the Lord, who is worthy to be praised: so shall I be saved from mine enemies.

4 The sorrows of death compassed me, and the floods of ungodly men made me afraid.

5 The sorrows of hell compassed me about: the snares of death prevented me.

6 In my distress I called upon the Lord, and cried unto my God; he heard my voice out of his temple, and my cry came before him, even into his ears.

7 Then the earth shook and trembled; the foundations also of the hills moved and were shaken, because he was wroth.

8 There went up a smoke out of his nostrils, and fire out of his mouth devoured: coals were kindled by it.

9 He bowed the heavens also, and came down: and darkness was under his feet.

10 And he rode upon a cherub, and did fly: yea, he did fly upon the wings of the wind.

11 He made darkness his secret place: his pavilion round about him were dark waters and thick clouds of the skies.

12 At the brightness that was before him his thick clouds passed, hail stones and coals of fire.

13 The Lord also thundered in the heavens, and the Highest gave his voice; hail stones and coals of fire.

14 Yea, he sent out his arrows, and scattered them; and he shot out lightnings, and discomfited them.

15 Then the channels of waters were seen, and the foundations of the world were discovered at thy rebuke, O Lord, at the blast of the breath of thy nostrils.

Playing With Fire.

Those who have taken some note of the recent crusade against the blind tiger evil at South Bend, with its resultant wholesale arrests for illegal liquor-selling, will be interested in news from Indianapolis to the effect that South Bend saloon men and others have launched a movement to unseat Mayor Fred Keller. They are at work among senators, representatives and employes of the legislature, and it is said that a deluge of letters, telegrams and petitions has been loosed at the state capital during the past few days with this end in view. It is strange that those who are engineering this scheme do not realize that they are playing with fire, and that an aroused public indignation must certainly overwhelm them sooner or later.

Mayor Keller, elected on a citizens' ticket, somewhat more than a year ago, appears to have been making an attempt to give South Bend the good government he promised it in his campaign pledges. He has aroused the ire of many politicians and of all of the lawless element. They are attempting to strike back, and purpose legislating him out of office by the enactment of a law limiting his term of office to two years instead of the four-year term to which the people elected him. They figure that their chances would be infinitely better with somebody else in the mayor's chair, and in their desperation are crying out that "unless Keller is ousted we will have hard sledding to elect anybody in the future." Without intimate knowledge of conditions at South Bend, the character of the fight that is being made on him indicates that South Bend cannot afford to part with him as mayor—and probably won't. We do not believe the Indiana legislature will furnish the power for axegrinding of that character.

It has developed that a good many members of the Indiana state legislature have been supplied with "courtesy cards" reading as follows: "The courtesies of the city of Indianapolis are extended to ——— member of the house of representatives," (or state senate,) as the case may be. The cards bear the signatures of Mayor Bell and Chief of Police Perrott. Now will somebody come forward and enlighten us as to just what privileges are either specifically or impliedly granted by a "courtesy card?"

The arrival of the stork at the white house with a baby grandson for the president will be ample justification for Mr. Wilson if during the next few days he is inclined to devote comparatively little attention to such inconsequential matters as governmental questions. The entire country will rejoice with the parents and with Mr. Wilson, and will cherish the hope that the youngster may grow into as great, as widely-loved and as superb an American as is his distinguished grandfather.

There can be no questioning the fact that opponents of the plan to improve Weisser park are clearly within their rights, and it would be manifestly unfair, also, to impugn their motives in waging a fight against the proposed park development in that section of the city. But another fact that should not be overlooked is that the only way to enjoy park improvements is to get them, and that the time to secure them is when they appear to be available.

That meeting of Fort Wayne men at the Lyon evangelistic services on Sunday afternoon will certainly go on record as one of the most remarkable gatherings ever held in the city. Five thousand men gathered in the great tabernacle, joining in prayer and in praise and listening with rapt attention to the speakers is surely evidence that the men are developing a full share of interest in the evangelistic effort now in progress.

UNEXPECTEDLY SECURED RENEWAL

We unexpectedly have been able to secure a satisfactory renewal of our lease on our present quarters. The Hamilton Bank has decided not to build, for the present, and has re-leased our present room to us. While this action was entirely unexpected to us, we, of course, were very happy to be approached by them last week with a renewal proposition, which proved of desirable terms. Preparatory to putting in a fresh, new spring stock of Clothing, Hats and furnishings and also putting into effect an entirely new plan or system of doing business, we have decided to run a

EQUAL TO A BATTLE.

(Pittsburgh Dispatch.)

Some of the reports from Italy assert that the damage of the earthquake is greater than that of the Messina shock of 1908. Others put its destruction as second to that disaster. The dead are now officially estimated at 20,000. Unofficial estimates put the dead and injured at 50,000. As the earthquake extended into Rome and damaged the priceless antiquities of that capital the damage probably exceeds that of any modern earthquake.

This is a loss inflicted by nature. Heretofore, the convulsions of the earth have been held to inflict losses more wholesale than any that can be devised by the wrath of man. But this case is brought into close comparison with what can be done by human power in the destruction of life and property. To the north in Europe the greater powers of that continent have summoned their forces to the destruction of each other so urgently that for every life or injury in Italy ten or twelve have been killed or maimed by the senseless quarrels of men.

Italy has been contemplating an embarkation in the war. Whether the disaster that has stricken her will be a deterrent remains to be seen. But when the shaking of the solid earth visits on the people loss of life by the tens of thousands, it certainly will appear to those who judge in cold blood that men need not seek pretexts to add to the slaughter. For the lives lost by the insecurity of the earth's crust no man can be held responsible. But for the far greater list of men killed and injured and the swollen total of buildings destroyed and women and children widowed and orphaned by war, the selfish quarrels of statesmen must answer.

Should not this lesson of nature teach the folly of man turning in to swell the total of slaughter? Certainly it would seem that this convulsion seen rightly should teach Europe the lesson of peace.

TEACHING PEOPLE HOW TO SPEND.

(Grand Rapids Press.)

Most people do not need to be taught to spend money—they know well enough now. But as Governor Ferris affirmed in an address in this city not long ago, many people on the border of chronic debt could be piling up reasonably good bank accounts if they knew how to spend wisely. It is not what you earn, but what you save that counts. A group of middle class women endowed with generous instincts the other day shared experiences with these results:

One woman denied herself the pleasure of attending a high-priced concert in order to give the price of the tickets to a needy family, only to be told later that the needy family had invested her gift in the concert diversion. A mistress who was wearing out her old furs found her maid investing in a set of expensive ones, on the installment plan—furs much finer than the mistress could afford.

Another maid with a set of furs given as a Christmas present cut them up and threw them away while she bought a new set; her employer fished the set out of the garbage can, paid two dollars for the scraps and sent them to a local dealer who put them together again satisfactorily enough to make a fairly good outfit for the young daughter of the house owner. Next door lived a family known to be in financial straits, yet daily the garbage can was loaded with castoff food from the table which the economical neighbor would have been glad to use instead of throwing away. The same family, three months behind with their rent, invested in a piano.

High cost of living has a good many different angles.

AMERICAN GLOBE-TROTTERS TO DISCOVER ALASKA THIS YEAR.

Seattle, Wash., Jan. 8.—Some of the thousands of wealthy Americans who have annually gone to Switzerland, Norway and Sweden in search of the picturesque and sublime are expected this spring to discover that there is such a country as Alaska—a land of towering mountain ranges, magnificent fiords and glaciers and great, wilderness rivers.

Alaska can discount anything which the natural show places of Europe can boast. Its mountains overtop Mt. Blanc, the fiords of the Southeastern Archipelago glaciers dwarf the Mer de Glace, and the fiords of the Southeastern Archipeligo do not suffer by comparison with those of Norway, whose praises are yearly chanted by streams of sight-seers. Alaska's beauties can practically all be seen from the deck of steamers, without the discomfort of tedious railway travel.

The glaciers of America's northland terminate on the ocean border or interior rivers, with towering fronts from 200 to 300 feet high and miles in width.

At the Child's glacier one may loll at ease in a bed of flowers on the Copper river bank, while towering above the great sea of green-white ice splits and cracks with detonations like artillery fire. From time to time great avalanches slide into the water, creating titanic waves.

Along the Alaska peninsula the tourists may witness the tremendous pent-up energy of internal fires; islands made playthings by earthquake action, rising one year and falling the next, and peaks towering a mile higher than the Swiss champions.

If you want something new to talk over at your club or at your pink tea, take a look at Alaska in a "see America first" tour.

Twenty-Five Years Ago

What The Sentinel Had to Say About Persons and Events Twenty-Five Years Ago.

Miss Nellie French, of Dr. S. B. Brown's dental office, is on the sick list.

Rev. Mason Long addressed the Philalethean society last evening, his subject being "Temptations."

Councilman P. J. Scheid, assistant foreman of the Pittsburg machine shop, is on duty again after an illness.

Prof. Fred Reincke has divided the men of his orchestra so that he can furnish music for two different occasions for the same night.

The fox drive in Monroe and Madison townships was an exciting affair. Captain Colbaier and Ed Finan brought down the only two sly Reynards and one of them was presented to Sheriff George Viberg, who will place it in the hands of a taxidermist to be properly mounted.

Col. C. A. Zollinger informed The Sentinel today that he had not decided to engage in business in Huntington with Col. C. E. Briant, nor even to engage in business in that city at all.

Though simple and unostentatious as his life had been, the funeral of the late Hon. William Fleming yesterday was the most impressive and imposing event of that solemn nature in the history of Fort Wayne. The Cathedral was crowded to its capacity and hundreds could not gain entrance. The services consisted of a solemn requiem mass, of which Rev. J. H. Brammer was the celebrant. His sermon was an eloquent tribute to the great man who has gone and a pathetic summary of the loss his family and the community had suffered. Scores of men prominent in the political and business life of Indiana came from points distant to attend the funeral. The pall bearers were A. C. Trentman, B. S. O'Connor, John Brannan, J. H. Bass, S. E. Morss, R. C. Bell, O. P. Morgan and S. B. Bond. The floral offerings were numerous and rich. The cortege was a long one, practically all of the available vehicles in the city being in requisition.

The Best Croup Medicine.

As a Farmer Views Question of Prices

To the Editor of The Sentinel:—I saw in your edition of Jan. 13, that in the investigation of increase of price of wheat products was laid to the farmers. Now if any one cared to investigate they know that a great many farmers have not the storage room to hold their wheat, many in the west being compelled to thresh their wheat upon the ground until they could haul it to the elevators and a great deal was sold to the buyers for one dollar per bushel—some as low as 68 or 70 cents per bushel. Now I would ask if the farmers got the profit on that sold, or the board of trade? True, the farmers have some wheat left, but not many average or have much, for he is forced to sell his product for what he can get. This the buyers and board of trade understand, so they keep prices down until they get the larger portion in their control and then the price soars up, reaping their harvest off the poorer farmer and consumer. True some of the more able farmers are benefited by their graft and gambling—not many in comparison to the whole farmer class. I am informed that more than three-fourths of the wheat product of 1914 has passed from the farmers to the buyers. If this be true, who is to be blamed for the high price of wheat products—the one that raises it or the buyers? The board of trade knows by statistical report nearly the amount that will be harvested that year before it is all threashed, which is furnished to them. The European war has been a big factor in the increase of price of food products, especially wheat, because that is more easily shipped than some other food products. Who gets the benefit—the board of trade or the small farmer? I believe the board of trade and statistical reports are a damage to the farmers, especially the smaller ones, because, for one reason, they are not organized into a protective association, as nearly every other business is. The farmer takes his product to market. The price is arranged by retail grocers and other unions of trade and the farmer is compelled to take the price prearranged by retail union, grocer, merchant, elevator union, buyers, the millers' union and nearly every other business. Even the tax dodger wants all taxes assessed on land which would be a special burden on the farmer. The merchant and the groceryman would go nearly scott free when some of their household furnishings and their jewels cost more than many of the farmers' farms. When the farmer wants to purchase anything the price is always made by the seller. A FARMER.

The Real Trouble.

Many women are worried because their complexion has become sallow and muddy. In trying to cover it up with face powder they make a bad matter worse. The real trouble is with the liver. Take Chamberlain's Tablets and correct the disorders of your liver and your complexion will be greatly improved. These tablets also improve the general health, and no woman can reasonably hope to be beautiful unless healthy. For sale by all dealers.—Adv.

QUARANTINE LIFTED.

Danger of Hoof and Mouth Disease is Passed, it is Believed.

As it is believed that all danger of another outbreak of the hoof and mouth disease in Allen county is practically passed, Dr. W. E. Myers, county and state veterinarian, has lifted the quarantine from a number of farms in Madison and Jefferson townships.

As a result of lifting the quarantine from these two townships stock may again be sold from all farms that were not individually quarantined, as before the discovery of the disease within the boundaries of the two townships.

Individual quarantines have been lifted from the following farms: Frank, Edward and Joseph Girardot, Jesse Frye, M. A. Roberts, F. J. Murphy, George Shirley, Fred David, Mary Dinger, John Dinger, J. H. Heisler and Fred Heckler.

The farm of John Nail in Jefferson township, where several head of stock was killed sometime ago after the discovery of the hoof and mouth disease, is still under quarantine.

CRIMP IN LIQUOR TRADE.

Charleston, W. Va., Jan. 18.—Fred O. Blue, commissioner of prohibition, said today that the decision of the United States circuit court at Richmond, Va., yesterday, would immediately put an end to the solicitation of orders for intoxicants to be delivered to West Virginia customers and would be of inestimable value to his department in enforcing the prohibition laws.

"The ruling of the court, said Commissioner Blue, "is so stringent that railroads and express companies operating in West Virginia can not afford to take the risk of delivering intoxicants from other states to West Virginia customers."

The decision asserted that unless a consignee could show conclusively that he ordered liquor for personal use without advertisement on the part of the consignor or without other solicitation, common carriers might be restrained from making deliveries in the state. The decision was on the state's appeal fom an adverse decision of the lower courts in the case of a Cincinnati wholesale liquor firm and an express company.

Mrs. H. H. Barcus returned to Bluffton today after a few days' visit with Mr. and Mrs. Max Blitz.

The Pickwick Literature club will meet tomorrow afternoon with Mrs. Pence, of 731 Poplar street.

Mrs. Edward Huebschman, of Cleveland, is visiting her mother, Mrs. Bertha Strasa and family, of Ewing street.

Miss Mollie Greensfelder has returned from a visit with her brother, Eli Greensfelder and family, of Logansport.

Messrs. Emil Bouillet and Henry Simon went to Chicago on Saturday to hear Fritz Kreisler, the famous violinist.

Mr. and Mrs. D. P. Goodrich, of Wildwood avenue, have been entertaining Hon. H. M. Higginbotham, of Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Rose, of Chicago, are spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Chester G. Schiefer, of Edgewater avenue.

Mrs. Gottlieb Sihler, of New York city, went to Cleveland yesterday after a visit of several weeks with Miss Elizabeth Sihler.

Mrs. Leo A. Ivins and daughter, Suzanne, will leave tomorow for a visit with Dr. and Mrs. Lewis P. Ivins, of Cincinnati.

Sheriff Hoff, of DeKalb county, and his wife, have returned home after a visit with Mrs. Hoff's sister, Mrs. Frank J. Darling, of Clay street.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert W. Fee have returned from their wedding trip and are at home with Mrs. Fee's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Heit.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Hettler, of Chicago who were guests for a few days of Mr. Hettler's mother, of East De Wald street, have returned home.

Miss Sadie Ten Broek, of Grand Rapids, who had been visiting the Misses Irma and Josephine Henderson since the holidays, has returned home.

Miss Martha Pinkert, of Chicago, who had been visiting Mrs. H. W. Luhman and in whose honor a number of pretty parties were given, has returned home.

Miss Lucy Bash, who spent several weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Bash, has returned to New York city to continue her vocal studies.

Mrs. Cyrus Arnold, who had been with her sister, Mrs. Joseph Lohman, and other relatives here since the beginning of the holidays, returned to Detroit, Mich., yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. George L. Potter, Mrs. Chauncey O'Neal and child, and Mrs. Julia F. White who were visitors in the city for a few days, returned to their eastern homes yesterday.

The members of the Wednesday Bridge club and their husbands were entertained at dinner on Saturday evening by Mrs. Marshall Coolincarrish and Mrs. Fred Ranke, two of the members.

Among the recent companies in the way of an afternoon kaffee klatsch given to honor Miss Sophie Becker, of Washington, D. C., was that for which Miss Becker's niece, Mrs. Lawrence Eberbach, was hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Bostick, of Washington boulevard west, have been entertaining for a day or two Mrs. Bostick's sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Nelson, of Mt. Kisco, N. Y., who were on their way to California.

A tiny birthday party with a tiny girl for the hostess on Saturday afternoon, was Jean Grottendiek, three years old, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Grottendiek, of West Wayne street. Six little girls enjoyed the good time.

Mrs. W. M. Griffin went to Chicago today for a visit with friends who are giving a house party. Mrs. Honeywell, of Wabash, who has met many friends of Mrs. Griffin during several visits here, is to be another of the house party.

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Puckett gave a dinner party of pretty arrangement last evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Rose, of Chicago, and also as a compliment to Mrs. E. Scroggy and Miss Gretta Scroggy who are to leave the city this week for a two months' absence. Covers at the dinner were laid for ten.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Virgil, of Manila, P. I., have reached Seattle, Wash., and are going to live there. The information interests many Fort Wayne friends who have met Mrs. Virgil on the occasion of her visits to her sister, Miss Kay Spencer.

Mrs. John Schumaker of the English tearoom is going to Florida tomorrow for a two week's pleasure trip. Mrs. Schumaker will be joined in Cincinnati by her sister. The ladies will visit St. Petersburg, Winterhaven and other. Mrs. Schumaker had charge of an important dinner party yesterday in Payne, O., at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Brady.

Master Norwin Miles, of Suttenfield street, was six years of age on January 13, but his birthday party which some of his kindergarten friends went to enjoy, was given on Saturday afternoon. The children spent a merry time playing games then Master Norwin led the way to the diningroom for the supper that was served in a pretty and dainty manner with a pink frosted cake lighted with six candles as a centerpiece. The children who helped Norwin in this good time were Dorothy and Bernadine Bennett, Norma Sprandel, Dorothy Mead, Robert Smith, Noble Miller, Arthur Sprandel and Richard Miles.

Nebraska School P.-T. Club.

There will be a meeting of the Nebraska school parent-teacher club tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. All mothers of the district are invited to attend whether they have children in school or not. Mrs. Barr, of the Lyon evangelistic party will make the address and there will be special musical program in charge of Mrs. Lipkey. Miss Lucile Dale and others will sing. After the program there will be a social hour.

AT THE MAJESTIC.

"The Shepherd of the Hills," Tomorrow for Two Days.

Harold Bell Wright's most popular novel, "The Shepherd of the Hills," of which a million copies have been sold, has been made into a play by its author with the assistance of Elsbary W. Reynolds. The engagement is for 2 days starting tomorrow evening.

The play is practically a true narrative of life among the humble dwellers of the Ozarks. It touches all the emotions, and its influence is wholesome and helpful, notwithstanding several rough characters that figure more or less prominently. It is hardly necessary to add that a pretty romance is woven into the humor, pathos and tragedy, for the play throughout is one of human interest with a conclusion that is thoroughly satisfactory to "Young Matt," and of course to the auditors.

"The Smart Set" Engagement Opens on Thursday.

A delightful melange of song, humor, comedy and surprises is promised in the latest production of the famous "Smart Set" company, which will be the attraction at the Majestic on Thursday and Friday. The production bears the title of "His Excellency the President" and will have as the leading funmaker that incomparable and resourceful comedian, Salem Tutt Whitney. The piece is a musical comedy in which bright scintillating fun is said to be to the fore. It relates the adventures of a shiftless darky who flaunts himself as the ruler of a South American republic. Mr. Whitney will have the assistance of Homer Tutt and Blanche Thompson, a young woman possessed of a voice out of the ordinary.

AT THE TEMPLE.

AT THE EMPRESS.

Tomorrow afternoon all the ladies who attend the Empress theatre will receive a card which will tell them how they can have the opportunity of securing a new spring suit, at one of the leading stores in the city free of charge. Wednesday afternoon will be fat ladies' day at the Empress. All ladies over 200 pounds in weight will be admitted to the theatre free of charge Wednesday evening. This is because of the fact that Miss Santos in the act of Santos and Hayes weighs 320 pounds while her partner weighs only ninety pounds.

Murray K. Hill is tickling everybody with his laugh act at the Empress. He is the speed boy with the jokes. The De Koe troupe are people who put on an acrobatic act of unusual and engrossing features. There is a midget in this troupe who is little short of wonderful.

AT THE LYRIC.

"The Education of Mr. Pipp," first given to the American public in a series of pen and ink drawings by the master, Charles Dana Gibson, and later presented in the legitimate in a dramatization done by Augustus Thomas, is to be seen at the Lyric today and tomorrow on the screen. Augustus Thomas, the foremost dramatist of the day, had personal charge of the picturization of his drama, and with the vastly more varied resources of the photo-play, Mr. Thomas was able to give us a more intimate acquaintance with Mr. Pipp and his interesting family than he could in the original dramatization. Pipp appears much more the man and the two daughters of the meek and lowly Pipp are given a much better presentation on the screen than could be possible on the legitimate stage.

Mrs. Fred Muhler, who recently underwent an operation at the Hope hospital, has been removed to her home at 1025 West Washington street. She is much improved.

"IS DAINTY APPAREL PERMISSABLE IN THE OFFICE"?

(By Idah McGlone Gibson.)

This little sermon was written because I received one morning a number of questions on the subject of how a working girl should dress. Here are some of them:

"There have been some remarks passed about the office concerning my dress. I think I am dressing in good taste and within my means, but, for fear I am wrong, I have come to you for advice.

"I am a girl of eighteen years and am especially fond of dainty things such as silk stockings, pumps, lacy collars, etc. I work in a downtown business office where the girls dress very plainly, and my salary is just the same as most of theirs. I would rather deny myself pleasures and dinners that the other girls enjoy and buy pretty things for myself.

"Do you think it is proper for a working girl to wear silk stockings and low-necked lacy waists to work if it makes her happy and comfortable?"

The girl who works is criticized about a great many things, but on no other subject is she criticized as often as the subject of dress.

Every woman thinks, of course, that her standard of dress is the best. And if the girl who works would follow the rules set down by the woman who does not work she would spend the money she earns for clothes that would be a uniform of the plainest kind at the office, factory or store.

It's so easy to tell the other person what to do.

Every normal girl loves pretty clothes. And the girl who works six days a week has very few places to wear them except at the place where she spends most of her time.

There are dainty bits of apparel that are not appropriate for an office. But I am of the opinion that it is perfectly all right for a girl to wear some clothes as dainty and pretty as she can afford.

I can see no harm in a girl wearing silk stockings if her salary permits her to do so. And as for wearing the universal "low neck" I think it is much more sensible than to swathe her pretty throat in a great high collar.

No, little girl, if you like dainty shoes and stockings and soft, pretty shirtwaists, you may certainly wear them if your means permit.

But in so doing remember it sometimes follows that the question arises: "How can she afford to have such clothes? Sometimes, if not often, the suspicion of there being other ways of obtaining money to spend on clothing arises in the mind of the questioner who knows well how much she herself can afford to spare on stockings at $1.50 to $2.50 per, etc., etc., and other things in proportion. Of course suspicion does not always imply evil, nor does it follow that because one girl dresses in better taste or with prettier things than another that she must have spent more money. Some girls are better buyers, find a bargain quicker, use better judgment and are even cleverer in adapting their clothes to themselves than others. Therefore they appear to spend more money on themselves. A more important question is, Do you spend all you earn to put it on your back, and if you do, is it wise?

AT THE JEFFERSON.

One of the most significant triumphs ever attained by a motion-picture actress was scored by Florence Reed at the Jefferson theatre is a film version of Henry Arthur Jones' noted drama, "The Dancing Girl." This intense drama might have been written for the screen, for full of action and picturesqueness is every scene, the colorful exteriors of the rocky coast of "Endellion Isle" contrasting with the rich interiors of the elegant home of the profligate Duke of Guiseberry, under whose patronage the dancing girl lives for a while, and there is the dramatic comparison of the sober life of the Quakers on the isle with the gay existence lead by the gay Bohemians at Guiseberry house, with whom the Quaker girl mingles when she becomes the mistress of the Duke.

Florence Reed's initial screen appearance entitles her to consideration as one of the greatest motion picture actresses in the history of the mimic art. Leon Ormonde as the Duke plays his part with refinement and feeling

Robert Edeson, the foremost romantic star on the American legitimate stage, comes to the Jefferson tomorrow in a filminized version of his great stage success, "The Girl I Left Behind Me," and which was written by David Belasco. The appearance at this theatre of an artist possessing the dramtic prominence of Robert Edeson is an event note worthy in every way, and an occasion in theatrical circles that will arouse interest to an unprecendated height.

AT THE COLONIAL

"HIS HIGHNESS THE PRINCE."

Charming Comedy With Excellent Company Comes to the Colonial Today.

One of the most enjoyable comedies of the season comes to the popular Colonial theatre today under the title of "His Highness the Prince," with an excellent company.

This delightful comedy is full of life and fun and there is something doing every minute from the start to the roaring finish.

"The Judge's Wife."

The co-attraction on today's program is a three part drama, "The Judge's Wife" with Miss Neva Gerber in the leading role. The play has an emotional appeal which will leave a lasting sense of enjoyment with those who see it. Miss Gerber, the delightful little leading lady, gives a most convincing impersonation of the title role.

"The Lure" Tomorrow.

One of the most talked of plays, "The Lure," with an all star company—the same one, in fact, that made the play such a success on the legitimate stage, will be the attraction at the Colonial tomorrow.

The play is one of thrilling appeal, which teaches a good lesson to all who see it.

"Runaway June."

Wednesday, the second installment of George Randolph Chester's fascinating serial, "Runaway June," will be shown at the Colonial together with the famous comedy, "The School for Scandal," with Alice Joyce and Guy Coombs in the leading roles.

C. Henry, county agent, is the proud father of an eight-pound baby girl, born Sunday at the family residence, 1512 Lake avenue.

The Aboite and Lake township farmers' institute meetings will be held at Arcola on February 5.

IN THE CHURCHES

HOLDS BI-ENNIAL ELECTION.

The Young Ladies' sodality of the Cathedral of Immaculate Conception held its annual meeting Sunday afternoon following the vesper services and elected officers for the coming year. The officers were all elected unanimously and are as follows: Prefect, Miss Anna Schneiders; assistant prefect, Miss Florence Baker; treasurer, Miss Marie Nolan; secretary, Miss Irene Noll; sacristans, Miss Margaret Leahy and Miss Grace Keeley, and collectors, Miss Alice Martin and Miss Isabell McDonald.

The annual report showed that at the present time there were two hundred and sixty people who carried their membership in the sodality. Marked efficiency has characterized the work of the retiring officers and they were tendered a vote of thanks.

It was decided to give a social function on Friday evening, January 29, at the Library hall at which time the young ladies will be hostesses. Father Quinlan, rector of the church, will deliver an address and under the direction of Miss Marie Sommers and Miss Mae Centlivre a musical program will be rendered.

DELIVERS IMPRESSIVE SERMON.

Preceding the installation services held Sunday morning at the Trinity Lutheran German church when Rev. Gustave Goege was installed as pastor of the congregation, Prof. Louis Dorn, of the Concordia college and who has had temporary charge of the affairs of the church delivered a very impressive sermon on. 1 Thess. 2, 13. He pointed out the various duties of a pastor and the congregation and the relation of one to the other.

In the presence of the entire congregation and with the members of the church council assembled at the altar, the ceremony of installation took place. The church choir and the children of the parish school rendered several selections. The newly installed pastor then took charge of the remainder of the services and he will preach his initial sermon next Sunday morning at 10 o'clock.

NEWS OF FORT WAYNE'S NEIGHBORS

PAWNSHOP IS LOOTED.

Yeggs Blow Safe in Huntington Loan Office and Gain Booty.

Huntington, Ind., Jan. 18.—The safe in the Valley Loan company office, 400 North Jefferson street was blown open late Saturday night and about $165 in money and dozens of rings and watches were stolen.

Protected by the roaring of a high wind and the total darkness in the down town section because the city lights were not burning, the burglars worked leisurely, opening envelopes containing the jewelry on which money had been loaned and rejecting articles of small value. A suit case that was held as security on a loan is missing, the loot being carried away in it, the police believe.

Everything was favorable to the yeggs and the robbery was not discovered until 11 o'clock yesterday morning when R. C. Dillingham, a chiropractor who recently came to Huntington from Fort Wayne saw the broken glass in the hall in front of the loan office. Mr. Dillingham has his office at the end of the hall.

A few feet from the safe that was blown, the opposite side of the partition separating the loan office and Dr. Danielson's suite of rooms was a safe containing about $300. No effort was made to enter this office or that of Dr. Dillingham.

BURNED, BUT SAVES HOME.

Auburn, Ind., Jan. 18.—With a hand hose used for dampening coal, Mrs. Frank Olinger saved the family residence on South Main street from what might have resulted in a heavy loss from fire Saturday, but in doing so she was badly burned about the face, arms and hands. Mrs. Olinger threw some greasy papers in the furnace and that caused the gas which had accumulated to explode. Fire issued forth from the furnace door and Mrs. Olinger was severly burned, although her clothes did not catch fire.

SMALL BOY SHOOTS BROTHER.

Warsaw, Ind., Jan. 18.—Because his brother refused to mind him, Herbert Dye, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Dye, of Leesburg, shot his three-year-old brother, Cass, in the head with a rifle filled with small shot. The two boys with a number of other children were playing at the Dye home when the boy asked his brother to run out in the yard and get something for him. The little fellow refused and his brother picked up a small target rifle standing in the corner of the room, pointed it at the side of his head and pulled the trigger. The entire load struck the boy in the head but owing to the fact that the cartridge had been loaded with fine shot, the injury was slight.

KEEPS HIS 90TH ANNIVERSARY.

Bluffton, Ind., Jan. 18.—John Sparks, of Markle, has just celebrated his ninetieth birthday anniversary. The day was spent quietly, a few relatives being entertained at his home at the dinner hour. Mr. Sparks, who is a pioneer of Markle, was born in Randolph county, but has spent most of his life in and near Markle. The house in which he now lives was built before there was any town of Markle. Mrs. Sparks will be seventy-nine years old next March.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Sparks are enjoying fairly good health, and take much interest in the affairs of the town.

DECATUR MAN INJURED.

St. Marys, O., Jan. 18.—Fred Jackson, 26, of Decatur, was severely bruised about the abdomen when two automobiles collided on the street here. William Rimer, driver and owner of one machine, and Tom Covault and Frank Doyle, other members of the party, were unhurt. One automobile is badly damaged.

FARM HOME DESTROYED.

Decatur, Ind., Jan. 18.—The house on the farm of W. H. Roop was destroyed by fire this forenoon about half-past ten. The cause of the fire is not known, but may have been from a defective chimney. By hard work the family and neighbors saved part of the household goods, but they could do nothing to save the building. The loss will reach $1,500, with some insurance, but not enough to cover it. Mr. Roop and family live in Blue Creek township, near the Ohio state line, four miles south and two and a half miles east of Pleasant Mills.

WHITLEY PIONEER DEAD AT 92

Columbia City, Ind., Jan. 18.—Harrison F. Grabill, a pioneer of Whitley county, whose settlement here dates back 74 years and who was one of the arginauts who sought wealth in California in the early days of the gold rush, is dead at his home in Smith township at the age of 92 years. Death was due to blood poisoning resulting from schlerosis of the arteries. He was born in Virginia in 1822 and came with his parents to Whitley county in 1841. In 1852 he went to the Sacramento valley, in California, where he remained for two years, returning to this county.

TWO GENEVA DIVORCE CASES.

Geneva, Ind., Jan. 18.—Mrs. Lelia Francis has sued her husband for divorce, alleging abandonment and failure to provide. She also asks alimony. Elmire Boice, asking for a divorce, alleges that her husband is an habitual drunkard, and by his cruel and inhuman treatment has driven her away from their home. She asks $1,000 alimony and the custody of her two children.

PLAN TO ISSUE BONDS.

Hartford City, Ind., Jan. 18.—The city council at a meeting authorized the issuance of bonds covering the unpaid assessments on the improvements of the alleys at the west and at the rear of the new I. O. O. F. building. The bonds will be for a sum amounting to $641. The petition of Wright Peck and Walter Bates asking to be appointed special policemen for the southside were not acted upon.

NEW HIGH SCHOOL NEEDED.

Auburn, Ind., Jan. 18.—More room for housing Auburn's high school was recommended by J. P. Pearcy, of Indianapolis, state high school inspector when he inspected the Auburn high school. He said that it was difficult for him to understand how so large a high school as that at Auburn can be taken care of in the limited space afforded.

BLUFFTON WOMAN SUES.

Bluffton, Ind., Jan. 18.—Mrs. Stella Kumpf has filed suit asking a divorce from Fred C. Kumpf, the custody of two small children, restoration of her former name of Stella Williams, and an allowance of $10 per month for the support of the children.

NIGHT OFFICER FOR BLUFFTON.

Bluffton, Ind., Jan. 18.—The city council has appointed Ed Wingfield as a night policeman, to patrol the west part of the city. The city will pay part of his salary and west side business men the balance.

SPENCERVILLE NEWS.

Spencerville, Ind., Jan. 18.—The Farmers and Merchants State bank of this place has purchased the vacant lot of Roll Bowser, formerly occupied by the Bowser hardware store, which burned down December 16, 1911, as this lot was decided upon by the bank directors at their last meeting as the best location in town on which to erect the new bank building, the same to be built in the spring as soon as the weather will permit.

The Cosy Corner club of this place held a business meeting at the home of Mrs. John Beams on South Main street Friday afternoon and elected the following officers: President, Mrs. Anna Henderson; vice president, Mrs. Lizzie Weasley; secretary and treasurer, Miss LeAnna Wearley; inspectors, Mrs. Rebecca Benninghoff, Mrs. Simon Maurer and Miss Armita Steward. They also took in two new members, making a total of forty-one members. A dainty two-course lunch was served by the hostesses, Mrs. John Beams and Mrs. Robert Beams. There were twenty-seven members and six visitors present.

The Ladies' guild held a business meeting at the home of Mrs. John Benninghoff Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Jane Faust died Thursday at her home south of here, death being due to paralysis.

Otis Goeltzenleuchter and wife and Mrs. Anna Boger moved to Auburn Monday. They have bought property at that place and expect to make their future home there.

Mrs. Libbie Hilgeman returned to her home at Fort Wayne after spending a week with her parents, Rev. and Mrs. Erick.

"The Bride and the Rosebud" by Miss Henderson to Be Issued.

Miss Henderson, of New Haven, author of a number of songs and poems which have found popular favor, has still another song which is soon to come from the press. It is entitled "The Bride and the Rosebud," and the chorus is as follows:

When the wedding day had ended,
And Night's shadows hid the scene
In her eye a teardrop glistened
With a smile of joy serene.
To her lips she gently pressed me,
Sealed her earthly vow above:
As in accents low she murmured
"I will never cease to love."

SAGE TEA TURNS GRAY HAIR DARK

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Bring Back Color and Lustre to Hair.

That beautiful, even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray, streaked and looks dry, wispy and straggy, just an appliation or two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't bother to prepare the tonic; you can get from any drug store a 50 cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," ready to use. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color, thickness and lustre of your hair and remove dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair.

Everybody uses "Wyeth's" Sage and Sulphur because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy, lustrous and abundant.—Adv

CUTE LITTLE COO-COO" CLOCK DID NOT CARE WHEN IT COOED.

Chicago, Jan. 18.—A coo-coo clock is all right in its place, but its place is not the inside pocket of a chap who sidesteps every time he sees brass buttons and a star.

When Charles Lynch and his good friend, Edward Stewart, armed with a dark lantern and a jimmy went out to collect family silver the other evening a cute little clock was part of the swag they gathered in. Just to show its astonishment the clock went off, the corner cop was on, the clock-collectors were off, beating it to the tune of the "coo-coo." But they couldn't keep ahead of time. Now they're doing "time," and they don't need an alarm clock to get them up betimes in the morning.

J. PIERPONT MORGAN CALLS ON PRESIDENT

Washington, Jan. 18.—J. Pierpont Morgan was on President Wilson's list of callers today. The financier declined to say in advance what matters he would discuss with the president, but declared the principal object of his mission here at this time was in connection with a meeting of the advisory council of the reserve system, of which he is a member.

Problems in connection with the Alaskan railroad with particular reference to the Copper river and Northwestern railroad, which Mr. Morgan has offered to sell to the government for use as a part of the proposed railroad to connect the Alaskan coast with the coal fields, was said to be one of the objects of Mr. Morgan's visit at the white house. He was to discuss the matter with Secretary Lane, also.

For a Deep Seated Cold.

It is in cases of deep seated colds that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is most appreciated. It relieves the lungs and makes breathing easier, liquifies the tough mucus and makes it easier to expectorate, allays the cough and aids nature in throwing off the cold and restoring the system to a healthy condition. Mrs. C. B. Walters, Decatur, Ill., says, "Fifteen years ago Chamberlain's Cough Remedy cured me of a deep seated cold on the lungs and rid me of an aggravating cough. I have since used it when needed and it has always produced the desired result." For sale by all dealers.—Adv.

THE SENTINEL'S LIVE SPORTS CRISP RELIABLE

When St. Paul attacks the Ottwa Germans at St. Paul's auditorium on Tuesday night of this week the contest will be the opening number of a schedule for a week that promises some good sport as all of the clubs are in good condition and ready to play at top speed until the close of the regular season.

In the Ottawa Germans St. Paul has on its hands a team that won from St. Mary's Athletic club in a New Year matinee and that indicated in the course of the proceeding that it is entitled to matches with the first string clubs of Fort Wayne.

The locals know this and on Sunday afternoon several hard drills were put on in preparation for the tilt. Franke, who has been out all season with a lame knee, may be in part of the game, just to see how the injured member is coming along.

On Wednesday night the Lyceum five, which sprung into prominence by trimming Corby hall in its first game, and repeated Saturday night in the encounter with the Winona aggies, will play the Active Turners at Lyceum hall and the second of a three-game contest will be played at the Turner gym on Jan. 29 and the place of play for the third will be decided later provided the series is not cleaned up in the first two.

The score in the Lyceum-Winona game of Saturday night was 23 to 27 and the local club showed good form in the engagement. In the preliminary to this affair the Aeolians, also part of St. Patrick's basketball contingent, won over the Bachelors 25 to 16.

The third game of the week will be on Saturday night when Concordia will play against the Bluffton (O.) college team, and in future the students will probably play only outside teams as the faculty disapproves of city series clashes.

Arrangements for games between other city league teams have been completed and among them is a series between St. Paul and the Lyceum, the first of which will be played at St. Paul's auditorium on Feb. 2. The second game is booked for the Lyceum on Feb. 13 and the third will be arranged later if it is necessary to play it.

St. Paul and St. Mary's clubs will get together Feb. 18 and again on March 11. These games promise some most interesting basketball for the next six weeks. St. Mary's team has no game scheduled this week and the players will rest up.

The Junior League.

In the Junior basketball league the Nationals and Precious Blood Maroons are tied for first honors with two games and no defeats. The T. O. P., Rexall, Olympics and Aeolians have won and lost a game each and the Bachelors and Wayne Knits have lost both encounters in which they engaged.

The schedule for the week includes a game between the Rexalls and Maroons, Wayne Knits and T. O. P.'s., Bachelors and Nationals and Aeolians and Olympics. Tonight at 8 o'clock at St. Paul's hall the regular weekly meeting of the league will be held.

PARENTS GAVE THESE BOYS A ROTTEN DEAL IN PICKING NAMES.

The citron brothers, Orange and Lemon Kegg, are the latest bidders for ratio fame.

Yes, the names are correct. The boys were named Orange and Lemon by their father, now a resident of Johnstown, Pa. Orange and Lemon have been a great "aide" to each other in the fighting game by working out together.

Lemon Kegg, whose nom de box is now Roger O'Malley, is the brightst star of this featherweight pair. He has boxed from coast to coast and is just now basking in the limelight. He has 24 knockouts in 46 battles.

Orange Kegg has not enjoyed the wide experience of Lemon, but recently boxed a fast draw with Patsy Brannigan.

BOXERS TRAIN AND WAIT ON THE BILL

(By Hugh S. Fullerton.)

Fightless Chicago suddenly has become the Mecca of the pugilists. The city, for years, merely a tank stop for fighters en route to or from the coast and New York or Philadelphia, this winter is the training place of the majority of the leading pugilists of the country and their activities have stirred the fans and improved the chances of passage of a boxing bill.

There are three boxing bills ready for presentation in the legislature at Springfield, two of which are "square" and meant for the good of the game; the third evidently intended to be for the benefit of certain promoters in Chicago.

For the first time the big athletic clubs of Chicago are behind the bills—the square ones—and there is a liberal support of the down state legislators that promises the passage of some kind of a bill permitting boxing in Illinois. All the bills provide for boxing commissions, limited round bouts and two of them provide for a decision.

The sudden influx of fighters after the game was killed in California gave boxing a huge boost in Chicago. Three gymnasiums in the downtown district have been crowded every afternoon by fans watching the boxers work.

Jimmy Clabby and Mike Gibbons, who are to meet and practically settle the question of middleweight supremacy at Milwaukee Jan. 21, have been working in Chicago. Charlie White, who will tackle Freddie Welsh in New York Jan. 26, is boxing every day at a faster clip than he has ever known. Eddie McGoorty has been working daily, both before and after his fierce battle with Billy Murray. Murray, beaten but still confident, is preparing to tackle McGoorty again.

Among the "comers" working in Chicago is Joe Welling, who now threatens to blossom out into another champion for Larry Lichtenstein, Clabby's manager. Willie Schaefer, Johnny Ertle, Goats Doig, Jack White, who is Charlie's brother, Ruby Hirsch and a swarm of lesser lights are working at the gymnasiums.

The "big" event is the Clabby-Gibbons fight, which ought to be the best middleweight scrap in years. Clabby certainly is good just now, and speedier than ever before. The St. Paul phantom is in for a tough battle, and it ought to be the fastest ever fought.

Clabby has improved wonderfully in the past two years. While watching Gibbons a month ago it did not seem that any middleweight had a chance against his speed and generalship, but after seeing Clabby in action throws one out of form on guessing. Clabby is fast and full of tricks that will keep the wise head of the St. Paul star working to outgeneral him.

Dayton, O., Jan. 18.—Rudy Hulswitt, former major league player, would like to have the job of managing the Vets next season. Hulswitt last year piloted the Jersey City club of the International league and was declared a free agent at the end of the campaign. Hulswitt, although somewhat of a veteran, is still able to play a first class article of ball at second base, and he can hit. It is doubtful, however, if he could come to any agreement, as he would likely ask for more money than could possibly be paid him under the circumstances.

It will probably be several weeks at least before President Elmar Redelle comes to any definite decision in regard to naming Johnny Nee's successor for the coming season. He has several men in view, any one of whom he believes would make the Vets a competent manager, but he is taking his time in making the selection. There should be no great amount of surprise expressed if the next leader of the Vets would come from the ranks of the 1914 team. Two Vet players at least stand an excellent show of landing the plum, 'tis said. Their names are withheld for the present but just for the sake of speculation it might be mentioned that both are pitchers.

President Redelle has begun to lay his wires for the coming season and the job of getting ball players under contract and digging up new talent will keep him busy until the time arrives for the man, yet to be named as manager, calls the squad together for spring practice at Highland park.

During the past week President Redelle landed two athletes who, it is thought, will do much toward making another winner out of the Vets in the coming campaign. One is a catcher named Glocksom, who comes to the Vets via the purchase route from the Cincinnati club.

In 1914 Glocksom played with the Newport News team of the Virginia State league, where his work was so far above the average that the Reds' scouts who saw him perform recommended the youngster to Garry Herrmann, with the result that he was purchased by the Queen City club.

Glocksom joined the Reds late in the season and made the last eastern trip with the Reds. He showed much promise but Manager Herzog decided he was a little shy on experience as yet, so he was passed on to the Vets for further seasoning.

Glocksom is just a youngster, being but 22 years of age, and hit .301 last year. He is six feet tall and bats right-handed.

The other recruit picked up by President Redelle is Buster Povey, an outfielder, who played with the Edmonton club of the Western Canada league in 1914. According to Redelle, this youngster ought to deliver the goods in every department. He is said to cover a world of ground in the outfield, a fast man in getting to first and a splendid base runner. He is 23 years of age, weighs 175 pounds, bats left-handed and throws right-handed. His batting mark for 1914 was .325.

The signing of Catcher Glocksom makes it evident that the Vets will have an entirely new catching staff next season. With the sale of Gharrity last year the only veteran backstop left is Frank Armstrong. "Army" looked like a "find" when he first joined the Vets, but for the last two seasons his work behind the bat has been decidedly off color, to say the least. He slowed up in all departments to such an extent as to make him of little value to the team. Although still a young man, and equipped with a long pair of underpins which should take him over the ground in a hurry, "Army" is woefully weak in going to first. Time and again he was thrown out last season on smart raps that would have gone as hits for most anybody else on the club. Then, again, he moves in the same manner back of the plate, and his slowness in getting the ball away resulted in not a few stolen bases for the opposition. He has a good arm, but his delay in getting set for the throw robs it of its effectiveness. There is little doubt that Armstrong will be sent elsewhere, for he seems to have outlived his usefulness here.

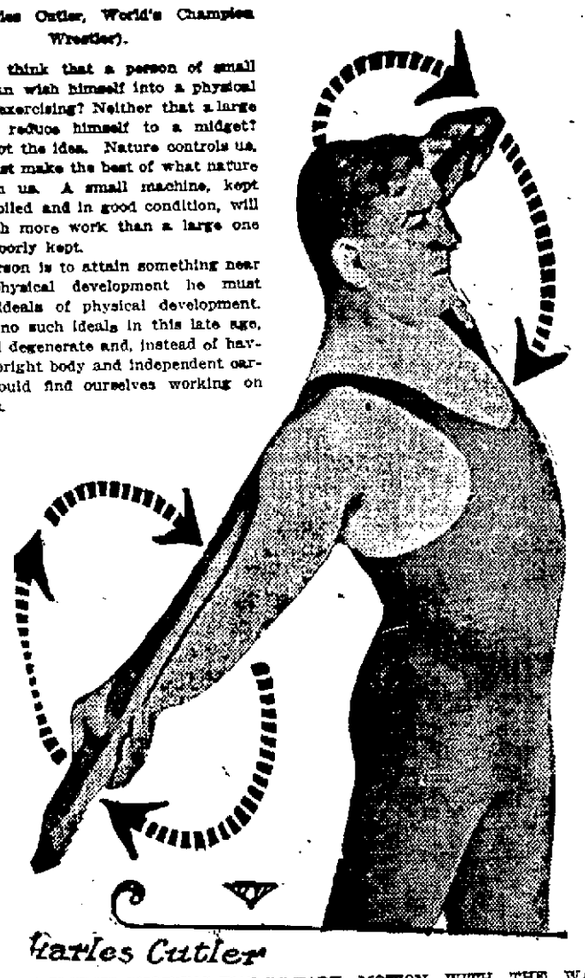
(By Charles Cutler, World's Champion Wrestler).

Do you think that a person of small stature can wish himself into a physical giant by exercising? Neither that a large man can reduce himself to a midget? That is not the idea. Nature controls us, so we must make the best of what nature has given us. A small machine, kept properly oiled and in good condition, will accomplish more work than a large one that is poorly kept.

If a person is to attain something near perfect physical development he must possess ideals of physical development. Had we no such ideals in this late age, we would degenerate and, instead of having an upright body and independent carriage, would find ourselves working on four legs.



CHARLES CUTLER SHOWING THE ROTARY MOTION WITH THE WAND THAT THE JAPANESE FIND SO GOOD FOR DISCOVERING AND DEVELOPING WEAK SPOTS.

Let us take invoice of our physical store. Look for the weak and undeveloped spots in our bodies and go about it systematically to build them up. I will explain a simple exercise that will eradicate numerous weak spots.

The Japanese have a method of developing that is exceptionally good. They start with a series of exercises that will build up the tissues about the vital organs—merely a rotary motion of the body.

Take a pole or stick about six feet in length and hold it as shown in this picture. Throw the body forward, sideways, backward, etc., in a rotary movement, inhaling while going back and exhaling when going forward.

At the start do this ten times a day and gradually work up to thirty times daily after a week or so.

Continue this system as long as you feel like exercising, as it will do wonders toward keeping you in condition, developing the abdomen and creating a general building up of the tissues supporting the vital organs.

SMALL BOYS ARMED PULL HOLD-UP GAME

Two 9-Year-Old Youngsters Say They Were Frisked on the Street.

Joseph Curtis and Robert Firestine, two 11-year-old lads, reported to the police Sunday evening that they had been held up and searched by three lads aged about 17, 11 and 9 years, respectively, who stopped them in a dark place on Lafayette street, between Jefferson and Washington streets, displayed a gun and made them stand while their pockets were rifled. The Curtis and Firestine boys said they had nothing worth taking and suffered from nothing but fright. They gave descriptions of the three stick-up juveniles, but almost any three lads of that age picked up at random on the street might answer to these descriptions. The police are investigating.

SPECIAL SESSION FOR VAG.

Ray Patterson, Rough Neck, Who Did Not Care, Comes Right Back.

Ray Patterson had not been released more than thirty minutes after an indefinite continuance on a vagrancy charge when he was carted back to the police sttion, arraigned again in a special session of court and fined $50 and costs on a similar charge. Patterson is a young tramp of the rough neck type and his conduct and talk when he was first tried were impudent, defiant and insolent. He used profanity when answering questions, and he was turned loose only because he seemed to want to go to jail. He did not make the most of his opportunity to get out of town and was arrested at the corner of Calhoun and Wayne streets and sent in. He has been hanging around town for a week. Judge Kerr and Prosecutor Callahan will make a special effort to have the county commissioners put him at hard work. Patterson's second arrest tamed him much and he was quite docile.

Ralph Watts, a peripatetic restaurant cook, was fined $5 and costs and given ten days in jail on a charge of petit larceny. He stole a suitcase New Year's day from R. Smith, another cook, put up the property as security for a loan and went to Decatur, where he went to work in a hotel. He came up from Decatur Saturday night for recreation in a town that is not dry and Detectives Immel and Rundell, who had long been looking for him, found him drinking in a saloon and put him under arrest. Watts says his home formerly was in Auburn.

Phil H. Weber and Charles McCall were turned loose after a hearing on a charge of disorderly conduct. They were arrested at their home, 2120 John street, Saturday night, following a family quarrel in which Weber, who is McCall's uncle, was badly beaten. Neither showed much resentment toward the other in the city court.

POLITICAL STRIFE BITTER.

Mrs. Marcella Holsinger, 2621 Reed street, made complaint to Patrolman Heller that boys in the neighborhood provoke her own son and stir up trouble by calling him "Hosey," a term which the Holsinger lad, being of good republican antecedents, loyally resents. The aggressors, who are represented to be democratic boys, also apply unkind epithets to Mrs. Holsinger and her daughter. Officer Heller has warned parents of the offending boys.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Manett, 445 Buchanan street, are the proud parents of a seven-pound baby girl which arrived at their home Sunday. The father is foreman of the press room at the Cleary & Bailey printing establishment.

THE PENETRATING POWER OF GIGANTIC NAVAL GUNS.

The power of the big guns!

Since the great sea victories of Dewey and Schley and Admiral Togo the world has seen nothing of the actual destructive power of gigantic battleships. The craft of the Spanish-American war were as mere pigmies compared to the terrific present day prowlers of the deep. And even those of the Russo-Japanese war do not compare with them.

None of the great fighting ships of the nations at war in Europe have engaged in real conflict yet. Cruiser and torpedo fleets have furnished the naval history so far. The use of the light craft as "bait" has followed out all naval theories advanced by maritime experts before this war began.

But the great guns of the floating fortresses—the 13 1-2 and 14-inch agents of death—they are what the nations are pinning their faith to regardless of the claims made for some of the newer appliances.

England has restricted its great battleships to 13 1-2-inch guns, while Germany has just put out a 14-inch rifle of which little is known.

The largest British naval gun hurls a projectile weighing 1,250 pounds, which at 3,000 yards will penetrate 11 inches of Krupp steel. The 12-inch United States gun does better than this. It will penetrate 11 inches at 9,000 yards with a projectile weighing only 980 pounds. Those same guns would pierce ordinary wrought iron to the thickness of almost 3 1-2 feet.

In its most recent ships, however, England has increased the length of these immense rifles to 50 feet, as compared to the average of 40 to 45 feet, and this naturally serves for greater accuracy and greater distance.

Taking the 12-inch guns as an example—they will hurl a projectile 16 miles—one British writer describes how two rival battleships would act on meeting in the open sea. After sighting each other the pair would approach cautiously until about five miles apart. At this distance the fight probably would begin, each ship training its own guns—by the use of range finders—at the mere outline of the other ship. Even the greatest marksmanship that has been shown hardly makes it possible to aim and strike a vital spot at this distance.

During the long range bombardment the ships soon find themselves closer together, and when hardly more than 3,000 yards apart the real battle starts.

The gunners first attempt to destroy the enemy's conning towers and barbettes and then turn their attention to the base of the funnels and masts, extremely vital spots. Shots at the water line follow.

By this time the boats are so close that the launching of torpedoes is practicable and sooner or later one of the ships must go down if the action is continued.

In fleet actions, it is agreed even though the commanders do as Dewey did—center the entire fleet fire on one ship until it sinks—even the victors must suffer loss of ships. Guns, it seems, are always developed a little more powerful than armor to withstand them.

An ordinary torpedo is about 20 inches long and 18 inches in diameter. It contains 200 pounds of gun cotton and will travel pretty straight up to 3,000 yards. They cost about $2,500 apiece.

The big guns aboard ship can be fired two times every minute, and the enemy must be vanquished quickly, as even the largest craft cannot carry more than 80 to 100 rounds for each gun.

In addition to the cost of firing is the cost of the dreadnought itself—something about $10,000,000. This is only one of the reasons why a nation in war time will not permit its big ships to wander aimlessly at sea, perhaps to be destroyed by a sunken mine or submarine.

The cheaper and swifter cruisers and torpedo destroyers handle the patrol and scout work. The destroyers alone are powerful enough to obliterate commerce, their four-inch guns being capable of sinking a merchantman without trouble.

In turn, the destroyers are the prey of the light cruisers of the enemy, which, with eight-inch guns, can blow them out of the water. The cruiser battleships are crafts carrying some of the large guns and capable of taking their part in a fleet action, because of the heavy armor with which they are equipped.

So far the European war at sea has been a battle of the "mosquito fleets," the largest ships recorded in action being the light cruisers.

Habeas Corpus Petition Has Reached Supreme Court.

Washington, Jan. 18.—The habeas corpus appeal of Leo M. Frank, convicted of the murder of Mary Phagan, the Atlanta, Ga., factory girl, was docketed today in the supreme court. The state of Georgia may now at any time move to have it advanced for early hearing. Without such action it will not be reached in the regular course of business for nearly 18 months.

HOT TEA BREAKS A COLD—TRY THIS

Get a small package of Hamburg Breast Tea, or as the German folks call it, "Hamburger Brust Thee," at any pharmacy. Take a tablespoonful of the tea, put a cup of boiling water upon it, pour through a sieve and drink a teacup full at any time. It is the most effective way to break a cold and cure grip, as it opens the pores, relieving congestion. Also loosens the bowels, thus breaking a cold at once.

James E. Quinn, who resides with his daughter, Mrs. John Doise, of 1535 Andrew street, suffered a stroke of paralysis yesterday and will be unable to get around among his friends for several days. The attack, it is said, is not of a serious character and it is hoped will soon pass away. Mr. Quinn is a blacksmith. For over a third of a centeury he was employed in that capacity in the Pennsylvania shops, passing to the pension list about two years ago, when he reached the age of seventy. He is known by every shopman in the down town shops and by many of the other employes.

NEW RAILROAD BRIDGE.

Cumberland Valley Will Soon Start on $700,000 Structure.

The Cumberland Valley railroad, a part of the Pennsylvania system, will, within a short time, start work on a modern arch bridge to replace its present steel deck truss bridge over the Susquehanna river at Harrisburg, Pa. The new bridge will cost approximately $750,000. This will be the first construction work of any magnitude to be undertaken by any of the lines of the Pennsylvania system for more than a year. The bridge over the Susquehanna river at Harrisburg, which the Cumberland Valley railroad is now using, is a single track structure of 25 spans, supported by stone piers. The proposed bridge will have 46 spans and will carry two tracks. The present piers will be utilized and a number of additional ones built. The bridge will be 4,000 feet long—the same length as the Pennsylvania railroad's now famous stone bridge over the Susquehanna river at Rockville, Pa., just above Harrisburg.

Nickel Plate Auxiliary No. 513 Preparing for Big Event.

The date has been set and preliminary arrangements are now under way for the third annual dance and card party of Nickel Plate division No. 513, Grand International Auxiliary to the B. L. E. The event will be held February 12 at Shriners' hall and the ladies will endeavor to make it a greater social event than were the two preceding dances, which is a big undertaking, for they were among the most prominent of the social events of the seasons in which they were given.

ALBERT REINKING FUNERAL.

Nearly 100 employes of the Wabash shops at Decatur and Springfield attended the funeral of Albert Reinking, the boilermaker, who died in Decatur last Thursday. The funeral was held at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon from the home of the Misses Louis and Amelia Reinking, sisters of the deceased, and the pall bearers were Herman Ehlert, William F. Furrow, Bert Hunt, William Cour and Leo Singer, of Decatur, and Henry Hall, of Springfield. The greater portion of the Decatur and Springfield men who came to the funeral were brought in on No. 2 this morning, the company furnishing two coaches for their accommodation. General Foreman Henry Eisele, Boiler Foreman Charles Dean and Firebox Foreman Dixon, of Decatur, were among the men at the funeral. Mr. Eisele, who was accompanied by his wife, came up Saturday night and spent Sunday with relatives and friends. Many of the local shop employes of the Wabash also attended the funeral.

"HISTORY OF ADVERTISING."

Bert Griswold to Lecture to the Compositors' Club.

The Compositors' Efficiency club will hold a meeting in the art room of the old High school building, on East Wayne street, Tuesday evening, when B. J. Griswold will deliver a lecture on "History of Advertising in Fort Wayne." This is a subject particularly interesting to printers and people connected with the printing business and there will be a big audience to hear the lecture. Other speakers booked for the season by the Compositors include Clifford Wearley, Kemp Baker, Claude Davies, John Winding and Harry Wilding.

BORROWING ENGINES.

To handle the rapidly increasing business on the Northern division of the road, the G. R. & I. is borrowing some engines. Two of the Pennsylvania freight engines, Nos. 7418 and 7732, left today for Grand Rapids to go into service on the Northern division.

CO-OPERATIVE STORE MEETING.

The meeting announced for the preliminary arrangements for a co-operative store in Fort Wayne under the control of the union laboring men of the city will be held at the assembly room in the court house tonight. P. R. Bell, who will preside as chairman of the meeting, announces that E. S. Phillips, general manager of the Indianapolis Co-Operative store, will address the meeting, explaining the proposition as planned at the Labor Forward meeting at Indianapolis some time ago and tell of the experience of the store over which he has charge. The proposition involves the contribution of every member of organized labor of $1 to start the project and to have this money apply on stock subscribed for by the members afterwards. The Indianapolis Co-Operative store company has 12,000 stockholders.

FEUCHTER LEADS MEAT CUTTERS.

At the meeting of Meat Cutters and Butchers' Workmen, No. 423, last Thursday night, two names were added to the membership roll, plans for a campaign against the meat markets that have not yet been organized and other business, including the election of officers, transacted, which went to make it one of the best meetings of the winter. The election resulted as follows: George Fuechter, president; Christian Kessen, vice president; W. Felger, recording secretary; Oscar Huber, financial secretary; W. A. Turnbull, guide; William Timmons, guard; Porter DeWitt, sergeant at arms; C. H. Clark, Emil Poinsett and W. H. Spuhler, trustees.

TO TALK TO ELECTRICAL ENGINEERS.

The announced lecture at the Commercial club next Thursday evening of E. S. Myers, electrical engineer of the Fort Wayne and Northern Indiana Traction company, is attracting a good deal of attention in engineering circles and will draw a good crowd to the club room on that occasion. Mr. Myers will talk about "The Indiana Utilities Commission and Its Effect on the Central Station." The lecture is one of the series to be given under the auspices of the Fort Wayne section of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers and J. A. Snook, of the Fort Wayne Electric works, who is the secretary, is mailing notices to the members.

ELECTRICAL WORKERS' NEW ROSTER.

The Electrical Workers' union, No. 305, which now occupies a prominent place in the ranks of organized labor, held its annual election of officers last week and will install them at the next meeting. The officers are Orville Allen, president; Lee Norford, vice president; Lewis Smith, recording secretary; Martin Wiedman, financial secretary; Henry Miller, treasurer; A. Myers, foreman; Nathaniel Bondure, inspector; R. V. Swihart, press agent; N. Bondure and C. Grodrian, trustees.

RUN DOWN BY AUTO.

Fred Wolf, material man at the Pennsylvania round house, will not be on duty for several days. Saturday, while on route home from his work, he was run down by an automobile and sustained some bruises on his hips and internal injuries. His condition is not serious.

FELL ASLEEP WHILE FISHING.

Because of the loss of sleep and fatigue attending a trip to Rome City to fish through the ice Saturday night, T. Mizer, of the Pennsylvania planing mills, fell asleep while holding his pole at the hole cut in the ice for fishing purposes. He was awakened by a jerk on the pole which nearly threw him off his seat and before he could collect his thoughts, his pole was pulled out of his hands and disappeared under the ice. Mr. Mizer was accompanied to the lake by J. F. Randil, also of the planing mills, and they caught a nice string of fish.

ATTENDING INCREASE FARE MEETINGS.

District Passenger Agent Frank P. Parnin, of the Nickel Plate, returned Saturday from Columbus, Ohio, where he attended a meeting of railway men and business men in the interest of the movement to increase the fare on steam roads. Mr. Parnin will attend a similar meeting at Indiana Harbor tomorrow, which will be attended also by J. S. Hall, general passenger agent of the L. E. & W. The latter was here to address a similar meeting two weeks ago.

MOTHER DIED SUDDENLY.

A. L. Hadley, chief engineer at the Fort Wayne Electric works, left hurriedly Saturday night for Templeton, Mass., where his mother died suddenly. Mr. Hadley had no previous information that his mother was sick and the news of her death was a most shocking surprise. The deceased visited Fort Wayne several times and was known to a number of the residents, who will be pained to hear of her death.

COMPLETES COMMITTEE LIST.

Joseph D. Shaw, president of the Fort Wayne Federation of Labor, announces the following appointments, which complete his organization for the year of the list of officers and committees of the federation. The last appointments were: Clarence Kroener, machinists', arbitration; Clayton H. Johnson, machinists', organization and legislation; W. C. Bowman, machinists', safety and sanitation; William McCarthy, vocational education.

CARPENTERS TO LYON MEETINGS.

The Carpenters' union has accepted Dr. Lyon's invitation to attend a meeting at the tabernacle and will march there in a body Thursday night. The carpenters are requested to meet at their hall as early as possible. These workmen donated several days' work in the erection of the tabernacle and are greatly interested in the meetings held therein.

GONE EAST ON BUSINESS.

J. H. Bass, Dr. G. M. Leslie and William C. Slater left last evening for New York on business for the Bass Foundry and Machine works. They will return home Wednesday.

SENDING EXHIBITS TO EXPOSITION

The Fort Wayne manufacturers, who will have exhibits at the Panama-Pacific exposition are preparing to send the exhibits to San Francisco. The Diester Concentrator company forwarded its exhibit last week and the Bowsers, the Wayne Oil Tank and the Western Gas Construction companies will send their exhibits within the next two or three weeks.

BRAKEMAN INJURED.

E. C. Boggs, a brakeman on the Fort Wayne-Lima local on the Pennsylvania, sustained an injury to one of his ankles Saturday when he jumped from a box car to a gondola on his train as it was passing through Delphos. He is at his home, 210 West Jefferson street.

W. B. Thompson, Pennsylvania machinist, resumed work this morning. He was sick several days.

Machinist M. O. Shookman, who was sick a month, reported for work at the Pennsylvania erecting shop this morning.

Nick Merz, who had a hand injured three weeks ago, resumed work at the Pennsylvania machine shop this morning.

Machinist and Mrs. J. M. Singleton, the former employed in the Wabash shops, were guests of friends at Peru over Sunday.

Mrs. C. A. Brunner, whose husband is a machinist at the Wabash shops, was the guest of friends at Spencerville over Sunday.

E. E. Stenger, crane operator at the Pennsylvania machine shop, was injured in a basket ball game Saturday night and is unable to work.

C. Starke, who had been sick since December 22, and Peter Lepper, who was sick a week, resumed work at the Pennsylvania shops this morning.

J. W. Thomson, tool room keeper at the local Wabash shops, had as a guest over Sunday his son, Earle, who is now working in the Delray shops.

Wabash Shopman Frank Moore and his family went to Toledo Saturday night and remained over Sunday with his sister, who has been quite sick.

Assistant Master Mechanic Fred T. Huston, of the Pennsylvania, spent Sunday with his family at Mansfield. He will move to this city in a few weeks.

Machinist Fred Mailand, who had been off duty on account of the sickness and death of his mother-in-law, Mrs. Ray, resumed work at the Pennsylvania shops this morning.

Machinist Earle Thomson, who had been visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Thompson, left this morning for Delray, where he is employed in the Wabash shops.

Agent J. B. Clizbe, Cashier George E. Campbell and Chief Clerk F. H. Starkel, of the New York Central freight office, were at Hillsdale yesterday on business for the company.

Nickel Plate train No. 6 tonight will carry an extra tourist car occupied by people from Minnesota, who are bound for New York, where they will embark for their native countries in Europe.

"The Shepard of the Hills" theatrical troupe will come to Fort Wayne on Grand Rapids and Indiana train No. 8 Tuesday from Grand Rapids. The company uses one extra baggage car.

John Likens and Patrick Morris, machinists at the Pennsylvania round house are off duty on account of sickness. Machinist F. R. Schilling, who had been sick three or four days, resumed work at the round house this morning.

Flagman Henry Brazier, of the Nickel Plate, is rejoicing over the fact that his wife will soon be able to return to their home. She has been in the hospital undergoing a surgical operation, which has been most successful.

Blacksmith C. E. McFarren sprained one of his arms badly Saturday as he was handling a heavy piece of work.

John Reed, employed in Foreman Henry Stahlhut's department, slipped and dislocated a knee Saturday. Both injured men are employed at the Fort Wayne Electric works.

Edward Carbine, who was here during the late meeting of the State Federation of Labor, has been assigned duties as an organizer for the International Association of Machinists and will soon commence work. This announcement was made yesterday by Clayton H. Johnson.

L. F. Beitzel, who had an ankle sprained last week, and Fred Lenz and J. Hiffiker, who were sick a week, reported for work at the Pennsylvania blacksmith shop this morning. L. J. Schmidt, who had been off duty on account of the illness of his father, also resumed work at the smith shop this morning.

Machinist George R. Rupley, of the Pennsylvania, known among his shopmates as the "Cottage King," went to Rome City Saturday to look after his cottages and boats. Each year Mr. Rupley has added to his possession at Rome City until he has several of the most desirable cottages on the south bank of the lake.

Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Sarver had as guests Saturday and Sunday Mr. and Mrs. G. O. Rambo, of Carnegie, Pa., who came here to attend the Dr. Lyon's meetings and to incidentally visit their relatives. They became interested in Dr. Lyon's evangelistic work some time ago when he conducted a religious campaign in Crnegie. In that work Mr. Rambo officiated as publicity man at the meetings. He is an electrical engineer on the Pennsylvania Southwest. Mrs. Rambo and Mrs. Sarver are sisters.

J. T. Anderson, of Nickerville, Mo., has a pencil, now two inches long, which he bought for a penny thirty-two year ago and has used since.

Rheumatism is no respecter of age, sex, color or rank. If not the most dangerous of human afflictions it is one of the most painful. Those subject to rheumatism should eat less meat, dress as warmly as possible, avoid any undue exposure and, above all, drink lots of pure water.

Rheumatism is caused by uric acid which is generated in the bowels and absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this acid from the blood and cast it out in the urine; the pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly, cold weather the skin pores are closed thus forcing the kidneys to do double work, they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate this uric acid which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles causing stiffness, soreness and pain called rheumatism.

At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is said to eliminate uric acid by stimulating the kidneys to normal action, thus ridding the blood of these impurities.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism. Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink which overcomes uric acid and is beneficial to your kidneys as well.

GRANDPA'S SMILE TODAY.

of callers at the executive offices later than usual today because of his desire to stay as long as possible with his small grandson, the child of Mr. and Mrs. Francis B. Sayre, who was born at the white house yesterday.

If the Sayre baby follows the precedent he set during his first night he will be a model infant. He gave his attendants little trouble. A large heap of rattles sent by members of the Wilson and Sayre families and close friends were ready for the baby as soon as he should show interest in them. Several baby baskets had also been sent to the white house but the one used was prepared by Mrs. Sayre herself.

Mr. Sayre, who arrived last night after the birth of his son view with the president today in displaying pride over the new addition to the white house family.

Lungs in Working Order.

The boy weighed seven and a half pounds. He announced his arrival by a series of cries which gave assurance that his lungs were in excellent condition. President Wilson made no effor to conceal his joy when informed that the child was a boy, and that Mrs. Sayre was well. His face was wreathed in smiles for hours afterward.

Mr. and Mrs. Sayre were married at the white house, November 25, 1913. After a honeymoon to Europe they went to Williamstown to make their home. Mrs. Sayre has been visiting the white house since Christmas.

Ten other children—six girls and four boys—have been born in the white house, most of them being the grandsons or grand daughters of presidents. The first child having the honor of being born in the historic mansion was James Madison Randolph, the son of Martha Jefferson Randolph, the daughter of President Jefferson. The baby came during a visit of Mrs. Randolph to the white house in the winter of 1805-1806.

Esther Cleveland, the daughter of President and Mrs. Cleveland was the only child of a president ever born in the white house.

Arrests Follow Demonstration by Unemployed at Chicago.

Chicago, Jan. 18.—Twenty-one persons, six of whom are women arrested yesterday in the streets in front of Hull house a social settlement were to appear in court today to answer charges of inciting a riot. Mrs. Lucy Parsons, widow of the anarchist hanged for murder after the Haymarket riots several years ago, was among those arrested. She did not spend the night in jail, however, as social workers obtained her release on bail.

Seven others also were released on bail. Irwin Tucker, who said he was a preacher and editor of a paper was among the thirteen compelled to spend the night in a police station. The riot was the result of an attempt of about 1500 unemployed men and women to parade. Some of the marchers carried black banners on which in large white letters was the word "Hunger." On other banners were: "We don't want charity. We want jobs" and "give us this day our daily bread."

Police demanded that the marchers halt as no permits had been issued for them to parade. The marchers, according to the police began to push the banner bearers forward. Fighting started instantly. Police with revolvers and clubs drawn rushed the crowd, felling all with in their reach. Women marchers grabbed the policemen by the legs and threw them on the street, biting and scratching at their faces with fingernails. A number of shots were fired by the police in their attempt to drive back the crowd.

The police fought their way into the crowd, arrested twenty-one and with difficulty locked them up in police stations after squads of reserves had come to their assistance.

PLAN TO ENLARGE NATIONAL GUARD

Plans for enlarging and bettering the Indiana national guard was outlined in an address delivered Sunday afternoon by Adjutant General Franklin L. Bridges at the meeting of the Northern Indiana Military institute in the armory of Company D, in the Flick building on West Berry street.

Short addresses were delivered by Inspector General Leslie R. Naftzger, who is also first deputy attorney general; Guy Shaughness, of the Third infantry, and Carl F. Beyer, captain of the Third infantry. Major Clyde Dreisbach presided.

Captain Beyer declared that a military company in a city is a commercial asset to a town. General Bridges declared that a movement had been on foot for some time to interest commercial clubs and civic bodies over the state to take more interest in the national guard.

There was a large attendance at the meeting and much interest was manifested. At the close of the meeting a buffet luncheon was served.

HAIR COMING OUT?

ENTERS CHURCH TO SLAY SWEETHEART

Peoria, Ill., Jan. 18.—A panic was caused during services in the Church of God last night, when Frederick C. Erdman shot and probably fatally wounded Miss Hattie Ganuwitz, his former sweetheart, and then killed himself.

Erdman met the young woman while on her way to church and asked her to take him back, but she refused. She entered the church, taking a seat near the front. Erdman waited until the service started then opened a side door, directly behind Miss Ganuwitz and opened fire, shooting his victim in the back. The woman fell to the floor while the audience made a rush for the front door. Several persons are in a serious condition from being trampled on.

Erdman, after the shooting, made his way on a freight train to his home in the south end of the city, nearly four miles distant. He told his relatives of his deed, went to his room, took poison and then shot himself. He died shortly after the police arrived.

MAKING FIRST MOVE TO BRING THAW BACK

New York, Jan. 18.—The first move to bring Harry K. Thaw back to this state on extradition papers as directed by the United States supreme court, will be taken tomorrow when William Travers Jerome will apply to the court for a certified copy of the decision directing that Thaw be delivered to the New York authorities by New Hampshire.

Immediately after receiving the orders, according to announcement today, Mr. Jerome and Sheriff Hornbeck, of Dutchess county, will go to Manchester to take Thaw into custody. The time limit of thirty days allowed by the supreme court for carrying out its order for the return of Thaw to New York state expires tomorrow and unless legal obstacles are placed in their way by Thaw's attorneys, it is expected that Mr. Jerome and Sheriff Hornbeck will bring Thaw back to New York some time this week.

WAS SOUND OF BLASTING,

Reported Firing at Sea Off Havana Found to Be Untrue.

Havana, Jan. 18.—The reports that cannon firing heard at sea last night off the coast near Havana were promptly investigated and found to be untrue. It seems that some blasting work was being done along the shore and that these sounds were taken for artillery. A British cruiser belived to be the Bristol is patrolling about five miles off the coast outside of Havana, having relieved another vessel thought to have been the cruiser Berwick.

ELECT OFFICERS.

EXCUSES.

Luke 14:18—And they all with one consent began to make excuses.

It is one of the strangest facts that anyone would, for a moment, reject God's great invitation to become a citizen of his Kingdom, and to sit at the banquet feast of everlasting life. Jesus had entered into the home of one of the chief Pharisees, and as he was sitting at supper, one of the invited guests, who seemed especially to enter into the spirit of the occasion, exclaimed, "Blessed is he that shall eat bread in the Kingdom of God." Our Lord saw still another opportunity of teaching a great spiritual lesson, by likening this earthly banquet to the great feast of salvation, and so he said a certain man made a great super and bade many.

It is indeed a great banquet to which God invites you and me. First of all, on account of the greatness of our host. Whatever God does, he never does by halves. If you were to be invited by one of America's richest men to come to his mansion for a feast, you would naturally expect that this supper would be in keeping with the wealth and social standing of your host. You would make extra efforts and preparation to be present. You would consider it one of the events of your life. When the infinite, omnipotent God, who created the universe, and holds the planets in the hollow of his hand, invites you to the banquet of eternal salvation, you may be sure it is something that is worth your while.

This is a great banquet also on account of the greatness of the preparation. It must have taken the angels and archangels, Cherubim and Seraphim, with the Father, Son and Holy Spirit to have planned a salvation so complete and comprehensive. It must have taken all the wisdom and wealth of eternity, to prepare the glories of Heaven so that Jesus might be enabled to say, "Come, for all things are now ready."

This is a great salvation to which we are invited, also on account of the greatness of the companionship. I was invited some time ago to a banquet in a great city, and the important thing about that feast to me was not the number of courses, or the richness of the food, or the elegance of the cut glass and silver. It was the privilege of sitting down for two or three hours with many of America's greatest men. So the glorious thing in heaven will not be the golden streets or the pearly gates, but the companionship of the good and great of all generations. Abraham will be there, the man of faith; Isaac, the gentleman; Jacob, the storm tossed, tried, tempted man. Moses will be there, the leader and the law giver. An infidel, for $1,000.00 a night, used to go about this country lecturing on the mistakes of Moses. I would like to hear Moses lecturing upon the mistakes of some folks I know. Joshua, the general, will be there. Elijah, the prophet, and David, Isreal's psalmist and king. I want to hear Peter preach as he did on the day of Pentecost, and Paul as he did on Mar's hill. Ruth and Esther will be there and the Bethany sisters, Mary and Martha, and Mary, the Mother of Christ. I want to see Savonarola, that great reformer of Florence, and Luther and Wm. E. Gladstone and Frances Willard. And many of us have loved ones over in heaven that we are anxious to see. But above all I want to see Jesus. Glorious will be the privilege of his companionship throughout the ages.

Is it not strange that any one would hesitate for a moment accepting an invitation to share this eternal inheritance? Yet Jesus said they would begin to make excuse. There is a great difference between an excuse and a reason. A reason is a just cause for doing a thing, but an excuse is something that we give when we have no reason, or when we do not want the real reason to appear. In fact all excuses are hum-bugs—they are lies.

Have you never smiled at the foolish excuses given by those of whom Jesus spoke for rejecting the invitation to that banquet feast? One of them said, "I have bought a piece of ground and must needs go and see it." What would you think of a business man in this community who would purchase a farm without looking at it? And that second man was like unto the first. He cared more to see ten head of steers than he did for the feelings of his best friends. He did not have any interest in these oxen before. He bought them to find whether they were large or small, fat or lean, but now when the bargain has been made and the money paid, and he received the greatest invitation of his life, he becomes very much excited over trying out those oxen. And I have always thought that the third man was the most foolish of all. If there is any one that is stuck up, it is the one who has just gotten married. I can see him strutting around like a peacock, as he says, "I have married a wife and therefore I cannot come." Why didn't the foolish fellow bring his wife with him? She would have enjoyed that feast as well as he would. How could have they better spent their wedding evening? You smile at these excuses, but are not the excuses which people are giving today for rejecting Jesus Christ just as flimsy and foolish as these of whom Jesus spoke?

One says, "I will not become a Christian because there are many things in the bible I cannot understand." Well what if there are, there are plenty of things you can understand. Believe your beliefs, but doubt your doubts. You can understand enough about the bible to know that you are a sinner. You would know that, even if there were no bible. You know enough of the Bible to learn that you can be saved. God will always give you a little more faith than you put to use. Reading the bible is like eating fish. When you come to a bone you do not throw away the fish, you just lay the bone aside. Just because there are some things in the bible you cannot understand, do not think for a moment they are not true. It is just because your little benighted mind has not been able to comprehend their meaning. Spiritual things are spiritually discerned.

I had heard about the beautiful art windows in the Milan Cathedral. I viewed these windows from the outside of the building, but they had no especial beauty, but I went inside and the sun came out from beneath the clouds, and those windows were resplendent with an indescribable glory. So when you enter the Kingdom of Heaven the word of God will look entirely different to you. Supposing I got a letter from my aged mother. She speaks of family affairs that would have little interest to strangers, but every line has a significance to me. So when you become a child of God, this family letter which the Father has written to his children is filled with new interest.

I have heard of a young lady who was given the present of a book. She glanced over it hastily, but had no especial interest in it, but afterwards this girl fell in love with a young man, as sometimes girls do, and one day she happened to notice that the name of the author of this book was the same as the name of her lover. She made inquiry and found indeed that her lover was the author of the volume. Now the book has a new meaning and interest to her. She reads eagerly every word. Why? Because she has learned to know and love the author. So when you come to know God as your Father and Jesus as your Saviour, the divine word will have a new meaning and interest to you.

I have all sympathy with those who are honest doubters, who are trying to believe the great truths of Christianity, but are yet in the darkness of doubt. But I have no sympathy at all for the man who is trying to hide his sins under the cloak of skepticism. Why is it that many boast that they are agnostics. Why do they not use the Latin word "ignoramus" instead of the Greek word "agnostics," for it means exactly the same thing. I am reminded of a smart young fellow who was making sport of his grandmother for reading the Bible. He says, "Grandmother, do you believe that book?" "Certainly I do my son, because it is true." "Do you believe the miracles?" "Yes, every one." "Well, what do you think about that story of Balaam and the ass? Do you not think it was remarkable for an ass to talk like a man?" She looked at him over her steel-bowed spectacles and replied, "Well, sonny, I do not know that is any more remarkable than for a man to talk like an ass, like you are doing." Sometimes it is best to answer a fool according to his folly.

There are others who try to excuse themselves from accepting Christ because they say there are hypocrites in the church. Well, what if there are? A man came at me with that excuse, and I replied, "Well, there is room for one more, there is room for you." You are never going to improve matters by standing back and criticising. Cures are not applied simply to the outside, but to the inside. If there are those within the church that are living wrong lives, the duty is upon you to live such an upright, earnest Christian life that it will make them ashamed of themselves. Supposing in looking through your pocketbook some day, among your bills you should find a counterfeit. Would you stick the whole pocketbook into the fire, bills and all? You say, "Certainly not; I have more sense than that." The very fact of the counterfeit proves the genuine. What do they counterfeit, anyway? Do they counterfeit brown paper and iron washers? You say, "No; they counterfeit bank bills and gold and silver coin." You know plenty of Christians that are genuine. Model your life after them.

In that little company of Christ's disciples there was one traitor—Judas. Was that anything against the sincerity of James and John and the rest? The church has a right to have one hypocrite in twelve—it will not average worse than that. Supposing a civil war was in progress in this country. This city was besieged by the enemy, and the mayor had made proclamation commanding all able-bodied men to enter the trenches and defend the town. Supposing the man next to you in the line would throw down his gun and desert to the enemy. What would you do? Would you say, "That man has turned a traitor and therefore I will, too?" That would be unreasonable. Rather would you say, "If some other man is going to prove disloyal, that is the more reason why I should do double duty."

Are you hiding behind some hypocrite, then you must be very close to him to hide behind him. Hypocrites will be lost, will they not? "Oh," you say, "there is no doubt of that." Well, if you reject Christ you will be lost, too. Would it not be better for you to spend a little time with some of the hypocrites here than to have to spend all eternity with all of them hereafter?

But I hear another one say, "I am not very bad." No one said you were. You are not condemned for your badness, or received for your goodness. Salvation is not a matter of merely good or bad, or of good or better. It is a question of life or death. The condemnation is for rejecting Jesus Christ.

But another interposes, "I will take my chance." That is unreasonable. Supposing a train were coming down grade sixty miles an hour, and I would go out and lie down on the track with my neck across the rail, you would shout to me, "Get off the track, you will be killed." Supposing I would look up at you and say, "Oh, I will take my chance." There is no chance about it; it is a sure thing. Between salvation and damnation, there is, as it were, a barbed wire fence and you cannot sit on it. You are on the one side or the other.

"But," says another one, "I have no feeling upon this matter." It is not a question of feeling, but of faith. Not once in the Scripture is it said that a man is saved by his feelings, but five hundred times it is said that he is saved by faith. I remember just now of only one man in the Scripture that depended upon his feelings, and that was Isaac. He thought he was feeling of Esau when he was really feeling of Jacob. He was mistaken—he got the wrong man. Feeling is sometimes the result of salvation, but it is never the cause of salvation. You do not feel an organ in the body when it is healthy; it is only when it gets diseased that you feel it. You do not depend upon feelings, merely, in other important matters. Do you working men get up in the morning and go to your work only when you feel like it? If you did, I fear many of you would lose your job. Supposing you were at a hotel and you had to catch a 4:30 train in the morning in mid-winter. Your room is icy cold; the clerk comes and raps on your door and says, "Four o'clock!" Would you get up? "Yes, because I must catch that train. Every dollar I have in the world is at stake." Would you feel like getting up? No.

How unreasonable this excuse is for waiting for feeling. Many say, "When I feel all right I will accept Christ." Supposing a friend of yours was seriously ill with some dangerous disease. You bring him a remedy which is a sure cure for that ailment. You tell him to take it regularly every half hour until the next day and he will be well. Supposing you come the next day and find him worse than he was before. You say to him, "Did you take the medicine?" He says, "No, I didn't feel any better, and therefore I did not take the medicine."

First of all accept Christ as your Savior because it is right to do so, feeling or no feeling. Then when you have done this, go out into Christian work and endeavor to bring someone else to Christ. When God has used your words, your influence, or your example to bring another to salvation, you will have more feeling than you can stand. In other words, feeling comes not so much through salvation, as through service. Waiting for feeling would be a good deal like a man going into the timber with his axe on a cold winter day, and sitting down on a stump and waiting for sweat.

Still another excuses himself for refusing to begin the Christian life by saying, "I am afraid I could not hold out." You do not have to hold out; all you have to do is to hold on—it is Christ that does the holding out. No excuse offered is more unreasonable than this one. Someone says, "I am not going to begin the Christian life until I am sure that I have enough grace to carry me clear through to heaven." But that is not the way that God deals with man. Supposing I should start from Chicago to New York and would step up to the engineer and say to him, "Have you enough steam in your boiler to carry us clear to New York?" He would reply, "No, certainly I have not." "Well, then," I would say, "I am not going to get on the train until I am sure you have enough steam to carry us clear through." "Why," he would reply, "if we would try to get up enough steam in the boiler to carry us to New York it would burst the boiler all to pieces. All we do here in the station is to generate enough steam to start the train and then we create power as we go." That is the way that God does in dealing with the human soul. When He led the children of Israel through the wilderness for forty years, He did not give them enough provisions at the start to keep them the entire time. He gave them manna fresh every day. His promise is, "As thy day is, so shall thy strength be."

Supposing a young man has got a good business and built him a residence, and now is looking around for a wife. He centers his affections upon a certain girl, and at last one evening when he is calling upon her he draws his chair up a little closer and says, "Now, my dear, I love you with my whole heart, and I would like to be your husband, if I thought my love would hold out!" Did you ever know of anyone to act that way? The glory of the Christian life is that it keeps getting better and better, and richer and richer, as the years go on.

Are you saying that you would be a Christian if you could live it? But listen, you must live, anyway, whether you are a Christian or whether you are not. You have your problems to solve, your burdens to bear, your temptations to overcome, your character to form, anyway. Becoming a Christian does not create your responsibilities. They are already upon your life. What your becoming a Christian does is to help you bear the responsibilities that you already have. The question reverts then down to this in the last analysis: "How can I bear my burdens and solve my problems, and overcome my temptations, and form my character, and face the judgment better, with God's help, or without God's help?" There is not a one of you but what would answer immediately, "I can meet these responsibilities better with God's help than without it." Then let the power of God come into your life. He has promised, "My grace is sufficient for thee." If God could create your life, can He not save it and keep it? It is not how much power you have, it is how much power He has.

"But there are so many things that I would have to give up, if I became a Christian," says another. There is but one thing you would have to give up and that is sin. That which will cause you shame and sorrow here, and doom and damnation hereafter. How unreasonable it is in you to hold on to sin. Supposing a young man in college wanted to become a member of the athletic team. He goes to the physician for examination, and finds that a small cancer is forming on his body. The doctor says, "That can now be easily removed, and the wound will heal, and you will become a strong athlete." What would you think if the fellow would reply, "But, doctor, I want to hold on to that dear cancer!" Sin is a moral cancer—it will constantly grow. It will not cure itself. The only reasonable course is to give it up while you can. Are you not paying too big a price for the pleasures of sin when you are paying for them at the cost of your eternal soul?

In one of the southern armies during the civil war, the discipline was becoming lax, and the orders were issued from headquarters that any soldier who was caught foraging would be severely dealt with. There was a careless, thoughtless fellow in one company who paid no attention to orders. Only a few days later he was caught stealing apples out of an orchard. He was tried and convicted, and the commander decided to make an example of him. He was sentenced to be shot. The next morning he was being taken by two of his comrades to the place of the execution, and he was going along carelessly eating the apples that he had stolen. One of his guards said to him, "How is it that in this, almost the last moment of your life, you can be indifferently eating those apples?" He looked up with a cynical expression and replied, "Can you not let me alone and let me eat my apples? I am paying dearly enough for them." Are you not paying too dearly for the apples of sin, when you are paying for them at the cost of eternal life? First of all, give your life to Christ. It is the only right and reasonable course. Then whatever is not consistent with the Christian life, not only for Christ's sake, but also for your own sake, be glad to forsake.

Then, there is the last excuse which is usually urged when every other one fails. "I am going to be a Christian some time, but I am not ready yet." No, neither will you ever get ready. If you wait until you are ready, you will never come at all. If you are ever saved, it will not be through your own, but through the power of God. He will never have any more power than He has now. Time is not going to solve the problem, it aggravates it. If you are not going toward Him, you are going from Him, and the further you go, the faster you go, and the harder it is to turn. If a friend would invite you to his home for a meal, you would not expect to have to prepare a lunch and take it with you. If he would give you the invitation you would naturally infer that he would make the proper preparations. So when God invites you to the great banquet of salvation, you may be sure that the preparations have been made. Jesus says, "Come, for all things are now ready."

In a meeting in a city of New Jersey, a young business man attended night after night, and he became impressed with the conviction that he ought to be a Christian. But drawn by an evil spirit, he convinced himself that he must go up to New York city on business. He stepped off from the overheated parlor car at the New York station; it was a bitterly cold winter day, and the wind was blowing and the snow falling. He walked to the hotel and contracted a severe cold. That afternoon he had to take to his bed. The hotel physician was called. It was found that he had contracted pneumonia. There are some forms of pneumonia that as far as medical skill has yet found, seem absolutely fatal from the start. "Have you any relatives near?" said the doctor. "Yes, I have a wife and mother in my home town." "Well, I do not want to alarm you," said the physician, "but I think it would be the wise course to have them with you."

As soon as they received the summons and could reach the city they were at his side. He rapidly grew worse. His lungs were filling up and he began to realize the truth; that he was not going to recover. Then there came over him an overwhelming feeling of regret and remorse. "Oh, to think of it," said he; "I left home just to get away from the influence of the meetings. It was merely an excuse that I had to come up here on business. I have missed it! I have missed it!" The Christian wife and mother urged him then to give his heart to Christ, but he said, "It is too late, I had my chance and I refused it." The last audible words he ever uttered were, as he turned his face toward the wall, "It is too late! I have missed it! I have missed it!" Jesus says, "Come, for all things are now ready." And He adds, "Not a one of those who heard the invitation and refused it shall ever taste of My supper."

ELOPERS ARE PARTED AS BIG LINER SAILS

New York, Jan. 18.—Trouble, grief, and a large, able-bodied papa overtook an elopement that had been a clean escape up to today from West Plains, in the peach belt of the Missourian Ozarks as far as the pier of the Bermuda American liner Olympic. The result was that Mrs. Clyde Oliver, a bride of eighteen, sailed with her father, L. K. Pollard, a wealthy orchard man, who had recovered his own best peach while the bridegroom tarried ashore.

Just before the couple were ready to sail the bride wired home what she confidently thought was news of her wedding. But Mr. Oliver's irate father-in-law was in New York city and already on his way to the pier after ascertaining that the couple were booked to sail.

About half an hour before sailing time the bridegroom went ashore to make some purchases. Upon returning he stopped half way up the gangplank. There at the other end was his father-in-law. Mr. Pollard seemed an unusually large and ferocious father-in-law and Oliver began a strategic retreat, hoping to draw him off in pursuit, leaving the gangplank clear. But Mr. Pollard resisted the temptation. Oliver tried to find another gangplank, but there wasn't any. Finally the gangplank was pulled aboard, the ship moved out and Oliver beheld his weeping bride clinging to her smiling father.

BETTER INSPECTION OF FREIGHT TRAINS

Following the suggestion of one of its employes, C. F. Rudolph, telegraph operator at Stafford, N. Y., the Lehigh Valley has issued the following order:

"When freight trains are pulling out of sidings, or away from the inspection points, or water stations where a stop has been made to take water, the engineer will move the train not to exceed six or eight miles an hour to permit a member of the crew to make a running inspection of the entire train.

"At such points, one or more members of the train crew must be at the head end of the train before it starts and inspect the train as it passes, watching closely for bent axles, broken flanges, brake riggings down, defective brake riggings, defective arch bars, defective drawheads, wheels sliding, brakes sticking, loose wheels, hand brakes applied, car doors loose, or any other defects that can be detected."

MISS LUCILE CARSON.

San Francisco, Jan. 18.—The strange psychic power of communicating with her sweetheart at sea through "mental wireless" and the ability to project her spirit self to his side across thousands of miles of ocean, is claimed by Miss Lucile Carson, of this city.

Almost daily Captain Leslie, of the British schooner Strathcona, the soul-mate with whom Miss Carson claims to be en rapport, has received her ethereal messages, while she has been able to determine the location of the steamer accurately on the high seas and at alien ports, without the aid of marine publications or newspaper accounts.

This strange communication has been kept up for practically a year, says the girl. The Strathcona's captain is her horoscopical opposite.

"I was born under the sign of Gemini," says Miss Carson, "and am subject to the sway of Neptune. Always I have wanted to travel by sea. Since the Strathcona sailed from here in January, 1914, girdling the world, my mental self has traveled with Captain Leslie."

Latest official reports from the Berlin war office say that the French have been driven to the south bank of the Aisne at Soissons and that six towns have been captured in a forward movement of the German troops. The kaiser is said to be personally directing the advance. Map shows location of Soissons, 55 miles from Paris.

REMONSTRANCE MAY NOT BE SUFFICIENT

Park Board Believes Weisser Park Plan is Not Defeated.

It is the belief of the park board that the remonstrance now on file against the board's resolution for the enlargement and completion of Weisser park is insufficient to defeat the plan and that it will be able to confirm the resolution even if the city attorney should decide that the board has no legal authority to extend the hearing.

At its meeting Saturday afternoon the board considered a resolution to extend the time of the hearing for two weeks, fixing Saturday, January 4, at 4 o'clock in the afternoon for final action on the resolution to enlarge and complete the park. This resolution was read to the big meeting of resident property owners of the Weisser park district in the council chamber at the city hall and almost started a riot. Mayor Hosey promptly took ground against such action, holding it to be probably illegal.

City Attorney to Decide.

The board thereupon continued its session to Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock, when City Attorney Colerick was expected to deliver a formal opinion determining whether or not the resolution can be adopted and given effect. Mr. Colerick declined to state in advance what his opinion would be. The law upon the point seems to be somewhat vague and is held by some lawyers here to permit the park board to validly take the action proposed in the resolution, which is as follows:

"Whereas: Upon the platform, in the public prints and in letters sent to the property holders of the Weisser park assessment district it has been directly charged that this board of park commissioners are trying to railroad this measure through without giving the property holders a chance to express their opinion, therefore be it

"Resolved: That the hearing on Park Improvement Resolution No. 3, referring to the enlargement and completion of Weisser park be and is hereby extended until 4 o'clock p. m. of Saturday, January 30, 1915."

It is believed that if the board may continue the hearing for two weeks enough names will be withdrawn from the remonstrance to cause a decisive defeat of the opponents of the Weisser park plans. Great numbers of property owners who signed the remonstrance are asserted to have done so because of misrepresentations concerning the assessments. When these are more thoroughly enlightened, it is claimed, they will not oppose the plans.

The remonstrance filed Saturday contained a total of 2,247 names—1,355 on the remonstrance sheets and 889 on postal cards. Three others were added at the city hall late Saturday afternoon. Attorney Otto Fuelber, counsel for remonstrants, says there are probably 900 duplications in the names, cutting the total to 1,347. There are in round numbers 2,500 resident property owners on the assessment rolls. Park Board Secretary Charles J. Steiss stated Monday he was confident that after the elimination from the remonstrance of the names of all persons who had no legal right to sign the adverse majority would be wiped out and a majority shown for the improvement. He said, however, that the result would be very close.

The Hearing Was Turbulent.

The hearing in the council chamber was turbulent in the extreme and there were numerous passages of words between advocates of the antagonistic sides in which bitter personalities were freely exchanged. President Foster, who presided over the hearing, had great difficulty in keeping the meeting within bounds and it seemed at times that he would lose control and a Donnybrook fair would be staged in the chamber.

Those in favor of the improvement openly charged that the leaders of the opponents of the plan had obtained names to their remonstrances by the grossest misrepresentation, causing people in humbler circumstances to believe that assessment for the park plans would be almost confiscation. E. L. Haffner, of East Leith street, secretary of the South Side Improvement association, made a direct attack on Anselm Fuelber, one of the opposition leaders, declaring that if Fort Wayne had a few more such men Fort Wayne in public spirit and development would soon take her place with the village of Arcola. He said that he was tired of seeing the ward run by one man, an allusion to Mr. Fuelber's activities.

Otto Fuelber, son of Anselm Fuelber and attorney and leader of the opposition, declared that some time ago he tried to get the park board to extend the time of hearing because he believed the period was too short in which to get a full expression from the people of the Weisser park assessment district, but had been turned down. Now, he said, that it had developed the plan was beaten by remonstrance the park board reversed itself and seized more time because it believed it could get enough names removed from the petitions to make them worthless.

Speaking with much passion, Anselm Fuelber voiced a protest against the resolution continuing the hearing, declaring that he did so in behalf of all the remonstrants.

That much of the hostility to park improvements rested on feeling against the park board was clearly indicated by some of the short rapid-fire speeches in the controversy, the Rudisill boulevard assessments more than once being alluded to.

Mayor Hosey, who was present throughout the meeting, took no part in the discussion until President Foster had read the resolution that provided for a continuance of the hearing for two weeks and announced that the board would adopt it, when amid much applause from the big audience the mayor took the floor to say that the resolution raised a serious issue and developed a situation that was contrary to all local precedents in the procedure by which remonstrances against public improvements were disposed of. He did not believe the board could legally do what the resolution proposed.

Every seat in the lobby of the council chamber was occupied and many were obliged to stand. That the opponents of the plan were in a majority in the crowd was manifest.

President Foster adjourned the meeting shortly after 5 o'clock, remarking with a sarcastic grin that he thanked the assemblage for the good feeling and temperateness with which the discussion had proceeded.

Pledge of Last Assessment.

At the outset of the meeting President Foster read resolutions which later were adopted by the park board in its own offices, in which pledge was given that the proposed assessment for the enlargement and completion of Weisser park was the last that the present park board would ever impose on the people of that district. The resolutions follow:

"Whereas, It has been repeatedly asserted upon the platform and in printed letters sent to the property holders of the Weisser Park assessment district, that the assessment of $3.50 per lot on the average, now proposed for the enlargement and completion of Weisser park is only one of many special assessments that the board of park commissioners will make against the property in said district on account of said park, and

"Whereas, The specific statement has been made that said park board will shortly make another assessment for improving and completing said park, and

"Whereas, The further specific statement has been made that these property holders 'will have to be assessed again to pay for twelve blocks of additional street pavement at an expense to them of from $12,000 to $15,000,' therefore, be it

"Resolved, By this board of park commissioners that it declares that its agreement with the property holders of the Weisser park district, made at a public meeting called by such property holders at the James H. Smart school, in May of last year was, that if the property holders would purchase the additional grounds they proposed to have added to the park, our board would then proceed at once to the completion of the park without ever making any further assessment upon the benefited property holders for such or any other purpose.

"Resolved, That this board now repeats that pledge that no further assessment will ever be made by it for the completion and improvement of this park, and that if the present assessment does not furnish quite all the needed funds they will be supplied from our general park revenues.

"Resolved, Further, that this board of park commissioners has never and will never assess any property in the Weisser park district for any pavement or sidewalk, curb or gutter, sewer or water pipes, telephones or light lines which either this board, or the board of public works, may order built or put down within this park upon any one of its four sides, except such property holders as face the park, who will only pay for one half of such pavement in front of their lots, as upon all other streets when a pavement is put down.

Following the hearing in the council chamber the park board returned to its own rooms and adopted the resolutions that had been read and adjourned the session until 4 o'clock Monday afternoon.

Association Charges Fraud.

The South Side Civic Improvement association has adopted resolutions in which it is freely charged that misrepresentation and fraud were practiced by opponents of the Weisser park enlargement plan and giving strong approval to the park board for the action taken in the matter. The resolutions follows:

"Whereas, It is generally known and admitted that remonstrances against the enlargement and improvement of Weisser park were obtained by fraud and misrepresentation and,

"Whereas, The men responsible for this work now practically admit the fraud and misrepresentation they have practiced by opposing the extension of two weeks' time upon the hearing as proposed by the park board, that an opportunity may be given the interested property holders to withdraw their remonstrances as scores of them have already expressed to do, and

"Whereas, Not to afford our citizens such an opportunity to undo this wrong, if it is possible under the law to do so, would be to condone fraud and misrepresentation, therefore be it

"Resolved, That we commend the board of park commissioners for its expressed desire to see this question settled upon its real merits and according to the real sentiment and wish of our resident property holders when shown the fraud that has been practiced upon them and when fully informed of what their assessment really would be, the only assessment ever to be levied for the enlargement and completion of Weisser park, and be it further resolved

"That a copy of these resolutions be put in the hands of the park board before its meeting on Monday, January 18, with the urgent request that it shall extend to the citizens of the district the two weeks' time needed to demonstrate the fact that when fully informed in the matter an overwhelming majority of the resident property holders favor the addition to and completion of our beautiful park.

Society Girl Joins Red Cross Ranks

Josephine Nicoll

The European Red Cross hospital has claimed another New York society girl. Miss Josephine Nicoll, leader of the younger society girls at Newport and in New York, is taking a course in nursing preparatory to joining the Red Cross nurses on European battlefields.

Miss Nicoll is the daughter of De Lancy Nicoll, the well known attorney. She is one of several New York young women among them Mrs. Richard Derby, the former Ethel Roosevelt, who answered Europe's call for Red Cross nurses.

RAIN AGAIN INTERFERES.

High Water Puts Stop to All Work on Spy Run Wall.

The thaw of the latter part of last week and the rains of Saturday caused a rise of several feet in the St. Joe river and put a stop to all work on the Spy Run avenue retaining wall. Street Superintendent Strodel and his men were unable Monday to resume the work of dumping the broken concrete filling behind the wall and Contractor Herman W. Tapp was unable to resume work on the unfinished portion of the wall, as he had expected, after several weeks' delay. Resumption of work will be impossible until the water subsides.

RABBI GUTTMACHER FOUND DEAD ON TRAIN

Word has been recived here announcing the death of Dr. A. Guttmacher, at one time rabbi of the local Hebrew congregation, and well known in this city, which occurred Sunday evening at 6 o'clock on board a Pennsylvania limited while on his way to Chicago with his wife. As the train neared Huntington, Pa., the rabbi left his wife and a short time later was found dead by the brakeman in the toilet of the train. A physician of Huntington stated that death was due to heart trouble.

Dr. Guttmacher left Fort Wayne twenty-four years ago, after serving the local congregation for three years and has been rabbi of the congregation in Baltimore eve since. The congregation that he was serving at the time of his death was one of the largest and most important charges in the country.

The deceased was 54 years of age, and shortly after coming to this city was married to Miss Laura Oppenheimer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Abe Oppenheimer, pioneer residents of Fort Wayne. Max Franks, of the Franks Dry Goods company, is an uncle of the deceased rabbi. During his stay in this city and frequent visits to the city he had made many friends who will all be grieved to learn of his death.

Although a young man while serving the congregation here, he proved to be a brilliant speaker and a most profound student. He was a graduate of the Union Hebrew college of Cincinnati, and the local congregation was his first charge after he graduated. Besides his wife he is survived by three children.

THE DEATHS.

HUTH.

Harold Francis Huth, three-weeks-old child of Mr. and Mrs. Frank G. Huth, 422 Buchanan street, died at 11:30 Sunday night at the family home. The father is employed by the American Steel Dredge works and is well known in the city.

Funeral services, Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the St. Patrick's Catholic church. Interment at the Catholic cemetery.

CITKO.

Louie, eighteen months old son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Citko, of 18 McKinnie avenue, died Monday morning at the family residence following a short illness.

RAN HER FROM HER HOME WITH PISTOL

Charging that on the night of their separation, January 13, 1914, her husband, in a drunken rage, tried to kill her by shooting at her with a revolver, Frances Lash has begun action in the superior court against Wolie Lash for divorce. They were married June 30, 1906, and she alleges that he subjected her to cruel and inhuman treatment, was jealous without cause and repeatedly accused her of criminal intimacy with men. He drank to excess, she says, and when drunk would accuse her of infidelity and would get angry and beat and choke her. This continued until the night of the separation, when she says he shot at her, compelling her in fear for her life to flee after midnight to the home of her father, three miles away, to seek refuge. She now has no love or respect for him, she declares, and wants a divorce and her maiden name of Frances Kumfer. The plaintiff is now employed as a domestic in the Lake Shore hotel.

Hanna Case to Wells County.

On change of venue from the Allen circuit court the case of the state against Samuel D. Hanna and John H. Immel, charged with forgery, have been sent to Wells county for trial. These are criminal cases that grew out of the crash of the Hanna-Brackenridge company more than a year ago.

Prison for Cruel Woman.

In the circuit court, late Saturday afternoon, Judge Eggeman sentenced Ethel Green to serve ninety days in the correctional department of the Indiana woman's prison for assault and battery on 4-year-old Martha Clark, the blind daughter of Joseph H. Clark, 2815 Hoagland avenue, where the Green woman was employed as a housekeeper. The testimony showed that the little girl had been cruelly beaten by the housekeeper.

Would Not Be Good, Says Wife.

After withdrawing a divorce suit that she had filed last September, Clara Boedeker has filed another complaint in the superior court, against William H. Boedeker, saying that he broke his promise to do better. She says that since their marriage in 1902 he has treated her cruelly and has accused her of being unfaithful. On the 16th inst. She says he told her to get, that he would not longer shelter a woman of her vile and immoral character. She fears bodily harm and has obtained an order to restrain him from molesting her. She asks the custody of two minor children.

Wants Divorce and Big Alimony.

Cora B. Stumpf has begun action in the circuit court for divorce from Edward Stumpf and $2,000 alimony. She says that they were married in December, 1913, and separarted a year later. He is charged with having treated her cruelly and of falsely accusing her of being immoral and indecent. She says he has threatened to kill her and has beaten her so that she was confined to her home for days. The plaintiff says she is the owner of a diamond stud and diamond ring worth $1,000, an automobile and an interest in a saloon and that the defendant has much personal property. She secured an order restraining him from disposing of any of the property, including the jewelry, and from molesting her.

Notes of the Courts.

Judson Harmon and Rufus B. Smith, as receivers for the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton railroad, have sued the Pioneer Coal company for $700 on account, the sum being alleged due on freight tariffs since 1910.

In the circuit court the suit of James S. Peddicord vs. James F. Conway has been dismissed.

The circuit court acquitted Frank Kennedy of grand larceny after a trial in the circuit court Saturday afternoon. Kennedy was accused by a fellow traveler of stealing $85 from him on a Nickel Plate train between this city and Edgerton, several weeks ago.

NAME JUSTICE OF PEACE.

WILL BE NO DELAY IN PALACE OPENING

"The Palace will positively open on time if we have to use bunting for draperies," B. H. Barnett, one of the owners of the magnificent new playhouse, said before leaving with F. E. Stouder for Chicago to make final arrangements for dedicating the house to vaudeville next Monday. The house practically is ready to open today, except for the draperies and the luxurious carpets for the various floors. The seats have been placed, the painters and decorators are done and the last of the chandeliers and spray lights have been fixed in position and tested out. All that remains to be finished is the hanging of the draperies and the laying of the carpet.

The Palace will follow the popular price policy with a top admission fee of seventy-five cents and several hundred seats in the spacious balcony selling for ten cents. In this particular the Palace will be unique among Keith big time theaters and in the larger cities the price scale varies from $1 to $1.50 for the most select seats. The prices will be ten, twenty-five, thirty-five, fifty and seventy-five cents, with practically the entire main floor selling for seventy-five cents.

When the seat sale for the opening night starts, Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock, all seats except those in the proscenium and entresol boxes and loges will be placed on sale. These seats are being reserved for the special guests of the management, including the vice president of the United States, Thomas R. Marshall, Governor Ralston and his official family, Mayor Hosey and members of his city administration and the county officials.

ORDERS TROOPS TO RETURN.

Garrison Withdraws Additional Force from Mexican Border.

Washington, Jan. 18.—Secretary Garrison today ordered batteries A, B and C, of the Fifth field artillery which were sent to Naco, Arizona, to stop Mexcans from firing into American territory to return at once to Fort Sill, Okla. All troops at Naco, except one squadron of the Tenth cavalry, have been ordered to Douglas, Ariz., opposite Agua Prieta, Mexico.

WAR ORDER IS UNUSUAL.

Belgian Government Buying Homing Pigeons in Northern Indiana.

South Bend, Ind., Jan. 18.—The most unusual war order yet brought to northern Indiana will mean the purchase of a large number of homing pigeons from Mishawaka people. The birds, to be bought for the most part by the Belgian government were raised largely by Belgians at Mishawaka. They will be used to carry war dispatches to the front.

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Chicago, Jan. 18.—President Wilson's order for a government inquiry relative to prices of wheat and flour was followed today by a considerable selling of wheat, and temporary setback of 1½c in quotations, but the market quickly reacted and scored a net advance of ⅜c. Later a new decline took place, influenced to some extent by a revival of talk of the possibility of an embargo being put on exports. During these changes prices for May had a range of 2c from $1.40 to $1.42. After opening ⅞c off to ⅛c up, the market as a whole kept within narrower limits than the May delivery.

The close was unsettled but ¾c to ⅞c higher than Saturday night.

Although corn at the outset had a downward tendency with wheat good demand for export soon led to a decided upturn. Opening prices, which varied from ⅛@¼c to ⅜@½c lower, were followed by a rise al laround to well above Saturday night's level.

The close was steady at an advance of 1¼@1⅜c to 1⅝c net.

Oats took much the same course as corn. Strength that developed, however, was not so pronounced.

THE DAY ON WALL STREET.

New York, Jan. 18.—Conflicting gains and losses characterized today's early trading in stocks, although changes were trivial at the outset. A majority of the leaders made slight improvement over last week's final prices which some less prominent issues were lower. London attitude toward this action was not encouraging, practically the entire international list shwing declines which extended to a point thereabouts in Reading, St. Paul, Southern Pacific, New York Central and Atchison. By the end of the half hour the local market showed a firmer tendency all round, Canadian Pacific and Bethlehem Steel gaining a full point.

Profit taking had some effect on the moderate rise of the first hour, most prominent shares losing their advantage by midday. Reading, Bathlehem Steel and U. S. Steel fell back and the metal group which had shown some strength on a further advance in copper, yielded with the active list. Fertilizer issues, notably American Agricultural, Chemical, Virginia-Carolina Chemical and American Cotton Oil were better and among motor stocks Studebaker was conspicuous for its new higher prices. Several sales of German-owned Japanese government 4½ per cent. bonds at a reduction from their list price was the only interesting feature of the bond market.

Leaders recovered from the early lethargy later, Reading, Leehigh Valley, Union Pacific and other representative shares gaining a point or more. The closing was strong.

OFFICIAL FORECASTS.

For Fort Wayne and vicinity: Cloudy tonight and Tuesday; not much change in temperature; lowest tonight, about 22 degrees.

For Indiana: Cloudy tonight; Tuesday partly cloudy.

For Ohio: Local snows tonight; Tuesday partly cloudy.

WEATHER CONDITIONS.

A storm from the gulf coast is spreading northeastward and is central over Georgia this morning. It gave heavy rains yesterday over most districts from the Ohio river southward to the gulf coast, and this morning rains are general from the east gulf coast northward to New York and New England. Over the middle Atlantic coast districts the rainfall is heavy. The storm is being preceded by warm weather over the Atlantic coast states, and it is being followed by colder weather which has already overspread the lower Mississippi valley, snow being reported from Memphis, Little Rock and Shreveport, while freezing temperatures extend southward nearly to the Texas coast.

Fair weather prevails over most districts from the Mississippi river westward to the Pacific coast. While some zero temperatures are reported from Minnesota and Colorado, no very cold weather is reported from any section of the western states.

The southern storm will spread northeastward but its influence will not extend to this section ,and cloudy weather is indicated for tonight and Tuesday, with but slight changes in temperature. No unusually cold weather is indicated for the next two or three days.

W. S.PALMER, Local Forecaster.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

A petition will be presented to the Board of Commissioners of the County of Allen, State of Indiana, at their next session in February, 1915, for the location of a public highway in the county of Allen, State of Indiana, on or as near the following described route as practicable, to-wit: Commencing at the east line of what is known as the Simons road in Wayne Township, Allen County, Indiana, where the same intersects the east and west line dividing sections 23 and 26 in said Township; thence running east on the line dividing sections 23, 26, 24 and 25 to what is known as the Decatur or Piqua road, and there to terminate; said road to be of uniform width with the road running east from the Philley school house, but not to be less than thirty feet, and that said proposed highway may pass through lands owned or occupied as follows, to-wit:

Henry F. Moellering, Herman Sheets, G. H. Louise Gerke, John H. Gerke, Wayne School Township.

Dated this 11th day of January, 1915.

WHO CAN LEARN DRESSMAKING? Never fear that because you may now be unskilled you cannot learn dressmaking. We can teach you by the S. T. TAYLOR SYSTEM of dressmaking to turn out the most elegant gowns imaginable. With average industry, application and care our STUDENTS cannot help becoming first-class dressmakers. There are ABSOLUTELY NO SERIOUS DIFFICULTIES to overcome. Everything is made so clear, plain, simple and easy to understand that the pupil, however unskilled at the start, is led step by step to a full understanding of each detail of dressmaking and ladies' tailoring from foundation to finish. EACH PUPIL is instructed separately and not in classes. WINTER TERM OPENS JANUARY 12, 1915. Call, write or phone for further information regarding terms, etc. S. T. HOUSE MUST HURRY A BIT position in either house. The bill was passed at the 1913 session of the legislature but failed to receive the sanction of the governor on the ground that it would cause too great a public inconvenience on account of its provision to become effective immediately.

Will Get Early Vote.

Senator Charles B. Clark's bill to provide the machinery for the election of United States senators is ready for third reading and will likely be one of the first measures to be voted on at this session.

Interest of house members centered in the plan of Speaker Bedwell for the creation of a legislative reference department, where measures and resolutions could be inspected by the public immediately after being introduced and in a number of bills that were ready to be presented this afternoon. The legislative department will be under the administration of John Lapp, who is preparing for members most of the bills that they expect to present. The purpose of the bureau is to give the public a better oportunity to learn for itself the nature of bills filed and to remove the source of an alleged city graft that has existed heretofore in the preparation of copies of bills that were available only to a few persons.

Would Bond Commissioners.

A bill that provides for members of the board of county commissioners of each county in the state giving bonds, was one of the important measures that was being prepared for introduction this afternoon. Representative Creeclius, of New Albany, author of the measure, said county commissioners have never been required to give bonds for faithful performance of duty. He proposes by his measure to classify the counties according to population. Regular counties with a population over 50,000, he said, would be secured by each commissioner giving a bond for $10,000; counties from 20,000 to 50,000 population with bonds of $5,000 from each commissioner, and for the smaller counties with bonds of $2,500 from each official.

A free school text book larw will be proposed by Representative Evelo, of Terre Haute, whose bill will follow closely the recommendations of the state federation of labor for such legislation, he said.

The provisions for the change of venue of criminal cases wilrl be the same as for such action in civil cases, if the bill of Representative Bendel, of Sullivan, becomes a law.

Another Auto License Law.

Representative Hepler, of South Bend, is working on a bill that would, like several others already introduced, amend the present automobile state license law. His proposal is that the license be issrued by the city or county clerk and the money placed directly in the city or county treasury. The activities rof certain South Bend residents to remove Mayor Fred Keller, of that city, from office, or to shorten his term to two years by legislation enacted at this sessiorn, will not receive much consideration.

Veterans of American wars who like to hunt will be affecterd by a bill which Representative Jennett will offer. It provides they not be required to secure a hunters' license. The state wide nominating primary plan to which the democratic party is pledged by its 1914 platrform, is the subject of proposed legislation. J. R. Jones, of Plymouth, was to introduce today.

WILL NOT ERECT NEW BUILDING THIS YEAR

As the Dukes Clothing company has been granted an unexpected extension of its lease, the proposed new building of the Hamilton bank at Calhoun and Main streets will not be built this spring.

The extension of the lease is not, however, for any great length of time which is taken to mean that the bank will in the course of a few years erect a new structure. The extension of Mr. Duke's lease came as a surprise to him for he was not expecting it. As a result he will remain in his present location for the present.

Branch No. 1,173 L. C. B. A., will give a public pedro pary Tuesday evening in St. Peter's school hall, on St. Martin's street, to which all friends are invited.

WIDOW OF MULTIMILLIONAIRE SOON TO BE BRIDE OF MERE MILLIONAIRE.

The widow of a multi-millionaire becomes the bride of a mere millionaire when Mrs. Charles G. Gates is married January 30 to Harold Lee Judd, of Hartford, Conn.

Mrs. Gates inherited a fortune estimated at $15,000,000 from her husband, who died last October. Gates was the son of J. W. Gates, the famous stock market speculator. Her husband-to-be is rated at $1,000,000. The marriage will take place at the home of Mrs. Gates' parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. F. Hopwood, in Minneapolis, Minn.

GIVES FIGURES ON WAGES IN INDIANA

(By Gilson Gardner.)

Washington, Jan. 18.—Saleswomen in retail department stores earn on the average $7.86 per week, and workers in garment factories earn on the average $6.92 per week. These are the figures contained in the bulletin just issued by the bureau of labor statistics, based on a comprehensive survey recently completed by the bureau in the leading cities and towns in Indiana. The results of the investigation show that approximately half of the women and girls in stores receive less than $7 per week, while in the garment industry nearly 53 per cent. of the factory women receive less than $7 per week. These figures may be taken as typical of these industries throughout the country which employ women and girls almost exclusively. In large cities the average is probably lower than in the smaller towns.

The relation of these low wages to the ability of a girl to live a moral life has recently been made the subject of an interesting presentation to the United States supreme court in the brief filed in the Oregon minimum wage case, prepared by Louis D. Brandeis and Josephine Goldmark. In that brief, which the court now has under consideration, its attention is called to the following findings of the so-called "vice commission" of Chicago, which made a careful study of the whole question:

"The life of an unprotected girl who tries to make a living in a great city is full of torturing temptations. First, she faces the problem of living on an inadequate wage: Six dollars a week is the average in mercantile establishments.

"The girl who has no home soon learns of 'city poverty' all the more cruel to her because of the artificial contrasts. She quickly learns of the possibilities about her, of the joys of comfort, good food, entertainment, attractive clothes. Poverty becomes a menace and a snare. One who has not beheld the struggle or come in personal contact with the tempted soul of the underpaid girl can never realize what the poverty of the city means to her. One who has never seen her bravely fighting against such fearful odds will never understand. A day's sickness or a week out of work are tragedies in her life. They mean trips to the pawn broker's, meager dinners, a weakened will, often a plunge into the abyss from which she so often never escapes.

"Hundreds, if not thousands, of girls from country towns, and those born in the city, but who have been thrown on their own resources, are compelled to live in cheap boarding or rooming houses on the average wage of $6. How do they exist on this sum? It is impossible to figure it out on a mathematical basis. If the wage were $8 per week, and the girl paid $2.50 for her room, $1 for laundry, and sixty cents for car fare, she would have less than fifty cents at the end of the week. That is, provided she ate ten-cent breakfasts, fifteen-cent luncheons, and twenty-five-cent dinners. But there is no doubt that many girls do live on even $6 and do it honestly, but we can affirm that they do not have nourishing food, or comfortable shelter, or warm clothes, or any amusement, except perhaps free public dances, without outside help, either from charity in the shape of girls' clubs, or friends in the country home. How can she possibly exist, to say nothing of live!"

The belfry of Bruges is probably the most famous in the world. It was built at the end of the thirteenth century. It was 363 feet high, and possesses a carillon of forty-eight bells, regarded as the finest in Europe.

"It's worse than that, my son. He's found several."

Wisconsin Man May Be Stock Judge

Mondovi, Wis., Jan. 15.—Wisconsin wants to name the superintendent of the swine department of the Panama-Pacific exposition and James Dillon, of Mondovi, is the man the Wisconsin Live Stock Breeders' association recommends for the position.

Dillon is a successful stockman and for several years he has superintended the swine exhibit of the Wisconsin state fair.

MRS. MARY WEBBER DIES IN WEST.

Friends in this city have received word of the death of Mrs. Mary Webber which occurred on Jan. 8 at the home of her daughter, Miss Fannie L. Webber, of Pasadena, Cal. Mrs. Webber would have been 84 years of age had she lived until April 6. For a year she had been perfectly helpless from rheumatism. The deceased moved to Allen county about sixty-five years ago with Mr. and Mrs. Dille and lived here nearly all the time until ten years ago when she went west with her daughter. Joseph Dille and Ralph Dille, the well known artists, are brother and nephew respectively of the deceased woman.

DON'T

Don't buy a feed because it is cheap. Just remember that old saying that "You can't get something for nothing," and the same applies to poultry feeds.

You get more value in a sack of Bash's Standard than in any other feed on the market. Compare our feed with other brands and it won't take long to convince you of this fact.

We put nothing but the best grains in our feed that money can buy. Quality—then quantity and price.

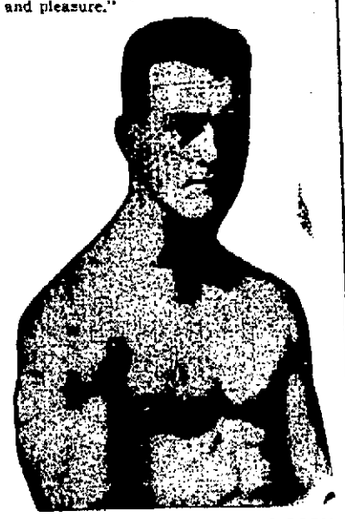
"Gains 22 Pounds In 23 Days"

REMARKABLE EXPERIENCE OF F. GAGNON. BUILDS UP WEIGHT WONDERFULLY.

"I was all run down to the very bottom," writes F. Gagnon. "I had to quit work I was so weak. Now, thanks to Sargol, I look like a new man. I gained 22 pounds in 23 days."

"Sargol has put 10 pounds on me in 14 days," states W. O. Roberts. "It has made me sleep well, enjoy what I ate, and enabled me to work with interest and pleasure."



A PLUMP, STRONG, ROBUST BODY.

"Before I took Sargol people used to call me 'skinny' but now my name is changed. My whole body is stout. Have gained 15 pounds and am gaining yet. I look like a new man," declared another man who had just finished the Sargol treatment.

Would you, too, like to quickly put from 10 to 30 lbs. of good, solid, "stay-there" flesh, fat and muscular tissue between your skin and bones?

Don't say it can't be done. Try it. Let us send you free a 50c package of Sargol and prove what it can do for you.

More than half a million thin men and women have gladly made this test and that Sargol does succeed, does make thin folks fat even where all else has failed, is best proved by the tremendous business we have done. URGE A TEN-CENT LOAF EVERYWHERE

Chicago, Jan. 10.—Manufacture of a ten cent loaf of bread throughout the United States was recommended at a meeting here yesterday of the efficiency board of the National Bakers' association. The board is made up of bakers from twenty-six cities. They believe this action is necessary as a result of the high price of wheat.

Bread weighing twenty-six or twenty-seven ounces can be produced at ten cents a loaf at a profit, it was said, whereas a loss must be faced in the manufacture of a five cent loaf weighing twelve ounces.

The report of the efficiency board, it was said will show that at the normal price, flour comprises 73 per cent. of the manufacturing cost of bread.

SECURITIES ARE STOLEN.

Robber Raids Life Insurance Offices at Indianapolis.

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 19.—Securities valued at $76,000 were stolen from the offices of a life insurance company here Saturday or Sunday night, it was learned yesterday. Another life insurance company reports the loss of $3,000 in securities and the police believe the same burglars committed the two robberies. Officers of the companies affected say that only a small portion of the securities can be negotiated by the thieves. The robberies were effected by prying open steel cabinets.

To Cure Catarrhal Deafness and Head Noises

Persons suffering from catarrhal deafness and head noises will be glad to know that this distressing affliction can be successfully treated at home by an internal remedy that in many instances has effected a complete cure after all else has failed. Sufferers who could scarcely hear a watch tick have had their hearing restored to such an extent that the tick of a watch was plainly audible seven or eight inches away from either ear.

Therefore, if you know someone who is troubled with head noises or catarrh, or catarrhal deafness, cut out this formula and hand to them, and you will have been the means of saving some poor sufferer perhaps from total deafness. The prescription can be prepared at home, and is made as follows:

Secure from your druggist 1 oz. Parmint (double strength), about 75c worth. Take this home and add to it ¼ pint of hot water and 4 oz. of granulated sugar; stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day.

The first dose should begin to relieve the distressing head noises, headache, dullness, cloudy thinking, etc., while the hearing rapidly returns as the system is invigorated by the tonic action of the treatment. Loss of smell and mucus dropping in the back of the throat, are other symptoms that show the presence of catarrhal poison, and which are often entirely overcome by this efficacious treatment. Nearly ninety per cent. of all ear troubles are said to be directly caused by catarrh, therefore there must be many people whose hearing can be restored by this simple home treatment.

Every person who is troubled with head noises, catarrhal deafness or catarrh in any form, should give this prescription a trial. 1-5-19

NEW CONSTITUTION IS TO BE DISCUSSED

State Conference Under Auspices of Citizens' League at Indianapolis.

Several Fort Wayne citizens are expecting to attend a state conference on the new constitution for Indiana to be held in the assembly room of the Washington hotel at Indianapolis, Tuesday, January 26, under the auspices of the Citizens' League of Indiana. B. Paul Mossman, of this city, is a member of the conference committee.

At the afternoon session Theodore F. Thieme, of this city, will explain the purpose and effort of the Citizens' League of Indiana, and Clayton H. Johnston, president of district No. 72, I. A. of M., will talk on "Organized Labor for a Constitutional Convention."

Following is the program: Morning session, 10 o'clock, subject, "Our present situation and need in the matter of constitutional revision in Indiana: addresses by Judge J. B. Wilson, Bloomington; Hon. Fred I. King, editor of the Wabash Plain Dealer; Judge W. H. Eichhorn, Bluffton; general discussion; appointment of committees on organization, publicity resolutions and finance.

Afternoon session, 2 o'clock:—"Purpose and Effort of the Citizens' League of Indiana," Theodore F. Thieme, Fort Wayne; "Organized Labor for a Constitutional Convention," Clayton H. Johnson, president of district No. 72, I. A. of M., Fort Wayne; further steps in organization discussion led by Ross F. Lockridge, secretary; general discussion; report of committees.

Evening session, 8:15 o'clock:—Address by Dr. W. E. Stone, president of Purdue university; address, "The Progress of Popular Government," Hon. Robert L. Owen, United States senator from Oklahoma.

The Citizens' League of Indiana is devoted to the promotion of a new constitution on an educational basis. All citizens interested in the cause of constitutional progress in Indiana are invited to attend the conference and participate in the proceedings. In addition to the regular program, short addresses will be given by representatives from all districts of the state.

THINKS TRANSFER WAS NOT GENUINE

Britain Will Not Consent to Dacia's Voyage to Rotterdam.

Washington, Jan. 19.—The British government will not consent to allow the steamer Dacia, recently transferred from German to American registry, to proceed to Rotterdam under safe conduct with her cargo of cotton, the state department was notified today from London.

The British reply to suggestions for a safe conduct, recently made by the state department, came through the American embassy at London. While the text of the message is withheld, it is known the British objection was based broadly on a reluctance to create a precedent, which it is felt would be followed by many similar purchases of German ships in America and efforts to operate them on the former German trade routes.

The British note does not undertake to assert the right of Great Britain to interfere with ships purchased and transferred to the American flag in a legitimate way. The objection to the transfer of the Dacia, according to the British view, is that it was not genuine, it being intimated the British government believes the American purchasers really was acting for German principals.

HOPE TO PROMOTE FARMING BUSINESS

Rural Credits Legislation to Be Discussed at Indianapolis.

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 19.—With the purpose of promoting the business of farming, the subject of rural credits legislation will be discussed at this session of the legislature. Members of the farmers organization, effected among the representatives whose business interests pertain to farming, have two plans in view, one for the legislature to adopt a resolution asking congress to pass a national law, and the other for the legislature to enact a law.

Rep. Dunmire, of Elkhart, said today he was drawing up a bill which he will introduce later, that will pertain to this subject. He also announced that Congressman Moss of the 5th Indiana district has been invited to address the members of the farmers club of the legislature and others who may be interested in the subject but that no reply has been received from Mr. Moss. Governor Ralston, members of the legislature say, considered recommending the enactment of a rural credit law when preparing his message to the legislature. He however, is quoted as saying that he was not familiar enough with the subject to feel justified in making any recommendation.

Beauty Editor Advises on Superfluous Hair

A well known beauty editor writes: "Avoid painful electric operations and worthless depilatories for removing superfluous hair. There is a reliable prescription called Mrs. Osgood's Wonder that quickly clears the face, neck, arms or other parts of the body of all unwelcome hair. It is universally used and endorsed by leading society and professional women. Many say that it kills hair blemishes so that they never return. You can get Mrs. Osgood's Wonder from Meyer Bros. Co. or any leading druggist or toilet counter. Signed money-back-if-it-fails guarantee in every package.

AUTO VICTIM MUCH IMPROVED TUESDAY

Victor Lepper, 369 Baker street, who was rendered unconscious when the automobile in which he was riding shot down a five foot embankment two miles east of the city, at the Lincoln highway, late Monday night, was much improved Tuesday and no serious results are expected.

In the car was a Mr. Baker who claimed to be an agent for the Overland Motor Car company at Ossian, and two young women, whose names could not be learned. Baker suffered a number of minor bruises, while the women escaped uninjured.

C. W. Pattee, of the Motor Sales company, was a short distance back of the car being driven by Baker. He noticed it swaying from one side of the road to the other and made no attempt to go around. Baker seemed to lose control on account of the deep snow and the next moment it went over the embankment. The car did not turn completely over, which fact saved the occupants from more serious injury and possibly death.

Pattee brought the two men and women on to Fort Wayne, the women getting out at Ohio and Lewis streets and then disappeared without revealing their identity. While Pattee was seeking medical aid for Lepper, Baker also disappeared. Much mystery surrounds the accident.

Mothers Make This Home Made Cough Syrup

The good, tender, thoughtful mother can make a full pint of the quickest acting, permanent result giving cough syrup which can be used by the whole family for coughs and colds, thus preventing pneumonia, sore throat, diphtheria and other fatal maladies. Just obtain a concentrated fluid known as Essence Mentho-Laxene—a 2½ oz. bottle, and empty it in a pint jar or bottle. Then take a pint of granulated sugar and pour over it a half pint of boiling water; stir, cool and fill up the bottle with the syrup. Full directions for making and using are contained on each package. All good druggists sell it, or it can readily be obtained of their wholesaler. Thousands of families are using this because of its cheapness and thoroughness.—Adv.

THOMPSON'S AFFAIRS IN RECEIVER'S HANDS

Uniontown, Pa., Jan. 19.—Judge J. C. Van Swearingen and Judge R. E. Umble in common pleas court here today, appointed receivers to take charge of the affairs of Josiah V. Thompson, president of the First National bank, of Uniontown, which was yesterday closed by order of the board of directors.

The petition was filed by John M. Freeman, of Pittsburg, who said the proceeding was necessary to take care of the unsecured creditors of Thompson, whose claims amount to approximately $7,000,000. The assets, it was stated were no less than three times that amount. The receivers named were Andrew Thompson, a son of J. V. Thompson; Wm. G. Laidley, of Carmichaels, Pa., a business associate, and John H. Brennan, of Scottdale, Pa., president of the Thompson-Connellsville Coke company.

The weight of the dome of St. Paul's is 45,000 tons, according to Mr. Mervin Macartney, the restoration architect.

NEWSBOY KILLED BY CAR.

Peru, Ind., Jan. 19.—Everett Morris, a newsboy, blinded in yesterday's snow storm, was run down and killed last night by an Indiana Union traction car.

TO KEEP SKIN HEALTHY, YOUTHFUL, WRINKELESS.

Now that the social season is here, be especially careful to keep your skin in fine condition. You know how conspicuous complexion defects appear under the bright light of the drawing or ball room. Also how very evident are some makeups when similarly illuminated. I have myself discarded cosmetics entirely, using a process which gives far better results, and which leaves no trace on the skin. At night I smear on a thin coat of ordinary mercolized wax, washing it off next morning. This gradually absorbs the devitalized particles of surface skin; just as gradually the more youthful skin beneath comes forth, providing a complexion as clear, smooth and delicately tinted as a young girl's. Get an ounce of mercolized wax at your druggist's and try this remarkable treatment.

Remember, too, that wrinkles, even the finer lines, are not easily concealed in a brilliantly lighted room. You can quickly obliterate these hateful marks by bathing your face in a solution of powdered saxolite, 1 oz., dissolved in witch hazel, ½ pt. And your face won't look sticky, as after using pastes.—Aunt Sally in Woman's Reading.
